Who Bought McLemore's Cowbarn?

Candidate's Sale Of Barn At Alexandria Questioned

(When James M. McLemore entered the race for governor of Louisiana he announced that he had sold his new and modern cattle "auction barn" in Alexandria for $387,500. Since then one of the most-asked questions in Louisiana has been "who bought the McLemore cow barn?" The New Orleans Item sent its city editor Henri Wolbrette, a former Shreveporter, to north Louisiana, and then to see Mr. McLemore himself, to find the answer. Here it is.)

James McLemore, candidate for governor, told the Item Wednesday he has probably put up more personal money for the campaign "than any other candidate in Louisiana's history."

Before entering the race, McLemore sold his main business, a livestock auction barn in Alexandria. This barn belonged to a corporation in which two - thirds of the stock was owned by McLemore and his wife.

The sale was made in the middle of April, 1951.

McLemore sold the barn for $387,500.

Since the sale involved a transfer of stock by McLemore to the new owners, it is not recorded in the Rapides parish clerk of court's office.

But the Item learned — and McLemore confirmed — that the sale was made to J. A. Blackman, former mayor of Alexandria, chairman of the state board of alcoholic beverage control, and a close friend of Gov. Earl Long.

Then on April 26, 151, Blackman filed a notice in the charter book of Rapides parish (book 10, page 167) to dissolve the corporation and to distribute the assets to the stockholders of a new company which had been formed.

The stockholders were listed as: Blackman.

Mrs. Amelia R. Schexnayder, a widowed sister of Mrs. Earl Long and the official hostess at the governor's mansion.

Bruce Cartwright, former state legislator and an Earl Long appointee to the state fire commission at a $5,000 - a - year salary.

Blackman, interviewed by the Item at the auction barn, said he got the first $50,000 of the purchase price from Gov. Earl Long in Baton Rouge.

McLemore, interviewed by the Item, quoted Blackman as telling him the second $50,000 came from Cartwright.

Blackman stated to the Item that

GOOD PROPERTY RECOVERY MADE

Monroe Police Report 76 Per Cent Of Stolen Goods Regained

The yearly report of the Monroe police department showed that 76.2 per cent of property reported stolen in the city during the past year had been recovered, setting the most outstanding record ever compiled by the department.

The value of property stolen was $77,675.69 and $59,259.51 was recovered.

The record showed that the department had arrested 315 people out of 641 cases reported to headquarters. This makes a percentage of 49.1.

The break down of the cases was as follows: criminal homicide, four reported, four arrested; negligent manslaughter, 4, 4; rape, 4, 4; robbery, 10, 11; aggravated assault, 46, 38; burglary, 142, 77; larceny, over $50, 99, 36; larceny under $50, 244, 74; auto theft, 88, 67.

The total number of arrests for 1951 was 2,585 and 14,961 traffic summons were issued. The report showed that the traffic department investigated 1,112 accidents in which nine deaths occurred and 182 injuries resulted.

Fines assessed by the department were $100,198.50 and $66,381.66 was collected out of the sum total. One fourth of the fines went to the police pension fund and three fourths to the Monroe city school board.

LOCAL C. OF C. BOOST PLANNED

Chamber President Declares Budget Far Too Low

Wheels of progress for the Twin Cities began receiving a new grease job this week as a special committee set about increasing the budget of the Chamber of Commerce. Purpose of the program, according to C. G. Pearce, Chamber president, is to give the Twin Cities a Chamber that a community of 50,000 deserves.

"For years our Chamber has limped along on a budget of little more than $20,000 in the style of the horse and buggy days," said Pearce, "and it is high time we began riding in the 1952 style. In the past few days we have inquired about the budgets of a number of Chambers of Commerce throughout neighboring states, and in not a single instance have they had a budget of less than $1 per person in the community. By comparsion with these cities, the support given our local organization is woefully inadequate.

"A well financed active Chamber of Commerce can carry on a program that will benefit every business and professional man in the community," Pearce added. "Therefore it deserves the generous financial support of every member of our community. The Chamber is an important department in every man's business, and, as such, it should be adequately provided for when he set up his budget for the year's operation."

A review of every membership in the Chamber, by a committee especially appointed for the purpose, has revealed that a large proportion of the Chamber's members paid, during 1951, the same dues they paid five, ten and even fifteen years ago. Pearce was quick to point out that this is no

Firemen Rescue Man From Blaze

A Monroe resident, overcome by smoke in the bedroom of his burning house, narrowly escaped death yesterday when he was rescued by Monroe firemen.

J. C. DuBois, 708 Mississippi street, Monroe, was taken to the St. Francis Sanitarium on request of firemen after he was taken from the burning building. His condition was not serious, attendants said.

Firemen from trucks 102 and 104 were called to the scene of the accident at 6:11 p.m. yesterday and extinguished the fire after considerable damage had been done to the house. The fire originated in the front bedroom, but the cause was not determined last night.

DuBois was married and the father of five children. Mrs. DuBois, at the time of the fire, was at the bedside of her 6-month-old son, who has been in a local hospital since birth.

No one else was injured in the fire.

Narcotics Official Claims Supply Sources 'Dried Up'

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Attorney General McGrath today ordered 93 special grand juries called into session throughout the nation to investigate "racketeers, gangsters and organized crime syndicates."

In a dramatic move perhaps unprecedented in its scope, McGrath directed that underworld figures and racketeers be hailed before the juries. The FBI, secret service, post office inspectors and many other federal police agencies are slated to cooperate in the crackdown, McGrath said.

The orders went out to United States attorneys, who were told to call grand juries in each of the 93 federal judicial districts as soon as possible, and report their findings about organized crime to the justice department.

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A narcotics bureau official said today that sources supplying more than 18 million dollars worth of illicit dope yearly have been dried up in the biggest crackdown ever staged. It came in a series of raids across the nation during the past 6 hours.

N. L. Harney, assistant commissioner of the treasury's narcotics bureau, estimated that the more than 500 suspected peddlers who were seized have supplied 5,000 addicts.

He indicated that in some cities

Capt. Carlsen Riding Ship To British Port

By Tom Ochiltree

London, Jan. 5. —(AP)—"Stay put Carlsen" was on his way to port tonight, riding his hurricane-broken ship behind a rescue tug and "feeling like a million."

There was a gentle breeze from the west northwest, the once angry Atlantic was almost calm, the barometer rising and the French tug Abeille 25 was standing off 1,000 yards astern in case anything went wrong.

At 9:37 a. m. (4:37 a. m., E. S. T.) Capt. Kurt Carlsen secured a 20-inch tow line from the churning tug Turmoil to the slanting bow of his freighter the Flying Enterprise.

Then he began the long trip—perhaps the last leg in his epic of the sea—to Falmouth Harbor, England, 320 miles and four days away.

"Captain Carlsen is jubilant and desires to remain on board the Enterprise) in case the tow parts," the U. S. destroyer Willard Keith radioed from the scene.

The Turmoil hauled her charge along at a crawl of three and a half land miles an hour, and may take until late Tuesday to reach port.

The 37-year-old Woodbridge, N. J., captain had the company of Kenneth Dancy, 27, mate of the Turmoil who snatched a dangling line as the tug passed and made a life-or-death leap to the listing ship late yesterday.

That was the sixth day after the captain began his lonely vigil far

70-Year-Old Man Killed By Flames

Winnsboro, La., Jan. 5. — (Special) — A 70 - year - old male patient at a nome for welfare patients and aged persons was burned to death today after a gas heater set fire to his gown.

The patient was identified as James Traylor, a native of Caldwell County, Ky.

Traylor's death was attributed to shock and first, second and third degree burns over his entire body. He died 20 minutes after arriving at Rogers Clinic here.

Mrs. W. C. Riley, operator of the home near here, said 28 patients

Boggs Promises Positive Govt.

Kentwood, La., Jan. 5.—(Special) Gubernatorial Candidate Hale Boggs told a crowd here today that "the election of Hale Boggs and the Boggs ticket will bring about constructive, positive government, with teamwork, unity and progress."

Speaking here with Boggs, in one of a series of eight rallies during the day in the sixth congressional district, were United States Sen. Russell Long, Rep. Jimmy Morrison and members of the Boggs ticket.

Boggs said that the number one job in Louisiana is to build a team in which people can have faith and confidence. "Once we establish standards of honesty and integrity in our state, when we restore the faith of our people in their state government, the other jobs will be easy."

The gubernatorial candidate told his listeners that his "Louisiana first" movement has been received with "tremendous enthusiasm all

LONG SPEAKS TO W. M. GATHERING

Hundreds Join Political Rally To Hear Governor Long

Governor Earl K. Long, speaking on behalf of Gubernatorial Candidate Judge Carlos Spaht at a political meeting held in West Monroe yesterday, claimed that the gubernatorial race was strictly between Carlos Spaht and Hale Boggs and asked that the people vote for one of those two candidates.

"Let's do away with the second primary," said Long, "and save the state $2,000,000. Only last week Dudley J. LeBlanc asked $50,000 from Boggs to swing his vote that way in the second primary and Bill Dodd's mouth has been watering for weeks at a chance to make some money. LeBlanc and Dodd don't have a chance in the race and they know it, so they are just staying in to make the cash."

"If we can do away with the second primary," he went on, "it will give the legislatures a chance to use that money for useful works in the state. This election is between Spaht and Boggs so vote for your choice of the two."

Long's speech was heard by a large crowd gathered in West Monroe at a political rally to hear him blast out at every other candidate in the race.

"Every candidate in the race," he shouted, "is running on the same platform that elected me to office in 1948. All of them criticize me for the way I did my job, but they couldn't do it half as well."

Jaycee Officers To Be Installed

The new officers and board of directors of the Monroe - West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce will be officially installed for their six month term at the Jaycee luncheon meeting Monday. Fred Fudickar, Jr., district attorney, will officiate in the installation proceedings.

Louis Smith will succeed Lloyd Lenard as president of the chapter, with Lovell Hayden and L. Slade Brown read in as vice - presidents.

Outgoing President Lenard will present special gifts and awards for meritorious service during his term of office.

Problem Solved In Adams County

Incoming officers were not scheduled to be sworn in until Monday.

That would mean there would be no one to swear in the incoming chancery clerk, who is now Sheriff Robert E. Burns, Burns, incidentally, will be succeeded by Audley B. Conner, who is now mayor.

The solution:

Abbott today swore in Burns as chancery clerk and 24 other county officials.

Monday Burns will swear in Abbott as mayor and all other city officials of Natchez.

Growing Bitterness Marks Korean Armistice Session

By Don Huth

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Name calling and growing bitterness marked the deadlocked Korean armistice talks Saturday. Still unsettled were the issues of truce supervision and prisoner exchange.

But the exasperated Allied delegates agreed to new sessions today at Panmunjom, at 11 a.m. (9 p.m., E. S. T., Saturday).

A United Nations command spokesman, obviously irked, told correspondents after Saturday's fruitless talks:

"If you could have seen the Communists at the meeting, you could have seen it was planned stupidity."

The spokesman, Lt. Col. Howard S. Levie, added: "If given an explanation, they would come right back with the same statements that were exactly contrary to what had been said."

An official U. N. command communique asserted that a repeated explanation of the Allied proposal for prisoner exchange and the Communist arguments that followed "indicated a misunderstanding was deliberate."

U. S. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, chief Allied delegate on the prisoner sub - committee, commented: "It is obvious they are killing time, waiting for instructions."

The Communists objected to all six items of the Allied proposal on exchange of prisoners, and ignored

Seven U. S. Fliers Are Killed In Plane Crash

Burtonwood, Eng., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Two U. S. service planes crashed in a flaming mass of wreckage on an airport runway here tonight. Seven American servicemen were killed and 15 others were injured, five seriously.

The planes were both twin-engined craft. They disintegrated in the flaming explosions of their gasoline tanks. About 24 men in all were believed to have been involved. Officers at Burtonwood, one of the largest American air force bases in England, said it was a miracle so many survived.

Burned and shock - stricken men stumbled from blinding flames into the arms of rescue parties. They were taken to the base hospital.

Names of the victims were withheld, pending notification of next of kin.

A U. S. Navy P2V Neptune plane, known as a "Flying Gunboat," smashed into a U. S. Air Force C-47 transport which was waiting to take off. The Neptune is a long - range anti - submarine reconnaissance and strike aircraft. The U. S. is sending 50 of them to Britain for use by the R. A. F. coastal command.

The crash occurred in clear weather. Mrs. Leah Daily, of the Vulcan Inn, described it as she saw it from more than a mile away:

"There was a terrific blaze. The country was lighted as if it was moonlight."

Base firefighters rushed to the scene and poured gallons of the foam type fire extinguisher into the wreckage. Rescue workers, defying intense heat, dragged men from the inferno.

The Navy Neptune, which had left Burtonwood earlier for Iceland, was turned back by bad weather. As it returned here, it landed short and broke up. A section of the Neptune rocketed into the C-47, which was warming up its engines preparatory to taking off. Instantly the whole area became a mass of flames and twisted plane parts. The crash occurred at 5:30 p.m. G. M. T. (12:31 p.m. E. S. T.).

U. S. air force police guarded the crash area. Persons arriving at the field to visit relatives at the base

Television Shows Rapped

Atlanta, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Governor Talmadge charged today that several national television shows are violating the spirit of the south's segregation laws.

Writing in the personal editorial column of his political newspaper, The Statesman, Talmadge singled out the Arthur Godfrey, Ken Murray and Clifton Fadiman shows for criticism.

He said that "we are speaking of a complete abolition of segregation customs in these shows which are beamed to states of the south and which, to say the least, are not presented in the good taste and good showmanship that should govern the production of such offerings."

McCormick said the unit would be headed by Rear Adm. John P. Whitney, commander of carrier division 16.

British Leader Declares Solemnly That Anglo-American Teamwork Can Bring 'Salvation On Earth To Struggling Men'

By John M. Hightower

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman plunged briskly into a survey of world strategy today after the British leader solemnly declared that Anglo-American teamwork can bring "salvation on earth to struggling mankind."

Bowed by his 77 years but as magnetic as ever, Churchill flew into Washington from New York at 12:28 p. m., EST, to be warmly welcomed by Mr. Truman and his cabinet at National airport.

The two men drove immediately to Blair House for lunch and a first round of talks running through the afternoon and evening.

In their exchange of greetings both emphasized their interest in assuring peace for the world.

"We have only to go along together," Churchill told the president, "each doing loyally his best to understand the other's point of view and the many differences in interest between our countries, and we shall find ourselves safe at the

FINE BUILDING TO BE DEDICATED

West Monroe Baptists Having Ceremony Marking Debt Cancellation

An Educational Building valued at $275,000 will be dedicated by the First Baptist Church of West Monroe in a special service to be held today at the morning worship hour. This building is considered one of the best in the state and is completely fireproof. It will accomodate 1,000 in attendance and provides for ages from birth through 24. A suite of 6 nurseries known as "Babyland" is up-to-date in every respect. All modern equipment for sanitation and lighting make this an inviting place for youngsters from birth to 4 years.

The building is completely air conditioned for summer comfort. The beautiful pastel colors add to the beauty and pleasure of the building. A colorful chapel equipped with the latest in opera chairs, tile floors, beautiful draperies, and other additions conducive to worship, is occupied by the young people. This chapel is used for weddings, committee meetings, and informal gatherings, also.

This building has been occupied one year but the First Baptist Church is happy to begin use of it in 1952, debt-free. In the special services today at 11 A. M. proper recognition will be given all individuals and committees participating in the erection of the building, a report given of the cost and present value, and climaxed with a message by the Pastor, Rev. Jaroy Weber.

Attendance of more than 1,000 is expected in the Sunday School at 9:45 and a capacity crowd will participate in the ceremonies. Pastor Weber invites friends of the twin cities to attend and enjoy this service.

Reverend Sharp, who resided in Athens, Tex., had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Harrington here for about four months prior to his death.

He was born in Jacksonville Tex., on May 17, 1873, and was an honorary member of the board of directors of S. M. U. He was also a member of the First Methodist Church of Athens. Reverend Sharp was at one time a circuit rider for the Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the First Methodist Church at Athens.

YOUNG ROBBERS FACE 4 CHARGES

Two Captured By Peace Officers Here Are Wanted In Georgia

Sheriff Bailey Grant reported yesterday that four armed robbery indictments have been filed in Atlanta, Ga., on the two 18-year-old robbers who were captured here last Friday after holding up a grocery store at Calhoun.

The prisoners identified as Edward Lee Moss, 18, Augusta, Ga., and Fred George Weigmann, 18, Long Island, N. Y., are being held in the Ouachita parish jail.

Georgia authorities have filed detainers on the men, Sheriff Grant explained.

He pointed out that the two men stole a black 1949 ford sedan in Atlanta, Ga., which they wrecked in Banning, Calif.

En route to California the youths allegedly held up a place near the Arizona-New Mexico border with a sawed off shot gun.

After their wreck, they told of trading the Ford for a 1940 Nash In Los Angeles they admitted robbing a fruit stand, Sheriff Grant said, and it is believed that the automatic pistol used in the Calhoun grocery hold-up was obtained at the fruit stand.

Moss and Weigmann sold the Nash for junk near Abilene, Tex., and stole a 1949 Maroon Ford in Abilene for their trip to Louisiana.

The two were arrested here after a three-way chase in the vicinity of North Seventh street in West Monroe.

Ouachita parish deputies stated that the two boys entered Powell's Grocery store in Calhoun and pointed a .45 automatic at Hugh Wilder, a clerk at the store, and demanded that he lie down on the floor behind the counter.

The hold-up netted the pair approximately $14, two cartons of cigarettes and fruit.

Formal charges of armed robbery and auto theft were filed against Moss and Weigmann this week.

Fog Forces End To Gulf Search

New Orleans, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Fog forced the coast guard to abandon temporarily today its search for a twin engine plane reported missing with two persons aboard.

The plane was last seen Friday at 3 p. m. (CST) as it circled the coast guard station at Southwest Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi river.

At that time visibility was only 20 feet, the coast guard said, but the plane was seen to head southwestwardly out over the Gulf of Mexico.

The coast guard said the plane, on a photographic flight, was piloted by the owner, Ed Miramon of New Orleans. With him was a man identified only as Patterson, who had chartered the plane.

A coast guard amphibious PBY plane from Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss., took off at daybreak today to search for the missing craft but had to turn back at the mouth of the river because of dei fog. Four private planes also participated in the search.

Rodney J. Hobbs Post Members Delighted To Receive This Member

The first veteran of the war in Korea to join the Rodney J. Hobbs post, V. F. W. was admitted to membership there on Thursday night, the first meeting of the year. The night was bad and the weather man predicted a big freeze but the veteran, Charles A. Swain was on hand despite weather or no.

Swain makes another father-son team belonging to this post.

There was an interesting description by past post Commander Johnny Zufall of his second late trip and service in the Pacific and Japan. He related his experiences and painted a word picture of events. It was a treat to the members to have Johnny back in the post even if only for a single meeting. He is to return to the California coast January 14 for either another assignment or discharge.

Commander Martin and Senior Vice Commander Powell were unable to attend the meeting because of sickness in one case and urgent business on the other. Coffee and doughnuts were served.

Other veterans admitted to the post membership at this meeting were James Oglesby, Hugh L. Waldroup, and Percy Ford.

The next meeting is scheduled for January 17.

Twin City Council Has Meet In Health Unit

The January meeting of the Twin City Council of the P.-T. A. was held in the health unit building with the president, Mrs. Paul Thompson, presiding.

JOHN E. GODFREY

JOHN GODFREY IS CANDIDATE

In Race For Police Jury, States He Seeks To Further Public Weal

In a formal statement issued in connection with his candidacy for police juror for Ward 10, John E. Godfrey, makes the following statement:

"For a number of years I have felt that one of the difficulties confronting all phases of our government has been the unwillingness of people in business or professions to give much more than lip service to the actual running of our government.

"When it was announced that Ward 10, in which I have lived for twenty-five years, was to have an additional member on the police jury, which would raise the total to three, I decided that it was an opportunity for me, subject to the wishes of the voters of Ward 10, to take a more active part in the affairs of our parish. I also sincerely felt and feel, that, by having lived in the ward for 25 years and having been closely associated with its development and expansion, that I am in a position to render intelligent service to all of the people in Ward 10.

"I was born in Caldwell parish and my parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Godfrey, still live in Columbia, La. My first job was with the Louisiana Central Lumber Company, and after being with that company for a period of years, I advanced to the position of auditor for the Ouachita and Northwestern Railroad, which was the position I held at the time I moved to Monroe to go into business for myself.

"I married Miss Cleta Slagle and we have one daughter who is now Mrs. Carl O. Murray, and one grandaughter, three and one-half years old.

"Upon moving to Monroe, I opened an insurance agency which I have owned and operated continuously up to and including the present. My agency has been moderately successful, and I have just recently received a commendation from one of the companies which I represent for having completed twenty-five years active service.

"I fully realize that the police jury is the governing body of Ouachita parish and that its problems are complex and many. I also realize that, if elected, I will have assumed a responsibility which will require additional time and effort on my part.

"I am willing to accept that responsibility and to devote the time and effort necessary to be a police juror, completely independent of any faction or interest, and to honestly and sincerely represent all of the people of Ward 10 in such a way as to insure the advancement, not only of Ward 10, but of Ouachita parish.

"I believe that one of the most important points for all of the members of the policy jury, or any other governing body, to remember is that while our parish is divided into wards, the governing bodies themselves should be closely united for one purpose, and, that is to give unbiased, uncontrolled, and honest government to the whole of the parish.

"The above represents my thoughts and my pledge to the people of Ward 10, and I sincerely solicit the support and vote of all persons in the ward who agree with my views, and you may be assured that if elected, I will be available to listen to any constructive suggestions which might make for the advancement of Ouachita parish."

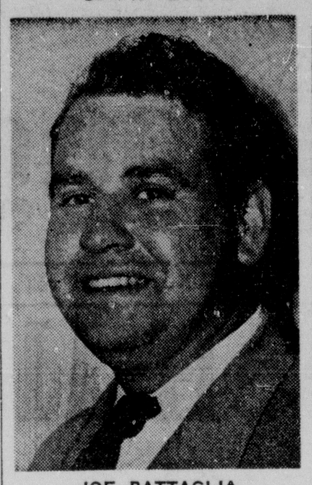

EXPERT TO CHECK GI'S

New York —(AP)— The army will send a cold injury team of frostbite experts to Camp Drum, formerly Pine Camp, to insure the safety of GI's under conditions of extreme cold exposure during the winter maneuver, exercise snowfall, scheduled to start Feb. 9.

The five-man team from the army medical reasearch laboratory supervised treatment of frostbite victims last year in Japan. The troops will be examined beforehand and those found susceptible to frostbite will not be exposed to dangerous extremes of cold. The team will also indoctrinate troops in precautionary cold weather safety measures.

Northern Italy's most disastrous floods of the century have already cost more than 100 lives and a estimated half billion dollars.

CANDIDATE

JOE BATTAGLIA

Joseph A. Battaglia, young Monroe businessman, in announcing his candidacy for Ouachita parish police juror from ward 10 said that he would work for betterment of the parish through efforts of the jury."

"I shall work for the paving of all farm to market roads in the parish and a better drainage program. Outside of Ward 10 I am in favor of garbage disposal facilities and any other progressive measures to benefit Ouachita parish. I promise to work diligently for better living conditions for all the people of the parish."

Battaglia, 28, a native of Ouachita parish and Ward 10, asked that he be given a chance to demonstrate his ability as a public official.

"I realize the importance of close cooperation among members of the police jury in order to obtain more and better roads and streets outside of the cities and promise faithfully my cooperation in obtaining these measures," said Battaglia.

Battaglia, who is a veteran of World War II, with four and one-half years in the air force, operates a plumbing establishment, Modern Plumbing Co., 2600 Louisville avenue.

He is married and the father of five children.

The Ouachita parish chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis spent $35,436.72 to assist a total of 26 polio patients last year, it was revealed today by Paul Goldman, chapter chairman.

Making public the 1951 financial report of Ouachita parish treasurer R. Q. Cole, Sr., declared that services made possible through funds raised in the 1951 March of Dimes underlined the need for a succesful 1952 drive.

"The record of what has been done makes us all eager to continue and to expand this work as needed," he said. "Unfortunately, even if we had no cases of infantile paralysis in our parish in 1952, there remains much to be done for patients stricken in 1951 or before. Of the 26 patients aided in 1951, 3 were old cases, 23 new ones. The toll of polio continues on into the next year or years."

The report showed that $35,436.72 was expended for hospitalization of polio patients whose families could not afford full cost of care themselves.

The Ouachita Parish March of Dimes last year raised $13,604.76, of which 50 per cent was retained for local services and 50 per cent sent sent to national headquarters for its scientific research and professional education programs, as well as emergency aid to chapters. The national office supplements local funds when high incidence wipes out local resources. During the year $27,550.00 was received in emergency aid by the chapter, Mr. Cole said, and the chapter begins 1952 with about $3,000 in upaid bills.

5th District Workshop On Health Slated Jan. 10

All P.-T. A. presidents, welfare chairmen, summer roundup chairmen and all interested members of the P.-T. A. are urged to attend.

POLITICAL RALLY SET

There will be a community meeting and rally political at Lenwil School Thursday night at 7:30. All local candidates and the public are invited to attend.

CANDIDATE

NATHAN EWING IS CANDIDATE

Tells Of His Desire If Elected To Senate To Serve Faithfully

Nathan L. Ewing, candidate for state senator for the Ouachita—Jackson parish senatorial district submits the following statement concerning himself and his qualifications for office:

I am fifty-one years old. I was born in Jackson parish. I am married and the father of two daughters. I received my college education at Louisiana Tech, and have had several years experience as a teacher and principal of high school. I am a member of the Methodist Church. I am engaged in the automobile business and live at Jonesboro.

I have had six years experience in forestry and conservation work. My political experience includes eight years as clerk of district court, 1940-1948; and state representative since 1948.

I am vitally interested in strengthening and expanding our educational program. I have pledged my support and cooperation to carry out the recommendations of the United School Committee of Louisiana.

Everyone knows that parishes like Jackson need to balance industry with forestry development and agriculture. Too few, however, realize that there are golden opportunities for more industry in Ouachita. It has the same advantages as has Caddo.

I positively disagree with the wealthy and powerful forces and interests which seek to undermine the old age program and the assistance given to helpless and innocent people, who through no fault of their own are forced to accept help from these sources. I do not think they should be insulted and condemned. However, I pledge myself to work to eliminate abuses and to correct certain factors which are unfair to the taxpayers and detrimental to the whole welfare program.

Highway, road and street improvement is absolutely necessary if we are to encourage and invite industrial and commercial development. Certainly our very best efforts should be directed to the prevention of traffic accidents upon our streets and highways.

The burden of taxation is now so heavy on both the poor and the well-to-do, that if we further raise local, state and national taxes we will endanger our whole system of government. I will not support any additional taxes. It is my sincere and honest belief that we can bring the needed improvements and continue the services and benefits to our people without raising taxes. I want to see the trend of taxation pointing downward.

I would indeavor to submit the Constitutional and Civil Service proposals to the people to ratify or reject.

When I was a child I learned at home and in church that God is everywhere. The fashion among many is to believe that there is no place for God in our government and in our politics. I disagree. I do not believe crooked deals are necessary in our governmental affairs. The people of our state and nation are hungry for a return of spiritual values in every phase of life. I promise, I pledge my heart and soul to be governed by our Lord's words and principles in all that I do.

I earnestly solicit your vote and support on the election day.

McLemore Backed By 13th Paper

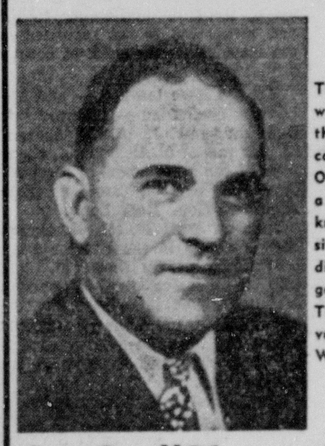

Glenmore La., Jan. 5.—(Special)—Hailing James McLemore as "an independent candidate endorsed by the people at large, not by the politicians," the Glenmora patriot today became the thirteenth Louisiana newspaper to give its editorial support to the Alexandria businessman in his quest for the governorship.

McLemore, who spoke in Glenmora Friday, expressed his appreciation for the endorsement to T. W. Cooper, editor and publisher, who has resided here for 30 years.

"The number of independent newspapers which have endorsed my candidacy," McLemore said, "is more than twice the number which have endorsed any other candidate. I am deeply grateful for all these tributes, and I am particularly proud of the fact that the Alexandria Daily Town Talk, my home - town newspaper, and the Glenmora Patriot, published here in my home parish have given me their support."

The Patriot, describing McLemore as "one man in the governor's race who completely fills the bill," said that, "during this campaign in which seasoned politicians have slung mud right and left, James McLemore has remained unscratched. In spite of their best efforts, the professionals have been unable to besmirch the name of McLemore."

Voters of Ward 10

The duty of a Police Juryman is to work faithfully and honestly for the constant improvement of his community. Being a resident of Ouachita Parish for 30 years and a businessman for 15 years I well know the importance of a progressive community and will faithfully discharge my duties to achieve this goal for the mutual benefit for all. Therefore, I earnestly solicit your vote and support as Police Juror, Ward 10, January 15th.

Beauty Is in a Kit

BY ALICIA HART

Whether you're a woman who has traveled the world, or whether you have confined your expeditions to local areas, you certainly must have run up against the problem of what to do with your good-grooming aids.

If you pack the necessary preparations in your luggage, you may not see them again until you have reached your destination. Then, too, extra bulky bags will only get in the way. What you need is a compact kit, something you can slip into your hand luggage, to serve you while you are en route.

Fully aware of this need, a leading cosmetic authority has introduced just such a set. It comes in an upright rectangular shape in clear, sparkling plastic, with just a hint of pink design.

It's easy to look pretty when you travel with this new light-weight plastic kit. It's conveniently packed with all the items you need for personal appearance care.

Inside you'll find an emery board and orangewood stick for any last-minute nail repairs. Especially convenient are the four condensed wash cloths which expand as soon as they touch water.

Also included in the kit are an envelope of tissues, soap, in its own dish, and a plastic bottle of spray deodorant.

To protect and beautify your outer appearance, a lipstick, hand lotion and hand finishing cream are all neatly packed for your daily use.

As an extra added touch, there's an empty plastic jar for face cream, bobby pins or jewelry. And enough room is left over in the kit for a few basic beauty essentials like a comb, mascara and rouge.

Don't underestimate the versatility of this light-weight travel accessory, either. Just as much at home in your desk drawer at the office as it is on the open road or in the sky, it promises good grooming wherever you are.

Home and Family Always Come First

BY ALICIA HART

This being a time for New Year's resolutions, it seems apropos to give a thought or two to how your home can be made healthier and happier.

Ask yourself, first if you have been spending too many hours in extracurricular activities. It is important to act as a spirited citizen in the community, but never at the risk of neglecting your husband and family. Today's accelerated mode of living places heavy responsibilities on your shoulders. Try to devise a minute-wise budget that will allow for all the demands.

Leading home economists say you will really get the New Year off to a good start, if you follow the four basic principles of homemaking: convenience, cleanliness, comfort and orderliness.

Substitute efficient appliances and easy-to-clean surfaces, such as clay tile, for outmoded housework weariers. Your daily chores don't have to be a burden, if you learn to use and follow short-cut methods. With a husband who may track up the floor on rainy days, and a baby whose jam-stained fingers may mar the woodwork, you can't afford to overlook a single trick.

On the personal side, resolve to watch your appearance. Your husband won't appreciate a well-kept home, if the results are achieved at the expense of your physical attractiveness. Beauty care should be a part of your daily routine.

Save time for companionship, too. Confine the housework to daytime hours. Evenings belong to your husband and friends. And when your husband is home, give him the privilege of causing some clutter in pursuit of his favorite hobby.

Make your home a family affair. You'll be building a firm foundation for happiness, if you do.

McLemore, Spaht Both Silent On City Tax Problems

The failure of gubernatorial candidates James M. McLemore of Alexandria and Judge Carlos Spaht of Baton Rouge even to reply to the recent Louisiana Municipal association questionnaire on state tax revenue aid for villages, towns, and cities is shocking. One can only wonder if these two candidates (a) are not interested in the vital subject of municipal finances (b) do not have sufficient knowledge to express an opinion concerning grave fiscal problems facing virtually all villages, towns, and cities in the state, or (c) do not care what happens to these governmental units financially.

Especial significance must be attached to the fact that Mr. McLemore and Judge Spaht were the only candidates receiving the questionnaire who did not answer it.

Mr. McLemore proclaims himself as a "businessman candidate," yet seemingly he is not concerned with one of the most important matters of governmental business that will come before the next state administration: What is to be done about villages, towns, and cities which in many cases are facing insolvency because the state and federal governments have usurped their sources of tax revenue without making an adequate return of the tax money thus collected?

Judge Spaht's silence deserves considerable thought because the Earl Long administration, which is supporting him, is responsible for making this state the highest taxed state in the nation and thus, in part, for continuation of the fiscal plight of the villages, towns and cities.

The Louisiana Municipal association asked the gubernatorial candidates three questions. Summarized, they were:

Do you favor the principle of the state returning to municipalities a portion of taxes collected by the state?

Do you favor retention of the present tobacco tax, through which sums ranging from $2 to $4 per capita of population in the municipality concerned are returned to the villages, towns and cities?

Do you favor making this return on the basis of $4 per capita for all municipalities instead of on a sliding scale, based on population, as at present?

Just why did Mr. McLemore fail even to answer these questions from the state's mayors and other municipal officials? Can it be that the "businessman candidate" is so unfamiliar with the vital business of administering government—a field in which he boasts of having no experience—that he does not know that these questions by the Louisiana Municipal association involve economic life or death for many municipalities ranging from those of a few hundred population on through the larger cities—such as Shreveport, Monroe, Alexandria, New Orleans, Lake Charles, Baton Rouge, and Lafayette?

Can Judge Spaht's failure to answer be because his Edgar Bergen—Governor Earl K. Long—intends that a Spaht administration, if elected, should carry on the present state administration policy of strangling the villages, towns and cities; of keeping them under the yolk of Baton Rouge government?

The Louisiana Municipal association is not made up simply of officials of the larger cities of Louisiana. It has some 200 paid-up members. Since there are only about 150 municipalities of as much as 1,000 or more population in Louisiana, obviously its membership goes right down into the grass roots population areas. Member cities include, in northwest Louisiana, Oil City with only 400 population; and such small municipalities as Benton, Coushatta, Doyline, Plain Dealing, Arcadia, Haynesville, Haughton, Mansfield and Saline. In northeast Louisiana, the members are not merely Monroe but such smaller places as Bastrop, Vidalia, Hodge, Newellton, Tallulah, Mer Rouge, Farmerville, Ruston and many others.

When candidate Hale Boggs received the questionnaire he promptly replied in complete detail—by telegram. He made public his reply so that the whole state would know just where he stood. He pledged himself to the principle of return of a portion of state taxes to municipalities, with the LMA suggestion of $4 per capita accepted in principle. He further pledged himself to use of the 1950 federal census, with its larger population, instead of the 1940 census, now used for figuring the per capita return; he went even farther and pledged himself to meet with the LMA before the new legislature convenes to map out a legislative program with the LMA that would be fair, financially, to the municipalities.

Immediately other candidates rushed into the wake of Boggs' pledges. Miss Grace, Dodd and LeBlanc—after Boggs had spoken—said the per capita return from the tobacco tax should be doubled all along the line. This was the old political policy of always doubling anything any other candidate pledges. It's a ridiculous pledge, for not even the LMA has suggested that such a course either could or should be taken. Kennon came up with an entirely new formula of return of tobacco tax revenue to the municipalities.

McLemore, the man whose "business ability" supposedly would solve all governmental fiscal problems, didn't even answer.

Under the circumstances, the people also may wonder whether this disregard for local tax revenue problems also might be the course of either Mr. McLemore or Judge Spaht if elected governor.

That would not be pleasant, especially for Shreveport, which needs about three-quarters of a million dollars in new city revenue to make both ends meet and which would gain over half that sum under the Boggs pledge; or for Monroe, which comparatively is sailing the same rough sea and would gain nearly $100,000 in new revenue under the Boggs pledge; or for the innumerable small municipalities all over the state—especially those in north Louisiana. And, of course, the Boggs pledge is not the only one that would bring tax revenue relief where it is so badly needed. But he was first to take a stand publicly, and the others simply shouted "Me, too!"

The next federal budget will total $85,000,000,000. it is predicted. Soon the crack about sending one's pay to Washington with instructions to return what is left after deducting taxes may cease to be a joke.

If those movie colony shootings are done for publicity purposes, the boys should keep their aim a little lower. Somebody may accidentally get killed.

The year of decision has been postponed until 1952 for various reasons, with civilization still standing at the crossroads looking in all directions at the same time.

What Others Say: Editors Roundtable

THE STASSEN FACTOR

A large minority of editors feels that Harold Stassen's purpose in entering the race for the G. O. P. presidential nomination is simply to win delegate votes for later delivery to General Eisenhower. But majority opinion is that Stassen will use whatever influence he may have primarily in his own interests; and that he is hoping that a Taft - Eisenhower deadlock may give him the nomination. — Editors, in a substantial majority, think that if Eisenhower actively seeks the nomination, without undue delay, he will get most of the support initially drawn from Taft by Stassen and Governor Warren—and will be nominated.

Joplin (Mo.) Globe (Ind.): "While it will not be believed that Stassen's decision to get into the race as an active candidate is the result of his belief that Eisenhower will not run—a belief which presumably might have been developed by his recent personal conversation with the general in Paris—on the other hand, the theory that he is entering solely . . . for acquiring . . . delegates to throw to Eisenhower seems not so logical when it is considered . . . from his statement that the greatest failure of the Truman administration is in foreign policy . . . the two men may lack much of thinking alike . . . in foreign policy."

Columbia (S. C.) Record (Ind.-Dem): "In October 1950 Stassen virtually disclaimed any intention to seek the 1952 nomination. . . . He announced his opposition to Senator Taft by declaring that Taft did not speak for the Republican party on foreign policy. . . . Stassen called upon Taft to join him in a coalition to draft General Eisenhower for the nomination. . . . Obviously Eisenhower is Stassen's first choice in 1952. The University of Pennsylvania president is becoming a candidate either to aid Eisenhower or because he fears Eisenhower may not make the race."

Baltimore (Md.) Evening Sun (Ind.-Dem.): "The Minnesotan, temporarily resident in Pennsylvania, has been going through the motions of making up his mind, but . . . all along he was itching to get into the race. Mr. Stassen is maneuvering very carefully. He is shrewd enough to know that the chief contenders for the nomination are Taft and Eisenhower. . . . He knows, too, that his opportunity will come, if it comes at all, as a result of a deadlock between the two leaders. . . . Stassen's move does not change the situation in any large way. The candidate upon whose word the public and the party leaders are really waiting is Eisenhower."

Jacksonville (Fla.) Times-Union (Ind.-Dem.): "At the present writing, a review of the G. O. P. prospects reveals that Taft is the most favored man on the party ticket. This estimate is based on a logical mathematical survey, one that might even stand the test of Eisenhower's entry into the race. Weighty factors, such as the general's lack of political caste and his delay in making known his intentions, will militate against 'Ike's' chances. Governor Warren of California . . . probably lacks the necessary national stature to become anything like a power in the race."

Washington (D. C.) Post (Ind.): "It would be surprising if Stassen's new techniques and his strained conservatism should make him a significant factor in the race. But his candidacy may draw considerable support from Senator Taft. With three avowed candidates in the race . . . the possibility of any one of them emerging into a dominant position before the convention is minimized. This is another way of saying that the political spotlight is brought into sharper focus upon the intentions of General Eisenhower. More than ever it is obvious that he holds the key to the political riddle of 1952."

Wilmington (Del.) Journal-Every Evening (Ind.): "One of Mr. Stassen's purposes in entering the race is clearly to prevent the nomination of Senator Taft. That is likewise the aim of the Eisenhower supporters. But a split in the liberal wing of the party will scarcely contribute to that end. The fact that Governor Warren is also on the progressive side serves only to deepen the division. . . . Certainly the sponsors of the 'Draft-Eisenhower' movement will now have greater difficulty in supporting the thesis that the liberals of the party are as one in their desire for Eisenhower's nomination."

Wichita (Kans.) Eagle (Ind.): "There is little chance of developing a strong drive for Eisenhower delegates . . . while Eisenhower is involved in the European military build-up, and feels that he cannot get into domestic politics. . . . There is some indication that the aspirations of both Stassen and Governor Warren are meshed in with an active Eisenhower campaign supposed to begin some time in March. They mean to hold their personal followings together for later delivery to Ike. It may and may not turn out that way, but it is an old political device."

In Washington With
BASCOM TIMMONS

This is no Orson Welles shocker, but inasmuch as most Americans in important coastal cities and inland industrial and military centers often wonder if an atom bomb will ever be dropped in their vicinity, it seems permissible to discuss that very possibility.

The air force, charged with the whole country against such attacks, sums up the outlook in about these words; "Sure they can bomb some key points in this country. No defense could prevent a few enemy bombers from getting through. But the way we are set up now, they won't try it."

That laconic attitude has a background worth summarizing including many anxious hours spent by the Air Force high command in the last eighteen months, worrying far into the night about defense against an A-bomb attack.

Now, the outlook is much less worrisome, which means it is greatly improved. The U. S. has more and better bombing planes at European bases. Doubtless the Communist force has improved too, but what the Reds know for sure is that retaliation by our striking force against any A-bomb attack on this country would be so terrible that it would completely break down the tight control of the Kremlin over Soviet Russia and its satellites.

The dropping of even one air bomb on an American target would be a frightful catastrophe, but it would not cripple this country's power to make war as would a retaliatory attack on a corresponding Russian target. This conclusion is from many closely guarded secrets, including the training methods of scores of crack crews of the U. S. Air Force. But even if the Russians were to learn those secrets, and they may know them, they would only be further advised that the air force, now largely trained by Korean veterans, is 100 per cent more prepared to make devastating strikes on well mapped targets than it was two years ago. In fact, air corps spokesmen say, it is so much better prepared that you can't even figure it in percentages.

One closely kept secret during World War II was the almost complete failure of U. S. airmen in night flying. Their failure was due to the short time available for training. Night bombing raids require long practice, which the British had gained over a three year period and the Americans were trying to pick up in six months. Our fliers couldn't hold formation at night, individual planes were lost and couldn't find their way back and morale was at a low ebb.

Finally the late General "Hap" Arnold decided that night raids would be left to the British and the U. S. Air Corps would devote itself to daytime bombing. The British predicted that would fail, but while the cost in planes lost was high, it was so successful that the combined British-American round the clock attacks broke that back of German morale and destroyed much of the enemy was industry.

Now, the air force night flying has been perfected to a degree far ahead of anything done by Allied fliers in the last war. The air force chiefs are proud that the use of radar, ability to find targets and accuracy of bombing has reached a point very close to perfection.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

The Russians have now proposed that the U. N. security council take up the Korean problem and try for a solution. We can only guess at the reasoning behind this move, but the thought persists in my mind that the answer may be found in China.

The Chinese Communists perhaps have declined to carry the ball any longer.

A year ago, when they intervened in Korea, the Chinese had every right to believe they could score a quick and complete military victory. Their overwhelming superiority in manpower gave them the apparent capability of driving the U. N. army right off the peninsula. They spent men lavishly, and were quite content to incur heavy losses, not only because manpower is cheap in a Chinese army, but because they were making progress.

Then the big drives were stopped. A virtual stalemate came into being. A clear - cut military victory is probably impossible now for either side.

China is not geared for a long and costly war. It lacks the materials and the machines that produce all the weapons and the baggage necessary for even a semi-modern army. Undoubtedly, large quantities of excess materiel have come to the Chinese from Russia. But the total amount must be limited by the facilities available through the roads and the single railway, the trans - Siberian, a very long haul, indeed.

In addition, the Communist government is still relatively new in power. Gigantic projects in industrialization, road and railway building, and control of the destructive rivers are on the books. Sooner or later, if the Chinese Reds are to win the support of the Chinese masses, they must make at least a start on some of these works.

Had they been able, as they doubtless calculated, to wash up the Korean war in a few months, the time would have been well spent. The fighting qualities of the western army balked them.

So, if many people in this country are now asking, "what next? that same question confronts the leaders of the Chinese government with even greater insistence.

Moreover, there is no reason whatever for believing that the heads of the Communist government in China will go on, indefinitely taking instructions from the men in the Kremlin.

Why should they?

China is a bigger country than Russia, bigger in area and in population. It is separated from metropolitan Russia by thousands of miles of desert and wilderness. Unlike the Soviet satellites in eastern Europe, the Chinese leaders need not live in fear of physical reprisal from the Russians.

And no dictator, by the nature of his position, willingly takes orders from another dictator. Tito is one—and let us hope only the first—object example. Mao Tze-tung may be a Communist zealot, aflame with "the cause." Even so, the time must come when he will decline to sacrifice the interest of the Chinese Communists to those of the Russians.

Finally, there is already some evidence of friction between the two countries. American intelligence reported, some time ago, a scathing attack on the Chinese by a Soviet newspaper correspondent. He charged waste and inefficiency in the use of Russian weapons and supplies, and noted apathy on the part of the Chinese toward the Korean war as a whole.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, January 5.—If you're a regular reader of this column you must be aware of the unbounded enthusiasm with which I've acclaimed Walt Disney's "True-Life Adventures." "Seal Island," "Beaver Valley" and "Nature's Half - acre," the three featurettes which have been released to date have been magnificent. Even Hollywood, in its flamboyant vocabulary, has no adjectives too superlative to be used, with complete justice, in describing them.

Because I've received so many letters from readers who share my enthusiasm for the "True-Life Adventure" series, and want to know what Disney has in store for the future, I've decided to answer through this column rather than sending individual replies through the mail.

The next picture in the series (it will be press-previewed next week) will be "The Olympic Elk," depicting the dramatic life cycle of one of America's most majestic animals. Disney considers it even more interesting than any one of the three released to date.

In the near offing are: "Bear Country," already filmed by Alfred and Elma Milotte, the camera-naturalist team that shot "Seal Island" and "Beaver Valley;" "Water Birds," "The Grazing Story" (a picture dealing with mountain sheep, buffalo and antelopes), and "Small Animal Life." In preparation, but probably two years away, are "The Prairie Story," "Pond Life," "Undersea" (dealing with life on a coral reef), "Cougars," "The Desert Story" and "Miracle of Life" (a study of cell life done in photomicography).

Truly, this is an ambitious and a comprehensive schedule. Personally, I'm going to look forward to every one of those pictures with the same eagerness that a kid looks forward to Christmas.

Several of the people who have written to me have complained that their local exhibitors have not properly advertised the "True-Life Adventures" and that they, as a result, came near missing them. That is a situation that reflects little credit on the exhibitors in question, and one that can be cured only through the protests of interested fans. If you agree with me that "True-Life Adventures" are must-see attractions, tell your theater men — and tell them, also, that you want these pictures teamed with features suitable for your children.

Idol Chatter: The real accolade for success in Hollywood seems to be an invitation to endorse a toilet soap. . . . Smile alikes: Betty Grable and Bonita Granville. . . . Wonder which Hollywood designer will take credit for Mahatma Gandhi's costumes when his biography is screened? . . . Silly notion: Shelley Winters secretly in love. . . . Sorta ironic, at that, to find a lawyer, Greg Bautzer, and a producer, Cy Howard, ranking as the champion off-screen Romeos in a town so over-run with professional "great lovers." . . . Add swell actresses in need of good roles to bolster fading prestige: Ann Sheridan. . . . Alida Valli and Oscar de Mejo may live more peacefully now that they have called their marriage quits, but after so many years of constant battling, won't they find it dull?

Don't think I've ever seen the difference between movie make - believe and stark reality more vividly shown than it was about 12:30 p.m. yesterday on the "Deadline, U. S. A." set. Humphrey Bogart, playing a racket-busting newspaper editor, had just been handed a satchel containing $200,000 in prop currency, and spread it over the top of his desk. "That's it!" ruled Director Richard Brooks. "We'll break for lunch now. Want to eat with me, Bogie?" "Yeah," said Bogart, "if you'll loan me a couple of bucks. I forgot my wallet this morning."

George E. Sokolsky:
THESE DAYS

RETURN OF CHURCHILL

Among Britishers, none appeals to the American imagination as does Winston Churchill. As British as John Bull, he has an instinct for American atmosphere and personality.

He comes to repair the damage done to Anglo - American relations by the British Socialists, the pro-British excesses of Dean Acheson and those Americans who are captives of British culture. In a word, he must recognize, as few of his countrymen do, that Americans who are more British than American are as offensive to most Americans as those who are more pro-Russian than they are pro-American. The American people are turning from a synthetic globalism, which has brought nothing but misery and death, to patriotism, which built our country.

Churchill is neither a Socialist nor a globalist. He is a British imperialist who did not take office to preside over the dissolution of the British empire. He represents in his person not only a country, but a civilization.

Yet, it is impossible for him not to recognize three major historic factors which may, in the broadest sense, be producing the forces that will reduce Great Britain to a secondary role. These are:

1. The rise of new civilizations, out of war and revolution, which contest Anglo - Saxon supremacy and superiority not only from the economic and political standpoint but also on a racial basis

2. The reduction of the authority in world affairs of the processing nations, with the attendant wealth that comes from banking, shipping and insurance. The automatic machine reduces the advantages of human skills and even the so-called "know - how" of experience. This new industrial revolution is already having far - reaching effects upon the great colonial powers;

3. The rise of new empires —the Soviet empire; the Moslem cultural empire; the Latins, perhaps under Spanish or Argentinian leadership; the emergence of Soviet China as a military power; the expansion of the Soviet periphery toward the Indian countries — these historic factors can only be ignored by a political ostrich — a description that can never fit Winston Churchill. Among these new empires, military operations are not conventional, involving the Anglo-American countries in major difficulties.

The British, as the Americans, are being forced to recognize that inaccurately described racial problems move upon the current canvas with greater vigor than either economic or political problems. A Pakistani will not, for instance, accept the Anglo - Saxon concept of "white superiority," which has no foundation in science or history.

This is tough business and difficult to discuss in the United States where the Negro problem arouses deep emotions. Yet, we are piling up casualties in Korea over precisely this problem. I can say from my own long experience in Asia that if we spent billions upon billions on that continent to make ourselves popular and to engage the good - will of those peoples, we shall fail as long as those peoples believe that we believe that we are superior because of race.

True, Soviet Russia is doing a masterly job stimulating racial antagonism. They will profit greatly out of the stupidities of the Florida bombings. But long before Soviet Russian propaganda appeared on the scene, what in Asia is called "anti - Colonialism," which is racial, not nationalistic, was a force. I first encountered it in China as early as 1918 and in Japan in 1920. The Japanese Black Dragon society, headed by Mitsuru Toyama, was already a force.

Churchill undoubtedly comes here for money, but he is no arrogant beggar like his Socialist predecessors whom our state department supported. He has pride of country. Yet, he must face frankly the cold fact that most Americans find distasteful the British political affinity for Chinese Communists who massacre Americans, particularly prisoners of war.

He would be well advised to reject the counsel of the emotionally captive pro - Britishers who feel that England can do no wrong even if his name is Attlee or Bevan.

British policy in Asia can no longer dominate American policy in Asia, and even Dean Acheson accepts a medal from the Jewish war veterans because there are no Arab voters in critical states in an election year. Churchill will grasp the essence of that because he understands votes. He can discover the pressure of public opinion here on such questions as China, Korea, Israel, Iran and Egypt. We are not going along with colonialism.

Winston Churchill is preferable, from an American standpoint, to British socialism, headed by the pro - Russian Aneurin Bevan. But he needs to recognize what, in 1952, the American people will no longer support.

Mike Blankfort, author of the screenplay for "My Six Convicts," is one of Hollywood's more eloquent men. I like the way he expressed his opinion of a story submitted to him recently. Said he: "They'll never make it. If they do, they'll never release it. If they release it, theater men won't play it. If theater men play it, nobody will go to see it. If anyone does go to see it, he'll die of boredom, and nobody will go to his funeral!"

Three-Way Child's Chair Is Boon to Mothers

BY MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

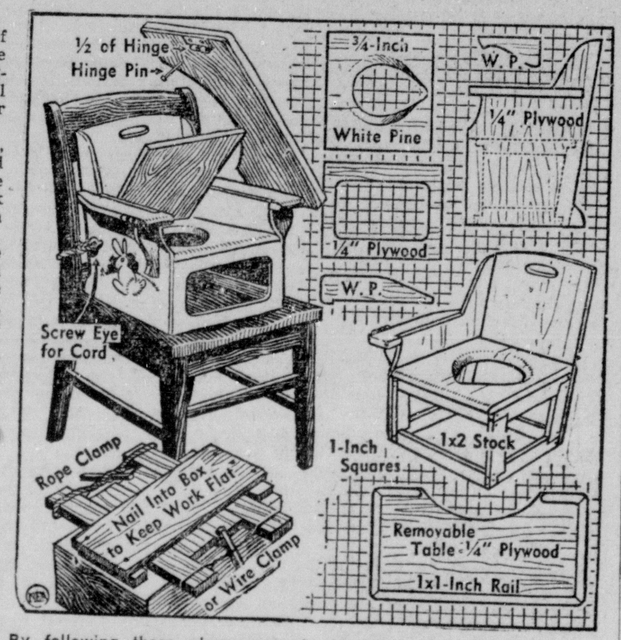

Whether you have children of your own, are expecting or have occasional visitors who have youngsters, this "occasional" chair will be a welcome addition to your home.

Not only is it a training chair, but it doubles as a high chair and car seat. As a training chair, the solid seat is hinged at the back edge and when raised forms a back.

When used as a high chair, the tray is secured to the arms with a hinge pin on each side, and the cord, fastened to the back corner, is tied behind the back of the straight chair on which it rests.

As a car seat, it rests directly on the cushion of the front seat and the cords are run down between the seat and the back and tied underneath. The seat can also be taken into a restaurant when traveling and be used as a high chair.

The construction of this chair is simple. The frame is made of 1x2 and the sides, front, back and hinged seat are made of quarter-inch plywood. The training seat should be made of three-quarter-inch soft white pine since it will have to be shaped and finished smooth. This makes a chair light enough to be handled by a woman. Build the frame first as shown in the sketch, then the training seat. If you have some shelving on hand of the correct width, it will be well to make this item from the solid piece of wood. If not, build it up of several widths of soft stock with modern casein glue and hold it together overnight with clamps. If you have no clamps, the sketch shows a practical way of obtaining the necessary pressure.

By following these plans, you shouldn't have any trouble making this triple-purpose training chair for youngsters.

After the hole had been cut out of the board, it should be shaped with a round rasp and sanded smooth. All joints should be painted on both sides with casein glue and screwed together.

The completed chair may be finished to match the nursery or any way you see it. The training seat itself should be done in enamel of a light color. The rest of the decor is up to you.

ing which has accomplished this goes on in the United States as well as over Korea, where every combat flier does his stint against the Communist air forces, which are stronger numerically, but obviously not as well trained on entering combat. Against the MIG-15 which air force officers concede is a terrific jet plane, American planes are more heavily armored and can't fly or maneuver quite as fast, but those shortcomings will be offset, just as they were in the early stages of World War II in the Pacific, when the Jap Zeros had unquestioned superiority for a time, but lost it as better U. S. planes were developed.

It has been a sad Christmas season for people on the government payroll who have long been accustomed to receive presents from people not on the payroll, with whom they might have some contact in the handling of government business.

Most bureau chiefs sent warnings to their personnel not to accept such presents. Price Control Director "Mike" Di Salle told his underlings not to accept anything they couldn't eat or drink in 48 hours. But the most rigid of all, as usual were the Armed Services, which know how to obey orders.

A friend of a colonel brought some fine country sausage back from Pennsylvania and sent a few links to the Pentagon. The colonel promptly returned it, citing an official order about accepting gifts, even though the friend had never had any contact with the officer on government business.

The Defense Production Administration warned its employees that gift wrapped packages, sent to DPA employees at their offices would be confiscated and turned over to charity.

Hide Hosiery for Emergencies In Handy, Space-Saving Holder

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

If you've ever had a run in your stocking, at a moment when you wanted to look perfect (and what woman hasn't?) you'll appreciate knowing that there's available a new clear vinyl plastic container that holds an extra pair of stockings for emergencies.

It's just large enough for that one extra pair of hose, and takes up scarcely any space in your handbag.

This plastic envelope is self-sealing. After you have inserted the stockings, the flap can be turned down and sealed by pressing it with fingers.

Because of the smooth surface of this new hoisery holder, your stockings will be safeguarded against snags, and kept from being soiled by the other items you carry in your purse. At a moment's notice you can whip them out.

Your stockings won't cause you embarrassing moments, when you can carry an extra emergency pair so conveniently and efficiently.

No good grooming emergencies for this fashion-wise girl. She always carries an extra pair of stockings hidden in her handbag.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

By J. Paul Hewitt

Most of us are pretty much aware that music can affect the mind, the emotions and even the bodily functions of men. The primitive witch doctor cured his patients with wild incantations and crude music. Mothers have always soothed their young ones with soft lullabies. And military leaders have inspired their troops with martial music.

The modern scientist, doctors and psychologists, have proved beyond a doubt that music can make life easier and more pleasant for everybody. They've found that stomach ulcers and other disorders aggrivated by worry and nervousness are helped by the quieting influence of music. Hospitals use it to calm patients before surgery. Dentists find it relieves tension of patients in their chairs. It's even been found that lively music can offset fatigue and make the subject actually stronger.

All the therapeutic benefits of music are heightened, researches say, if the subject makes the music himself. Actually creating the music provides the most effective outlet for emotional tension.

Teen-Agers: Learn To Develop Taste

So you teen-agers think shopping is a snap. All you need is the necessary financial backing, and you're positive you could buy the most "dreamy" wardrobe imaginable.

Actually, buying sprees take careful planning and training, if you want to get the best values for your money. As a starter, you'd be a smart girl to accept guidance from your mother and the saleswoman who waits on you. They've both had enough experience to offer you valuable suggestions.

Before you even leave home, analyze your figure and features. What are your most flattering colors? Decide on the type of clothes that will do the most for you, and then stick to them.

Since it's important for you to cultivate an individual style, better not shop with a group of friends. "Follow the leader" buying will only result in clothes that don't suit you.

Set aside several days or afternoons for shopping. Concentrate on school clothes one day, and party duds the next. You'll never get anything you want by running from department to department.

Once you've made a list of what you need, don't sacrifice conservative, useful clothing for novelties. The outfit that's really "different" rarely outlasts the season.

Continuing, Boggs said, "every citizen who desires to see constructive, positive government, with teamwork, unity and progress, can support our Louisiana first movement with complete confidence that your vote is the best and quickest way to accomplish that needed goal for our state and its people. It is the way to remove the Earl Long influence in our state."

Asserting that what helps one section of the state helps all of Louisiana, Boggs reiterated his pledge to work with mayors and governing bodies of municipalities and parishes to help solve their financial problems. He told the crowd here that the state and federal government have taken over much of the sources of revenue and communities all over Louisiana are faced with problems of finding new revenue to keep up with their expanded growth and development.

the remaining $287,500 came from a note given the American Bank and Trust Co. in Baton Rouge.

Blackman also stated that Earl K. Long signed that note.

Mrs. Schexnayder, when interviewed by the Item, refused to say where she got the money to invest in the barn.

She declared: "I see no need to make a statement on that subject."

Asked how she became interested in the cattle business she replied:

"My husband, while he was living, and I lived on a plantation across the river from Baton Rouge."

McLemore's auction barn was heavily mortgaged. He had bought it on credit and he still owed a substantial sum of money when he sold it.

He borrowed $15,700 from the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. of Alexandria (mortgage book 321, page 633, Rapides parish).

McLemore told the Item he borrowed the rest of the money on his life insurance policy.

"I had to put up cash because the home wes being sold through order of court. I borrowed the money to get the cash", he said.

Here is the story of James McLemore and the McLemore Livestock Commission Market, Inc.

James McLemore was born in Coushatta, Red river parish, and lived there, except when attending Baylor University, until 1933, when he moved to Natchitoches.

There he was field representative for the regional Agricultural Credit Corp., a New Deal agency.

He was in Natchitoches for three months when the Natchitoches office and the Alexandria office were merged and he moved to Alexandria.

McLemore was with that federal agency until it was replaced by the Production Credit Assn. An agency whose stock was partly woned by the federal government.

McLemore cancelled the note on July 26, 1943.

In addition to the $9500 loan from the Production Credit Assn., In 1936 he borrowed $7,000 from the Prudential Life Insurance Co., putting up his home at Hill and Hickory streets in Alexandria for security. (Mortgage Book 137 Page 546, Rapides Parish). He cancelled this note Aug. 16, 1945.

In 1939, when McLemore bought a car from the Pearce Chevrolet, Inc. he gave a note for $621.18. Payable in 18 monthly installments at $34.51 a month.

Then in 1941, McLemore joined the Guaranty Bank as head of its livestock loan department.

He began buying cattle and equipment with the bank lending him money.

On Jan. 28, 1943, he borrowed $75,000 from the bank giving cattle as security. This note was cancelled July 26, 1944.

On the same day, July 26, 1944, he was given another loan by the Guaranty Bank for $75,000 with cattle as security. This note was cancelled April 17, 1946.

On the same day, April 17, 1946, he was given another $75,000 loan by the Guaranty bank with cattle as security. This note was cancelled April 25, 1949.

On Sept. 24, 1946, he borrowed another $25,000 from the Guaranty Bank with cattle as security. This note was cancelled April 25, 1949.

On Nov. 27, 1946, he borrowed another $10,000 this time with equipment as security. It was cancelled April 25, 1949.

On Feb. 27, 1948, he borrowed another $25,000 from the Guaranty Bank with cattle as security. This note was cancelled April 25, 1949.

He obtained on April 25, 1949, another loan for $50,000 from the Guaranty Bank.

On July 10, 1947 (Conveyance Book 357, Page 217) McLemore bought 128 acres of land from the Guaranty Realty Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Guaranty Bank.

He paid $17,060 for the land, or about $135 an acre.

McLemore paid $500 down and the Guaranty Bank lent him the other $16,500.

On the same day the Guaranty Bank loaned McLemore an additional $69,600 with the same 128 acres as security. The loan was to be paid off in 60 monthly installments of $1160 each. (Mortgage Book 284, Page 205).

When this note was cancelled by McLemore, on sale of the business in 1951, there was a balance due of $66,280.

Both the $16,500 note and the $66,280 note were cancelled April 19, 1951, The $50,000 note McLemore had signed April 25, 1949 also was cancelled on that day.

April 19, 1951, was the day McLemore sold his auction barn.

He sold it for $387,500.

He had to deduct from that figure the amount of the three notes he paid off that day $132,780. He also had to deduct $124,750 he had to pay to buy back 765 outstanding shares of stock in his auction barn.

James McLemore said in an interview Wednesday that he did not know Earl Long, or Earl Long's sister-in-law Mrs. Amelia Schexnayder, had any connection with the purchase of his livestock auction barn.

"I sold my stock to 'Brother' (J. A. Blackman).

"I didn't know there was any one involved but 'Brother'."

McLemore said Blackman brought him a $5,000 check, then a $45,000 check.

"Then he told me he would have to get some more money from Cartwright (Bruce Cartwright, another named purchaser of the auction barn). That was the first I knew anyone but 'Brother' was involved.

CARLSEN

in the hurricane-lashed Atlantic, determined to uphold the traditions of the sea and save his two and a half million dollar ship and cargo from any possibility of becoming a derelict prize.

The 40 crewmen and 10 passengers, who jumped into the sea at his orders on Dec. 29, were all picked up by rescue vessels, save one crewman whose body was recovered.

Once the Danish - born Carlsen reaches port he was in for a round of honors. Danish merchant navy officers petitioned sea-loving King Frederik to decorate "Captain Courageous." The town council of his birthplace, Hilleroed, resolved to send him a congratulatory message.

His Danish parents flew to England to be on hand for a celebration. British seamen planned to give him an official welcome when he steps ashore.

The British Press which has dubbed him "Stay Put Carlsen" and "Captain Enterprise" put its biggest headlines on the story.

"Big tow begins," said the London Star.

Once his ship was safely in tow Carlsen sent two messages, relayed by Commander Leslie J. O'Brien, Jr., of Jonesboro, Ark., skipper of the destroyer Willard Keith, to the Associated Press.

One addressed to his wife and two children in Woodbridge, said: "Dear Agnes and Children: Very happy to hear from you. Will contact you on telephone as soon as possible. Love Kurt."

The other, to the owner of the Flying Enterprise, the Isbrandtsen Line of New York, said:

"Now under tow by Turmoil. Carlsen."

Through a battery radio he had rigged up in the cabin, Carlsen has been in communication with the relay of navy vessels that have stood by.

The latest message said Carlsen received a fresh pot of coffee from the destroyer and was "feeling like a million."

Each groan of the ship's plates had a special meaning for him. The Enterprise had a list which ranged from 60 to 70 degrees, almost heeled over on her side.

She was cracked across her middle and Capt. "Dapper" Dan Parker of the Turmoil had the heavy responsibility of not over-straining the tow line. Like Carlsen and Dancy, he was watching the cable and the weather and keeping his fingers crossed.

The weather was still the key. A sudden change for the worse might increase the yawing tendency and force Parker to alter course to another port.

However, Carlsen expressed his determination to ride his ship all the way.

Negro Questioned Here

Monroe city detectives yesterday apprehended a 16-year-old Negro girl wanted for questioning in connection with a theft of jewelry valued at $375 during the Christmas holidays.

Officers said the jewelry, consisting of three rings and a pin, were taken from the home of Mrs. Virginia Redding, 1903 North Third street, sometime between December 23 and January 1.

The Negro girl was turned over to Mrs. Willie B. Harris, juvenile officer for Ouachita parish.

JES' RAMBLIN'

Monroe, only one, the new arrival, is a girl, all others being boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Murphy parents of Woodrow Murphy are parents of nine sons, and Woodrow had two sons, as his family, until the record was broken and a daughter was born the day before last Christmas.

This seems to be a record for a "Believe It Or Not." — but anyway the little brother was right. The family had a little girl for Christmas eve!"

A good-sized estate in personal property and realty is given disposal in the will of Mrs. Sol Meyer who died some months ago and who was member of a prominent family of earlier day merchants in Monroe. Her husband and his two brothers operated the biggest department store in Monroe 30 years or more ago. It was located at the corner of South Grand and Grammont streets.

Mrs. Meyer's will bequeaths most of her estate to her daughter, Lillian Meyer, but some Jewish charities are included in bequests. These are the Jewish Ladies Cemetery Association in Monroe, $1,000; the Jewish Sisterhood, $500; and the National Jewish hospital in Denver, Colo., $500.

Early this week, Herbert G. Bailey, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will leave with his family for Greensboro, N. C., where he will assume a similar position. It is in a larger city than Monroe and the salary is proportionately larger so that it offers a substantial inducement to make the change.

Bailey has made many friends here and has performed a good job, and his leaving is a source of deep regret.

C. G. Pearce, Sr., the president of the Chamber, states that the position left vacant is unfilled, but inside of a week or more, it is expected that a new secretary will have been secured.

Christmas seals, issued for the purpose of waging war on Tuberculosis, can be paid for even if it is past the Christmas period, states Elmer L. Sanford, executive secretary of the Ouachita Parish Tubercular Association.

As many as 9,000 letters with seals enclosed were sent out from the association's office and the recipients were asked to remit their dollars for each 100 seals received. Many have done so but still others have failed to comply.

Mr. Sanford urges all who have received the seals to send in their money to Postoffice Box 146, Monroe. Thus far, $5,000 out of a goal of $6,000 has been received. If the public will remit their dollars, the balance of $1,000 can be easily secured. The remittances for the seals has an extension of time until April 1, so that all will have sufficient opportunity to make payments.

Maggie Withers, 910 Cypress St., West Monroe, is appreciative of the Good Fellow's efforts and has given us the following letter as expressive of her thanks:

"Dear Good Fellow Workers: I am writing you just to thank you for the nice basket you gave me. You will never know till we get over yonder in the great beyond what the work you are doing will be rewarded for it meant Christmas for so many mothers that seemed to be forgotten. May God bless you and all 1952 should be the happiest year for you all.

"I thank you again and again."

DOPE TRAFFIC IS

the shadowy drug underworld may be facing a "panic" — such a tight clampdown on dope supplies as to leave many addicts frantic. Hardened addicts suffer acutely if their supplies are suddenly cut off.

About 250 undercover federal agents, many of whom risked their lives to get evidence by posing as members of dope rings, continued the mop - up operation today. They bagged some suspects who had gone into hiding when they got wind of the raids launched with precision timing before dawn yesterday.

Harney said the drive and its followups ultimately may cut drug addiction about in half. He said that would bring the traffic almost to an "irreducible minimum."

Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger rested today after directing the around - the - clock crackdown. Harney, No. 2 man in the drive, said the toll of seized suspects is mounting. But he had no specific total.

The average addit, Harney said, spends about $10 a day to satisfy his craving for drugs. He estimated half of this money comes from criminal sources — raised by robbery, gambling, prostitution, or other rackets. Thus the narcotics crackdown will reverberate through out the criminal world.

Harney said about one out of every 10 of an estimated 50,000 dope addicts in the country lost his source of supply in the current drive, aimed especially at peddlers who sell heroin and marijuana to teenagers.

Total U. S. illegal drug traffic is estimated at about 220 million dollars a year at the retail level.

In New York state and upper New Jersey, the number behind bars has reached 101, Harney said.

Some persons described as big wholesale dealers were caught in the trap, but some even bigger narcotics kings are still under surveillance.

Anslinger said last night the current raids, and other investigations, are laying the groundwork for indictments in about three weeks against some of the nation's biggest dope handlers.

PARENTS INVITED TO P.-T. A. MEET

Parents of freshmen enrolled at Neville High School have been extended an invitation to attend a Parent - Teachers meeting Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in room 213 of Neville for the purpose of planning the future work of their children in school, Miss Oberah Bove, guidance counsellor, announced.

The meeting is planned primarily to acquaint parents with the curricula at Neville, the requirements for graduation, and to encourage them to realize the necessity of investigating college entrance requirements for the specific colleges their children plan to attend.

Miss Bove, who is the director of the rapidly developing over-all guidance program at Neville, said that frequently students get to their last semester of high school, expecting to graduate, and find that some requirement is lacking.

Last week the guidance department mailed "tests" to parents, which questioned them on "majors" and "minors" and other points to be considered in a four year program that leads to completion of requirements for a high school diploma. This questionnaire, Miss Bove stated, was to indicate to parents the things that they should know about their children's required work at school, and to encourage them to attend the meeting Tuesday.

Although most colleges will admit a graduate of Neville upon his presentation of a diploma, some require specific subject matter. Some also require special subject matter courses from high school for certain curricula in college.

29 that the contract would be awarded to Ford, Bacon and Davis.

Notice was received by the corporation on July 11 that the government had approved plans for construction of the plant and for five-year amortization of a large portion of the cost.

The construction, which will start immediately, will double the present production capacity of both ammonia and methanol now being produced at Sterlington by high-pressure synthesis, using natural gas.

In addition, a new unit will be erected for making ammonia nitrate, one of the most popular solid forms of nitrogen for use in the fertilizer trade.

Anhydrous ammonia, which is used by the fertilizer industry, both in manufacturing mixed fertilizers and for direct application to the soil, is also a basic raw material in the production of other forms of nitrogen solutions and ammonium nitrate.

In his statement at the time of the original announcement, Mr. Wood said that the need for nitrogen in the production of food and fiber had constantly increased and, although the nation's total production capacity has doubled since the beginning of World War II, a condition of extreme shortage still exists.

Beets that are mature usually need at least an hour's cooking time. If you use a pressure saucepan, the cooking time will be greatly reduced. Orange juice, orange rind, melted butter or margarine, a little brown sugar, and a dash of salt will combine to make a pleasant-tasting sauce for the beets after they are cooked, peeled, and sliced.

Less than 120 miles southwest of Bordeaux are the famous resort towns of the Basque coast, Biarritz and St. Jean de Luz.

Will it be over, over there in Korea? Do the Reds want peace, a showdown, or a stalemate? What's their next move . . . and where?

What surprises will the conventions bring? Who'll win Nov. 4? What'll it mean to foreign aid, business, labor, the cost of living?

Will these be 1952's biggest stories?

You don't know now. But you do know that when they break, right that minute you'll want your newspaper.

Where else can you get the whole story so fast? So close to the event—so full of fact, detail and color . . . so quick with answers to "what led up to it?" and "what do they say about it?" and "where do we go from here?"

There's some story nearly every day that's big to you. So you want your newspaper as you want food and air.

You share that basic, essential hunger with everybody else. Your own suspense may be tied to the banner headlines . . somebody else's may hang on a special in the white sales.

What medical discovery will make news in '52? Will another "incurable" disease be conquered?

But sometime each day everybody wants to see the newspaper. It's one thing people won't do without.

• Why do advertisers spend more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Simply because everybody reads the newspaper every day —for its advertising as well as for fun or for news.

So—if you're selling something that's advertised, why should it be advertised to fractions of the people?

Radio and TV programs reach only fractions of anybody's market. Each one appeals to only a special audience. And even the people interested can't all listen.

Magazines reach only fractions of a market. For each one appeals to some people—not to others.

The newspaper talks to everybody in town—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose! The newspaper is first with the most news...the most people...the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Studebaker's 1952 Models Feature Many Refinements

Jet-Plane Profile Is Scrapped; Brand New Front End Sported

Studebaker scraps its jet-plane profile on 1952 models to sport a brand-new front end.

Pace car for the year will be the Starliner, a 5-passenger, hard top convertible, it was announced Thursday. This newest body style is offered in both Champion and Commander lines, the South Bend, Ind., factory revealed. And it'll come in eleven different 2-tone paint jobs and two upholstery options.

Dealers will show new models early in January.

Externally, there'll be entirely new front-end treatment and substantial restyling in the rear. Hoods will be longer and lower, with new emblems and ornaments. Grilles that embody wrap-around styling will stand out as the most distinctive front - end feature. Bumpers, too, will wrap around.

And that front license plate may not get crumpled by the other fellow's bumper. Two vertical guards will take the beating instead. A larger bumper guard is spotted under each headlamp to protect the car from customery bumps of day-to-day driving. Head-lamp rims and parking lights are of new design.

New taillights appear to be part of the rear fenders. They give the effect of extending the sweep of fenders and body length.

Brakes are designed to give surer, softer and easier action.

The changes are in the brake pedal linkage, the adoption of floating rear shoes in all brakes and in brake linings with greater resistance to fading.

Other innovations include push-button starting on models with automatic drive, a new starter on Commanders, moisture-proof ignition systems and a boost in generator output to forty-five amperes.

Heat-resisting, glare - reducing glass will be optional. Rear-view visibility for convertibles has been increased with a bigger rear window. And if you crave a red or ivory steering wheel, instead of the standard gray one, it's yours at no extra cost. Interior trim and appointments are designed for luxury.

A new fabric for the fold-back tops of convertibles will make its bow. Called Orlon, it's used where light-colored top material is specified and resists shrinkage and weathering. It is declared easy to clean.

New upholstery techniques shoot for drawing-room elegance.

"In performance, safety, comfort and appearance, we believe our 1952 Studebaker Champions and Commanders are outstanding," summarized K. B. Elliott, executive vice-president. "Our dealers are enthusiastic over the new cars and I am confident that public reaction will be equally enthusiastic."

BOGGS FIGHTING U. S. COMMUNISTS

Gubernatorial Candidate Hale Boggs warned against American aid to Russia without stringent conditions and protection as far back as August 24, 1941, Boggs' fifth district campaign headquarters pointed out here yesterday.

Boggs has consistently fought Communists in America and supported the Dies committee investigation of Un-American activities.

As a member of the house of representatives, he introduced a bill to prohibit members of subversive groups from belonging to labor unions.

On Feb. 18, 1947, Boggs voted to cite Communist Leader Gerhardt Eisler for contempt of congress. He later voted jail terms for many other Communists.

Following this on July 15, 1947, Boggs voted to remove disloyal persons from government employment and two years later, introduced a bill requiring that Communists and their front organizations register.

Still an enemy of communism, the Louisiana gubernatorial candidate introduced another bill to prohibit Red picketing of federal courts, a measure that later became a law.

Boggs was criticized in the house by Representative Vito Marcantonio after Boggs called public attention to Marcantonio's pro-Communist voting record.

And last year, Boggs introduced three bills: first, to prevent subversive persons and groups from appearing as bail surety in criminal cases second, to compile and maintain a list of subversive organizations, and third, to provide that peacetime espionage may be punished by death and for detention and prosecution of Communists.

Sports And Beauty Are On Same Team

By Alicia Hart
NEA Beauty Editor

If you're like the bear who hibernates at the first sign of winter weather, you don't know what you are missing. In the outside world people are skiing and ice skating; keeping their figures trim and their associations active.

Instead of running for cover, take advantage of the season's out-and-indoor sports. They will not only make you feel wonderful, but actually change your appearance.

Aside from the invigorating aspects, there are important beauty benefits to be derived. Ice skating, for instance, slims the hips and thighs. You'll be cutting a pretty figure in no time.

Should posture be your problem, skiing is one of the best corrective exercises. It isn't half as hard as it looks. Once you learn muscular coordination, you will be well on your way.

To develop flexible muscles at your abdomen, arms, waistline, chest and shoulders try your hand at bowling. It will keep you out of icy winds, if that's your chief winter sports complaint, and still help to build a beautiful body.

There are other indoor sports which may appeal to you, such as tennis, squash and badminton. Participation is the important thing, not whether you prove to be an expert.

When you are considering winter activities, don't overlook the new friends you will meet, and the possibility of enlarging your whole social outlook. There's much to be said on the subject of sports, but you'll find taking part is a lot more fun.

Conner Speaks At Creole, La.

Creole, La., Jan. 4.—Special—Elmer D. Conner, candidate for lieutenant - governor on the Kennon - Connor ticket stated at Creole today that Gugernatorial Candidate Judge Robert F. Kennon was the only candidate who was urging decentralization of the state government at Baton Rouge, to allow parishes and localities throughout the state a free hand in developing their own resources.

"One candidate in this race visited Lake Charles and told the people there that, if he is elected governor, he will develop the port for them," the Jennings businessman said. "And then, in the rice country, he promised that he would find a new type of rice which would bring more income to the rice farmers. But neither he nor any of the other candidates in this campaign, with the exception of Bob Kennon, has promised to take the load off the people and allow them a free hand to develop their own resources.

"The Port of Lake Charles wasn't developed by any governor of the state," Connor continued. "And there's no man in Baton Rouge can take credit for developing the rice industry. They were developed by the hard work and the vision of local people. The best thing any governor can do for Lake Charles is to give the port back to the people. Take it out of politics and allow the citizens of the city to run it, and they will do more for the port than any promising politician."

Connor said that there is too much power in Baton Rouge now, and that most of the evils in the state were the result of "over-centralization in the state capital." He stated that any governor who assumes office in 1952 will have the same power, and the same temptation to abuse it, unless he voluntarily relinquishes it.

NORTHEAST TOURNAMENT SET FOR FEB. 8-9

PLAN 'MULTIPLE' EVENT FOR PREP SCHOOL OUTFITS

Deadline For Accepting Entries Is Jan. 21

The fifteenth annual Northeast Louisiana State Invitational Basketball Tournament, one of the oldest of invitational events for high school teams in this section of the state, will be held here February 8 and 9, it was announced yesterday in a joint statement issued by A. S. Huffman and Miss Ada Bess Hart, physical education directors for men and women respectively at Northeast.

Invitations will be mailed to all high schools in the northeast Louisiana area tomorrow.

Again the "multiple tournament" program will likely prevail, Huffman announced, as the college plans to make arrangements to handle all entries returned.

New high school rules limits the number of teams participating in a single tourney division to 16, a stipulation that applies to both boys and girls this year.

The multiple tournament plan was first adopted by Northeast last year when the number of entries in a tournament was restricted for boys only. Last year three divisions were conducted for boys and only one for girls. It's likely that the girls as well will be divided into co-tourneys this year.

Forty-six teams, 20 girls and 26 boys, were entered last year. As many or more are expected to participate this season.

Winners last year were Baskin, repeating for the fourth straight time in the girls' division, and Jonesboro-Hodge, Ogden, and Joe Davidson High of St. Joseph, all champions of their respective tournaments under the multiple plan. Runners-up were Quitman among the girls, and Ouachita of Monroe, Neville of Monroe, and Eros in the three boys' divisions.

Trophies will be awarded first and second place teams in each tourney section, and all - tournament teams will be selected for each division with miniature gold basketballs to be presented individuals so honored. In addition, Ed Lockhart of Lockhart-Blair Sports Shop will again present his annual sportsmanship award to the boy and girl voted to have displayed the best sportsmanship both on and off the courts.

Last year's sportsmanship awards went to Jean Strauss of the Neville girls and Arlen Adams of the Ogden boys.

In announcing the coming tourney, Huffman and Miss Hart said any high school failing to receive its invitation but desiring to participate should contact them as soon as possible. The deadline for accepting entries has been fixed for January 21.

Huffman, with the assistance of Northeast athletes in his physical education classes, will have charge of direction of the boys' division of the meet. Miss Hart, with members of the Northeast Women's athletic Association, will direct the girls' section.

Bithorn's Body Will Be Moved

El Mante, Mex., Jan. 5. —(AP)— Lack of a suitable burial case is delaying exhumation of the body of Hiram Bithorn, former Chicago Cubs pitcher, who was fatally shot here a week ago.

His sister, Mrs. Maria Angeli Arechiga, explained that the body had been buried without being embalmed. Consequently, a double coffin, which can be hermetically sealed, must be obtained before a sanitary certificate can be obtained for its removal.

Mrs. Arechiga said she hoped the difficulties would be overcome in time to permit the body to be brought to Mexico City Monday en route to Puerto Rico, Bithorn's birthplace, for burial. The state attorney said two days ago that he would authorize the exhumation.

Bithorn was shot by a policeman who had him in custody after he tried to sell his car here without documents. The policeman, now being held for investigation, said the ex-athlete and former minor league baseball umpire attacked him first.

New York Edition Of Racing Forum To End

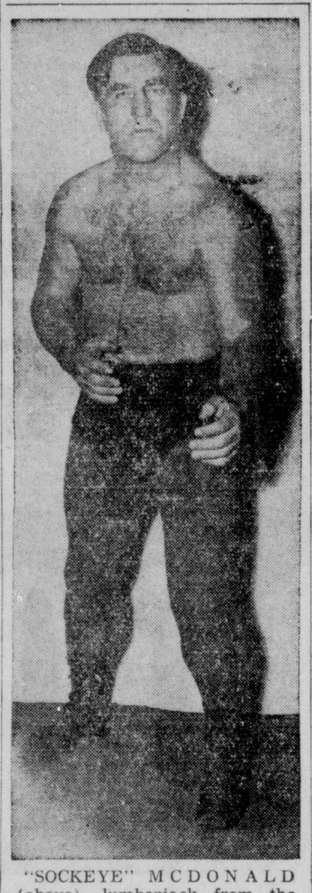

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Triangle Publications, Inc., announced today publication of the New York edition of the Daily Racing Form will be suspended after the Monday, Jan. 7, issue.

In a statement Triangle said:

"Decision to discontinue this newspaper has been long considered because of the duplication of the racing coverage in the Morning Telegraph, issued by the same publisher.

"This decision in no way affects the editions of the Daily Racing Form published in other cities and has been made to eliminate duplication. The area covered by the New York Daily Racing Form will hereafter be served by the Morning Telegraph, published in New York."

Curtis Boys Back For Tag Bout At Kallio's Tuesday

Makes $25.30 Payoff In Malibu Sequet Stakes

Arcadia, Calif., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Phil D, and 11-1 outsider, won the $25,000-added Malibu Sequet Stakes by a nose today to share honors at Santa Anita Park with Calumet Farm's Hill Gail.

Hill Gail, Calumet's latest Kentucky Derby hopeful, came through with a smashing three and one-half length victory in the $20,000 San Vincente Stakes, co - feature for three-year-olds. It was his first start of the 1951 season, and a convincing one.

It took a photo to determine that Phil D's nose was ahead of Intent's in the handicap for older horses. Phil D paid off at $25.30, $7.70 and $7.60. Intent, running as an entry with Black Douglas and To Market, returned $3.10 and $3.00. Black Douglas was third, To Market fourth.

Phil D came from behind in the stretch to win it, with Ray York up. The victory was worth $19,150 to the horse's owner, W. C. Martin. It brought his lifetime earnings to $115,190, nearly 100 times his purchase price as a yearling. Time for the seven furlongs was 1:23.

Others in the 15-horse race finished thus behind To Market: Northern Star, Interpretation, Gold Note, Joystick, Sickle's Image, Count Turf, Rado Kid, Mohammedan, Simonsez, Aegean and Tuzado.

Ridden by Steve Brooks, Hill Gail defeated Haltafire, Tiger Sir and 11 other three-year-old colts and geldings in the good time of 1:10 flat for six furlongs. A 6-5 favorite, Hill Gail paid $4.70, $3.80 and $3.20; Haltfire, $3.90 and $5.00; Tiger Sir, $3.60.

The San Vincente was enlivened by a spill in which Jocky Ted Atkinson fell with Grey Tower, but was not hurt. Grey Tower was caught in close quarters soon after the start, stumbled and fell, throwing Atkinson clear.

HAYAMAKA GETS AID OF M'DONALD FOR RELAY FUSS

Lumberjack Returning After Six - Year Absence

Wrestling at Gus Kallio's Arena begins again here Tuesday night after a three-week holiday with Jack and George Curtis teaming up to take on Sugi Hayamaka, World's light heavyweight champion, and "Sockeye" McDonald, a northwestern lumberjack, in a tag team match.

The match is expected to be one of the best ever held at Kallio's as all four of the matmen are supposed to be clean, tough fighters. Three of the wrestlers—the Curtis boys and Hayamaka — appeared here in the closing match of the 1951 season and all turned in a good match.

Hayamaka and Jack Curtis, wrestling in a championship match, fought steadily for 90 minutes with the match ending in a draw after each had taken one fall. These two, one a former champion and the other a champion now, are expected to be the strong side of each team.

Jack Curtis has been around the ring for a long while and knows his wrestling holds as well as he can use his fists, which is considerable if he connects with one of his roundhouse punches. He is one of the most popular matment who has ever appeared in Monroe and wins a good percentage of his bouts.

Hayamaka, the Japanese matman from Honolulu, is also skilled in ring tactics besides being a master of judo. One of his favorite tricks is the Japanese sleep hold which, when used correctly, sends his opponents quickly into dreamland. Using the side of his hands instead of his fists when the going gets rough, he manages to hit his opponents to best advantage while still fighting fair.

McDonald is perhaps the only unknown quantity in Tuesday's bout as he has not wrestled here in six years. He is reputed to be, however, a strong, clean wrestler with a good knowledge of wrestling skills. He has wrestled throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

George Curtis is also well known and well liked in Monroe as he has been wrestling here almost as long as his brother Jack. George is a tall, lean, lightning-fast performer who uses his fists only in extreme anger.

Kallio, in commenting on the match last night, said, "Hayamaka has got a good tough partner to wrestle with him Tuesday, and everybody knows how tough the Japanese and the Curtis brothers are. I think this will be one of the best matches held here lately."

The match will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win. Kallio stated that there would be no changes in prices and that the doors as usual would open at 7 p. m. The match will begin at 8 p. m.

There will be two short time limit semi-final events between opponents from the different tag teams.

Princeton Sensation, Dick Kazmaier, Proclaimed Male 'Athlete Of Year'

Golfer Hogan Second In AP Poll; Musial 3rd

By Murray Rose

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A momentous season was climaxed today for Dick Kazmaier, Princeton's great back, when he was proclaimed the male "athlete of the year" for 1951 — a year the 21-year old senior will never forget.

The slender triple - threat from Maumee, O., won by a huge margin in the annual Associated Press poll. He was named first on 70 of the 214 ballots and amassed 327 points on a 3-2-1 basis.

Dashing Dick's total was more than twice that received by the runner - up, gallant Ben Hogan, the magnificent little Texas golf champion. Bantam Ben, winner of the U. S. Open for the third time and Masters titlist, received 27 first - place votes and 157 points, to nose out Stan Musial, the National League batting king. The St. Louis Cardinal slugger had 21 first placers and 42 points.

Behind Musial came Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion and fullback for Stanford, 85 points; Jersey Joe Walcott, who won the heavyweight crown by knocking out Ezzard Charles, 50; Otto Graham, passer and quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, 42; Allie Reynolds, double no - hit pitcher of the New York Yankees, 38; Middleweight Champion Ray Robinson, 29; the Rev. Robert (Bob) Richards, national pole vault and decathlon champion and winner of the Sullivan award as the outstanding amateur athlete of the year, 28; and Rocky Marciano, knockout conqueror of Joe Louis, 26.

Eighty athletes were mentioned for either first, second, of third place by the panel of sportswriters and radio men from coast to coast.

Kazmaier, two - time All-America and winner of so many football trophies that he'll need a warehouse to store them all, joins an illustrious group of previous winners including Pepper Martin, Dizzy Dean, Carl Hubbell, Gene Sarazen, Don Budge, Joe DiMaggio, Gunder Haegg, Byron Nelson, Johnny Lujack, Lou Boudreau, and Jim Konstanty, last year's winner.

The terrific Tiger was the key factor in Princeton's second straight all-winning campaign. He was at his best in the clutches and had his biggest day in the game Princeton wanted to win more than any other—against Cornell.

Against the Big Red from Ithaca, Kazmaier ran for two touchdowns, passed for three more, carried 18 times for 124 yards and completed 15 of 17 passes for 236 yards to lead the Tigers to a 53-15 triumph.

He finished the season as the leading yardage gainer among the major schools with 1,827 yards; was named the back of the year in the Associated Press' football poll; in the same poll his outstanding performance against Cornell was voted the one - game showpiece of the season by any player; he won the Heisman, Maxwell, Cleveland Touchdown Club, Philadelphia Sportswriters Assocaition and Greater Toledo awards among others.

Kazmaier has won so many polls that Joe Williams, Scripps-Howard columnist, commented that Dick has been on top of more polls than Shipwreck Kelly, the flagpole sitter.

The leaders, based on three points for first, two for second, and one for third (first - place votes in parentheses):

1.—Dick Kazmaier, football (70) 327.

2.—Ben Hogan, golf (27) 157.

3.—Stan Musial, baseball (21) 142.

4. — Bob Mathias, track-football (18) 85.

5. — Jersey Joe Walcott, boxing (7) 50.

6. — Otto Graham, football (7) 42.

7. Allie Reynolds, baseball (7) 38.

8. — Ray Robinson, boxing (2) 29.

9. — Bob Richards, track (6) 28.

10.—Rocky Marciano, boxing (4) 26.

Others high in the voting included: Bobby Thomson, baseball (3) 18; Ned Garver, baseball (2), 16 Hank Lauricella, football (4), 14; Preacher Roe, baseball (3), 15; Yogi Berra, baseball (2), 13; Bill McColl, football (1), 12; Johnny Bright, football (2), 12; Harry (Kid) Matthews, boxing (2) 11; Bob Waterfield, football (1), 11; Jackie Robinson, baseball (2), 10; Dick Groat, basketball (1), 10; George Mikan, basketball (2), 10; Sam Snead, golf, 10; and Ollie Matson, football - track (2), 10.

COUGARS MOVE TO KEEP COACH

Washington State May Give Evashevski Pay Boost

Pullman, Wash., Jan. 5. —(AP)— The Washington State College athletic council today recommended "substantial salary increases" for football Coach Forest Evashevski and his staff amid reports he is about to resign to take the coaching job at the University of Iowa.

The council issued a statement after a morning meeting expressing "confidence in the continuance of the present program, staff and general organization".

Earlier today the Spokane Chronicle quoted a "reliable source" as saying Evashevski, who gets $12,000 a year here, and two assistants, Bob Flora and Alton Kircher, will resign to accept an offer from Iowa.

"I have made no decision," Evashevski said when informed of the story. I am waiting to meet with the council."

Evashevski was not available for comment on the statement and it wasn't known whether he had met with the council. He said he expected to confer with the council this afternoon. The statement was issued at noon.

The young mentor has admitted other schools have contacted him but he declined to say which ones and insisted he hasn't been after any offers.

There have been published reports Evashevski is dissatisfied with the athletic setup at W. S. C. and wanted some changes as well as pay increases for himself and his staff. Evashevski said he has made no demands.

The athletic council at W. S. C. is composed of students, faculty members and alumni and formulates athletic policy subject to approval by the regents.

The statement was released by Golden Romney, dean of the W. S. C. athletic department and chairman of the council.

The Chronicle source said Evashevski was to inform Iowa officials today or Sunday whether he will leave W. S. C. Rumors have linked Evashevski with coaching jobs at both Iowa and Indiana. He is now in the second year of a five-year contract at W. S. C. his 1951 team won seven, lost three for one of the best records in W. S. C. history.

Bastrop's Cagers Split Double Bill With Farmerville

Bastrop, La., Jan. 5.—Special)—High school cagers of Bastrop and Farmerville divided a double header at Farmerville last night with the Ram quintet routing the host team, 62 to 34, after Farmerville's girls had trounced the Bastrop sextet, 55 to 20. It was the first northeast Louisiana district Class A games of the season for the two schools.

Ed Francis, with 11 points, and Benny Johnson, with ten, led the Bastrop boys to victory. Frankie Billingsley and Gloria Nubles hooped nine points each for the Bastrop girls.

The night before Coach James Perry's Bastrop boys had lost two thrillers in "A" and "B" games with Crossett, Ark., High School at Crossett. Both games went into overtime with Crossett taking the "A" game, 57-55, and the "B" game, 41-39. A. W. Reed netted 23 points for high score honors for Bastrop in the "A" scrap, while Hairston led Crossett with 22.

The Winnsboro boys and girls will be here for a Class A double header Tuesday night, and the Bastrop boys and girls will be in Monroe for a twin bill with Neville January 15.

2 Hurlers Reach Terms With New York Giants

Nw York, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Signed contracts for 1952 of Pitchers George Spencer and Roger Bowman were received by the New York Gients today.Spencer, former Ohio State quarterback, won 10 and lost four last year as the National League champions' ace reliefer.

Bowman, one of six southpaws on the Giant roster, won five and lost two while with Minneapolis last summer.

TRAFFIC SLOWED FOR PREP GAMES

Tighten Substitution Rules For Next Season

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Traffic on high school football fields won't be quite so terrific next fall as result of two among seven rule changes voted today by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.

The group's football committee revised the prep code so that a substitute must remain in a game and the replaced player stay out for at least one play, and opened the way for more penalties against roaming from the bench.

Other changes affected the type of football to be used, the fair catch, punted balls and choice of options.

The one-play proviso for substitutes will eliminate a practice by some coaches of yanking, "briefing" and sending back a key player within the 25 seconds allowed between plays. During time outs, it even was possible to pull out five or six players for a strategy huddle with the coach and move them back in the game before a new play was run.

Previously, the penalty for leaving the coaches' box (bench area, six yards off the field and between the 30-yard lines) was 15 yards. This was so severe that violations seldom were called. The penalty next season will be only five yards. This is expected to put a crimp into dashing to the edge of the field by over-enthusiastic coaches and players.

The committee approved official use of a rubber football if agreed by a conference or opposing coaches. It also recommended that for night football only one stripe may be used on each end of the ball. Some coaches used footballs with two or three stripes at each end, causing optical illusions on wobbly kicks.

Beginning in 1953, the two-tripe ball will be mandatory and this must be tan with white stripes, except where both coaches agree to use the more costly white or yellow painted ball.

Next season, a team captain will not be able to change his choice of an option, once given to an official.

Another change establishes a fair catch try on any fair catch signal by a kick receiver or any of his team-mates. Previously, only the catcher gave the signal, but often a nearby team-mate fooled tacklers by giving the signal. However, the new rule invokes a penalty only when the tackling team has reasonable opportunity to see the signal.

Also changed was the rule permitting a receiving team to take possession at the spot a kicking team may have touched the ball. This right now will be cancelled if the receiving team tries to run and thereafter commits a foul.

The committee urged closer enforcement of clipping violations near the scrimmage line area when blocking from behind does not occur in "close line play."

A proposal to allow a kicking team to advance a muffed punt, instead of merely gaining possession, was defeated. So was an effort to have the clock start with the snap of the ball instead of an official's signal.

M'Dermott First To Ink 1952 Red Sox Contract

Boston, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Maury McDermott, 24 - year - old southpaw pitcher, today became the first Boston Red Sox player to sign a 1952 contract.

McDermott was the American League's ninth - ranking hurler last season. He appeared in 34 games, mostly in relief, and compiled an 8 - 8 record and a 3.35 earned run average. He totaled 127 strikeouts against 92 bases on balls.

Purdue Relays Stricken From Spring Track Card

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 5. —(AP)— The Purdue Relays, windup event of the collegiate indoor track season the last nine years, will not be held this year.

Dave Rankin, Purdue track coach, said today the event is being "dropped for this year" because of "the general trend to avoid prolonging sports seasons and the impossibility of obtaining a date until late in March."

FLORIDA READY TO WELCOME 10 MAJOR OUTFITS

Six Other Big League Clubs Aim For West

Miami, Fla., Jan. 5. —(AP)—Spring will come early to Florida this year.

Within six weeks hundreds of athletics will begin unlimbering muscles and sharpening batting eyes in the Florida sunshine, getting in shape for the annual baseball campaign that starts in April and ends with the World Series in October.

It will be the earliest start of spring training in the history of the national pastime.

A couple of years ago major league teams did not start spring training until March 1, but athletes found that didn't give them enough time to get in shape, so the rule was lifted.

This year the St. Louis Browns begin their training on Feb. 1 earliest date on record.

By the middle of the month, ten teams will be working out in Florida, three in Arizona and three in California. Training will be well under way by Washington's birthday and the first exhibition games are scheduled for March 8.

As the majors begin dropping players, the minors move in and start spring training, with the lower classifications organizing their teams in March. By mid - April all the teams are set.

The world's champion New York Yankees are returning to St. Petersburg after one season at Phoeniz, Ariz. The Giants, who trained at St. Petersburg last year, will resume their workouts at Phoenix.

Three American league teams will train in the west — the Chicago White Sox at El Centro and Pasadena, Calif., the Cleveland Indians at Tucson, Ariz., and the St. Louis Browns at Burbank, Calif.

In the American League, the Boston Red Sox return to Saratosa, the Detroit Tigers to Lakeland, Philadelphia's Athletics to West Palm Beach and Washington's Senators to Orlando.

For the Nationals, the Boston Braves will be at Brandenton; Brooklyn will train at Vero Beach from Feb. 17 to March 2, then move into Miami for exhibition games and to wind up the Dodgers' Florida stay.

Cincinnati goes back to Tampa, Philadelphia's Phillies to Clearwater and the St. Louis Cardinals to St. Petersburg.

The Chicago Cubs will work out at Mesa, Ariz., the New York Giants at Phoenix, and the Pittsburgh Pirates at San Bernardino, Calif.

A score or more of minor league teams, ranging all the way to Class C and D, will train in Florida again this spring.

Team secretaries say spring training costs will be about 30 per cent higher this season, based on increased hotel rates, rising food costs and increased travel expenses.

EARLIER START

Cleveland, Jan. 5. —(AP)— The 29 home night games of the Cleveland Indians will start at 8:15 p. m. this year instead of 8:30. Tribe business Manager Hank Greenberg said the change was made to accommodate fans who have complained they get home too late after night games.

NORTH ALL-STARS WIN SENIOR BOWL, 20 TO 6

MICHIGAN STATE' STAR AL DAROW, SPARKS TRIUMPH

South Loses First Time In Play - For - Pay Game

By Sterling Slappey

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 5. —(AP)— Al Dorow, a passing master from Michigan State, ran 87 yards with an intercepted pass for one touchdown and passed for another to lead the North to a 20-6 victory over the South in the Senior Bowl football game here today.

Until Dorow intercepted a pass tossed by Vanderbilt's Bill Wade in the third quarter, victory in this final college football bowl game could have gone to either side. But Dorow's touchdown run - back put the South too far behind to catch up.

The crowd of 20,236 fans — most of them rabid rebels — got a bit of pleasure late in the game when Kentucky's Babe Parilli finally began hitting with his throws.

Parilli and South Carolina's Steve Wadiak worked the ball to the Yankee goal and Wakiak made the crossing on a three-yeard trip over left guard.

The victory was the first for a North squad in this three-year-old competition between senior college stars from every section of the country.

Members of the Yankee team, which included numerous Southerners to help equalize the two squads, became professionals immediately after the game when they accepted $500 each as their share of proceeds.

The game, a financial failure in previous years played in Jacksonville, Fla., and Mobile, was considered a success today.

Neither Southern passer — Wade or Parilli — gained as they were expected to. But neither did Fred Benners of Southern Methodist, a North team member.

Dorow's 87-yard interception run made the score 13-0 for the Northerners and from then on there was little doubt that the Yanks would win. But then Parilli and Wadiak partially got the Rebels back in the game and Dorow was called on to wrap it up once and all for his invading friends.

Soon after the final quarter opened Dorow, North Qquarterback John Coatta of Wisconsin, Bill Reichardt of Iowa and Frank Gifford of Southern California got the North to moving again. A Dorow-to-Gifford touchdown pass for three yards capped off the push after a 67-yard downfield drive.

Oklahoma's Jim Weatherall converted twice.

Wade's misfired pass got the second half off in wild style and Parilli and Wadiak kept the festivities going. Wadiak's touchdown ended a 65-yard drive in 11 plays, most of them Parilli passes.

The South's resurgency soon died and Dorow's pass to Gifford followed for the final North score. The play came on a fake draw play executed to perfection by Modzelewski.

The South went for the Mighty Mo while Gifford went for the touchdown.

Burke, Barnum Share Halfway Lead In L. A. Open Golf

DEMONS' ACE DIVER, JACK GASTON, is shown here set for a back dive on Northwestern State College's natatorium board. Gaston, from Natchitoches, a senior majoring in health and physical education, has been constantly among the top divers in this area during his swimming days at N. S. C. In the first meet of the season with the New Orleans Y. M. C. A. tankmen, Gaston won first place in fancy diving.

PAR, HOLDOUTS INJURIES LEAVE MARK ON EVENT

Harrison, Borsch, Runyan One Stroke Off With 145s

By Bob Myers

Los Angeles, Jan. 5. —(AP)— The 17,500 Los Angeles Open golf show reached the midway mark late today with Jack Burke, Jr., of Texas and John Barnum of Michigan sitting on top of a field of rivals hard hit by illness, injury, hold outs and old man par.

They were tied with a 36-hole total of 144, and for the first time in many a year in this rich event, not a soul in the tournament had been able to finish this distance with a sub par performance.

The contestants, some old and weary from many years on the tournament trail, and some new and fresh for the fray, blamed everything for the high scores, ranging from the slow devil grass of the fairways to exceptionally fast greens and the new stroke and distance out of bounds rule.

Whatever the cause, Burke, of Houston, required 75 strokes to get around the Riviera Country Club's

And Barnum, from Grand Rapids and formerly a top amateur around Chicago, took a 74 to accompany his 70 in the first round. At 144, both were two strokes over par for the 6 holes.

One slender stroke berind the two leaders were three contenders, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill., 72-73; Al Borsch, Garden City, N. Y., 70-75, and Paul Runyan, Pasadena, Calif., 71-74, all tied at 145. Runyan, after a 41 on the first nine, blazed back with a 33 for the par 35-36 test.

Bunched in the 146 bracket were Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, 74-72; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., 72-74, and Willie Hunter, Sr., 59-year-old Riviera home pro, 75-71.

Only Burke, Borsch and Barnum were able to master par yesterday.

The casualty list, meanwhile, added another name today when Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, who lost by one stroke a year ago to Lloyd Mangrum, quit because of a flu attack. He joined Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, who picked up yesterday because of a sprained, swollen right wrist, and Lawson Little who never got started because of a strep throat.

The casualties in a sence, not counting the stay - at - homes Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, might also include Mangrum. The handsome Chicago pro drifted back in the field with a 78 today for 151.

And while such tournament name players as Jimmy Demaret (152), Lew Worsham (159); Johnny Revolta (153) and others were relaxing far from the spotlight, some of the newer pros were still in contention going into the third round tomorrow.

Jerry Barber, Pasadena, unsung hero of the 1950 tournament when his 10-stroke lead over Hogan, Snead and company was washed out by a heavy rain, posted a 74 for a 147.

Tied with Barber at 147 were Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C.; Jackson Bradley, Chicago, and Ralph Blomquist of nearby Glendale.

The leaders:

Jack Burke, Houston, Tex., 69-75—144.

John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., 70-74—144.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill., 72-73—145.

Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, 74-72—146.

Jerry Barber, Pasadena, 73-74—147.

Jackson Bradley, Chicago, 74-73—147.

Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C., 73-74—147.

Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif. 73-74—147.

Gene Webb, St. Louis, 73-75—148.

Smiley Quick, Los Angeles, 76-72—148.

John Finney, Santa Monica, Calif. 76-72—148.

Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif., 73-75—148.

Bill Nary, Los Angeles, 73-76—149.

Chuck Klein, San Antonio, Tex., 73-73—149.

21 Teams To Appear In 3rd Annual Ouachita Invitational Cage Tourney

Defending Champs Back For Meet Here This Week

The belated addition of the Start High School boys brought the entry list to 21 teams for the third annual Ouachita Parish High School Invitational Basketball Tournament which will be held here next Friday and Saturday. Start just squeezed in ahead of the closing deadline Friday.

Ouachita Coach Herbert Holliman last night announced pairings will be drawn up today and copies will be placed in the mails tomorrow for all contending teams.

The tournament is all set to go with 15 boys' teams competing and six girls' clubs fighting it out.

All teams that took titles in a sectionalized tournament will be back this year. Last year the Ouachita meet was conducted in two sections for both boys and girls with A-AA schools lined up in separate sections from Class B and C schools. Scoring championship wins in the higher classification were the Winnsboro boys and Ouachita girls. The Baskin girls, who the year before had swept through all competition in a single section for girls, repeated last year in the B-C division, while the Choudrant boys were crowned champs in the same class.

The entries this year are:

Boys — Baskin, Collinston, St. Matthew's of Monroe, St. Paschal's of West Monroe, Grayson, LaSalle of Olla, Ogden, Calhoun, Choudrant, Louisiana Training Institute of Monroe, Rayville, Ruston, Winnsboro, Ouachita, and Start.

Girls — Baskin, Collinston, Rayville, St. Matthew's, St. Paschal's, and Ouachita.

Salem, Oregon's capital city, is the only major city in the state which lies in two counties, namely Marion and Polk, separated by the Willametts river.

ARKANSAS GRID MENU GIVEN

Ole Miss, Houston New Additions To Slate

Fayetteville, Ark., Jan. 5. —(AP)— The University of Arkansas' 1952 football schedule, released tonight, lists two changes in opponents from last year's slate.

The Porkers, who finished the 1951 season with a 5-5 record, this year will play the University of Houston (Tex.) here Sept. 27, and the University of Mississippi in Little Rock Oct. 25.

Houston replaces Arizona State of Tempe, and Ole Miss takes the place of Santa Clara University.

Arkansas will open the season Sept. 20 against Oklahoma A. and M., at Little Roch, and close against the University of Tulsa at Tulsa on Nov. 22.

The schedule:

Sept. 20 — Oklahoma A.&M. at Little Rock (night).

Sept. 27 — Houston at Fayetteville.

Oct. 4. — Texas Christian at Ft. Worth (night).

Oct. 11 — Baylor at Little Rock.

Oct. 18 — Texas at Austin.

Oct. 25 — Ole Miss at Little Rock.

Nov. 1 — Texas A. & M. at College Station, Tex. (night).

Nov. 8 —Rice at Fayetteville (Dad's Day).

Nov. 15 — Southern Methodist at Fayetteville (homecoming).

Nov. 22 — Tulsa at Tulsa.

White Hose Sign 3 More Players

Chicago, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Three additional members of the Chicago White Sox today signed 1952 contracts bringing the number of signed players to fifteen. There are 38 players on the roster.

Those signing today were Pitcher Floyd Penfold, a reported 40,000 bonus star formerly of South Gate, Calif., High School; Pitcher Lou Kretlow, and Warren "Ed" McGhee, an outfielder, who, last season, played with three clubs. He finished with Seattle, Wash., with a .300 batting average for 38 games.

Penfold, a towering right hander six feet, four inches tall, played with Waterloo, Ia., a White Sox farm, last season. He won eleven games against twelve defeats and had an earned run average of a Kretlow was either very good or sadly ineffective in compiling a 6-9 record last season. However, Manager Paul Richards, familiar with Kretlow's pitching ability from the days when both were with the Detroit Tigers, is convinced Kretlow will become an outstanding pitcher in 1952.

You don't have to truss a duck, as you do a chicken, when you're roasting the former because the legs are short and the wings lie close to the body.

Happy Go Lucky Leads All Way

Happy Go Lucky made the six furlongs in 1.12 2-5.

He led all the way and was a length and a third ahead of Our Challenge at the finish. Our Challenge, owned by Pollard and Hankins, was ridden by G. Glassman.

Third was Mediant, owned by the Claiborne farms and ridden by Willie Owens.

Happy Go Lucky paid $2.60, $2.20 and $2.20; Our Challenge $3.20 and $2.40, and Mediant, $4.60.

3-STROKE MARGIN FOR MISS SUGGS

Mrs. Zaharias Four Blows Away At Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 5. —(AP)— Louise Suggs, who hasn't won a major golf tournament in a year, shot her second straight sub - par score today to grab a long lead in the Jacksonville Women's Open.

Miss Suggs, smooth swinger from Carrollton, Ga., scored 37-38—75 to go with her opening round 73 for 148. She was four under par for the 36 holes over the 6,282-yard Brentwood Municipal course.

With only Sunday's 18 - hole round left to play, she was three strokes in front of the field.

Mary Lena Faulk, tall Thomasville, Ga., amateur who has come into prominence only in the past year, was second to Miss Suggs two-thirds of the way through the tourney. She had a shaky start today but came back strongly for 40-37—77 over the par 37-39—76 links for a total of 151.

Betty Jameson, tall Texan from San Antonio, shot the day's best round at 39-35—74 to go into a third-place tie with Babe Zaharias, Tampa veteran who still is scrambling for her scores. Mrs. Zaharias had 78 today. She and Miss Jameson had 152 for the 36 holes.

Betsy Rawls, National Open champion from Austin, Tex., who shared the first day lead with Miss Suggs, skied to 80 and a two-day total of 153.

Except for the last two holes, Msis Suggs would have matched her three - under par opening round. She was seldom in trouble, but she showed signs of tiring at the end and went over par a stroke on each of the last two.

Behind the five leaders came Marlene Bauer, the baby of the golf tour at 17, with 155. The younger of the sisters, playing from Sarasota, Fla., was the only one below par on the front nine at 36, capped with 40 for 76, three strokes better than her opening round.

Kathy McKinnon, Florida Southern College student from Lake Worth, Fla., was second to Miss Faulk among the amateurs. Miss McKinnon, surprise of the tourney, shot her second straight 78 for 156.

TULANE SWARMS OVER ENGINEERS

Atlanta, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Lanky Don Holt bagged 29 points tonight to lead the Tulane Greenies to a 73-58 Southeastern Conference basketball victory over Georgia Tech.

Topping Tech's sharpshooters was Pete Silas, a six-foot, five-inch junior forward. Silas netted 24 points.

Holt, a six-foot, six-inch center for Tulane, sank 13 field goals, most of them were neat pivot and hook shots at the expense of Tech Center Bill Cline, equally tall.

RUSSIA ACCEPTS SPOT IN SUMMER OLYMPIC GAMES

Formally Entered After Dodging Winter Program

Helsinki, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Russia formally announced today it would participate in the summer Olympic games here July 19-Aug. 3 but remained silent about the winter games at Oslo Feb. 14-25.

The summer games thus will bring the first major test in the world of sports between the Russians, who are reputed to have some first class athletes and have claimed scores of world records, and the United States, traditionally the strongest in the Olympic games.

Meanwhile, preparations for the winter games at Oslo Feb. 14-25 went ahead as scheduled. American skiers got in their first day of practice down the noted Kandahar run at Muerren, Switzerland, and their trainer, Emile Allais, pronounced the results as "satisfactory."

The Russians did, however, announce today that they would have a team in the summer Olympics at Helsinki July 19-Aug. 3.

In Oslo, there is, at long last, a promise of snow after weeks of mild, wet weather that had the Olympic winter games committee in a dither.

The deadline for entering the winter games was New Year's eve and the Russians let this pass without making application. Norwegians believe the caliber of Russian winter sports athletes is not up to Olympic standard, and rather than make a poor showing, the Soviets will stay on the sidelines.

Russia's formal decision to compete in the summer games was conveyed in a cable from the Soviet Olympic committee chairman, K. Andreanov, to Baron Erik Von Francknell, chairman of the Olympic Finnish committee. The Soviet entry increased the number of countries participating in the summer games to 54.

The Russians are known to be strong in many of the Olympic summer sports, such as track and field for both men and women, wrestling and boxing, swimming, and soccer.

It has been rumored that the Russians will not share the elaborate olympic village for athletes being built at Helsinki. Instead, it is said, they will house their athletes at Leningrad, 300 air miles from Helsinki, and fly them in daily, or else directly across the Gulf of Finland, only 50 miles away.

Thirty nations with 1,200 athletes have entered the winter games, making them the biggest ever even without Russian participation.

Walter Fyri of the winter Olympic press office said no word had been received from the Russians, and that in spite of the fact they are planning to compete in the summer games at Helsinki, Fyri doubted very much that the Russians would attempt to make a belated entry at Oslo.

Nine Boys Enter Ping Pong Meet

A ping pong tournament will be held Saturday, January 19, at the Monroe Recreation Center, Jack Hesketh, director, has announced.

Everyone — boys and girls, regardless of age—is invited to compete in the tournament. Prizes will be given to the winners in each age group, Hesketh said.

Entries in the tournament will be taken until the day before the event, when the brackets giving pairings of opponents will be drawn up. Persons interested in entering the tournament may sign up at the Monroe Recreation Center on Catalpa street.

Nine boys have already entered the tournament, Hesketh said yesterday, and listed them as John Lacy, Joe Lacara, Gene Barham, Henry Filocha, Joe Bruscato, Vincent Danna, Ed Bufkin, R. F. Graves, and Billy Gene Smith.

N.C.A.A. Faces Momentous Week End With Touchy College Grid Headaches

Subsidization, Spring Training, TV Woes Head Card

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association, which almost split apart a year ago over the controversial "sanity code" issue, will make a new effort to establish itself as a powerful legislative body next week.

Meeting at Cincinnati Jan. 10.-12 for its 46th annual convention, the association will consider legislation which, if passed, will transform it from a loose supervisory group into an organization with power to impose and enforce strict controls over athletic practices, ranging from the recruiting and subsidizing of athletes to the televising of football games.

It was this issue which came close to breaking up the N. C. A. A. a year ago before the sanity code was discarded. The provisions of the code itself, incorporating many features which proved objectionable to many of the 300-odd N. C. A. A. members, was one factor. So was the fact that the "Sinful Seven," first cited for non-compliance with the code, were institutions which felt they were being victimized for their honesty on answering questions about their practices.

But mainly it was a question of whether the N. C. A. A. should assume broad legislative powers or should continue as a body whose principal functions were establishing rules of play and conducting championships.

This year, when college athletics in general have been under fire from various sources and when a committee of college presidents representing the National Council on Education has criticized the N. C. A. A. for failing to establish controls, a new effort will be made to strengthen the organization.

This will be made through a series of constitutional amendments and resolutions based on a twelve-point plan drawn up last summer by the N. C. A. A. council. In passing, certain restrictions on financial aid and academic practices will be included. The touchy problem of controls on the "live" television of football games also will come in for considerable discussion after a committee reports on the results of a year-long study of controlled television.

All these things will be considered in the business session Saturday, Jan. 12, after a week of preliminary discussions and meetings of Allied bodies.

Prior to the N. C. A. A. convention, the American Association of College Baseball Coaches, the American College Football Coaches Association and the sports division of the American College Public Relations Association will meet separately. The N. C. A. A. executive committee and council will meet to formulate plans and to attempt to reconcile various warring factions within the organization and the N. C. A. A. television committee will draw up its report and recommendations based on the study of this year's program.

The contents of the television report probably won't be known until the last minute, but one group, led by the University of Pennsylvania, will attempt to have all restrictions on football television removed. There are indications, too, that the small college group will favor even closer supervision of television. The Eastern College Athletic Conference and the Big Ten already have gone on record as favoring supervision and further experiments. These two represent the regions which were first to feel the impact of TV on football attendance.

The proposal to abolish football "bowl" games, strongly recommended by the N. C. E. presidents committee, probably won't come up for consideration except for a resolution calling for further study of all post-season contests and requesting that members make no commitments for such games beyond Jan. 2, 1953.

Two influential groups, the E. C. A. C. and Big Seven, already have ruled out bowls and the Big Seven included all post-season competition. The Southern Conference presidents forbade acceptance of bowl invitations at the end of the past season and severely disciplined Maryland and Clemson for violating the ban. But other equally important conferences strongly favor bowl games.

Out-of - season practice, notably spring football which has been denounced as a cause of undue "pressure," will be considered through alternate proposals, one eliminating such practice entirely and the other limiting it to 20 sessions. The latter seems most likely to pass.

KENTUCKY RALLY CHECKS BENGALS

L. S. U. Threatens Upset But Loses, 57-47

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Billy Evans, a sophomore fireball, pulled a hapless Kentucky basketball team together for a last half drive that produced a harder than expected 57-47 victory over Louisiana State University tonight.

L. S. U., stressing ball control and a pair of oversized men in a double pivot offense, had Kentucky on the ropes by 11 points before the half. It looked like the flat Kentuckians were due to lose their first home start in 103 games—nine years and three days of sugar.

Bob Pettit, a six-foot-nine sophomore, who had the nation's second best scoring average, fired the early L. S. U. assault that had Kentucky shaky and getting only one shot at a time.

Shady Wall Outlines Points In Drive For Re - Election

Representative Shady Wall, who has been prevented from actively campaigning for reelection because of a bout with influenza, began this week end what he termed a "vigorous campaign from here on out."

In a statement to the Morning World, Wall asserted that he is campaigning for reelection on "my record of fair and impartial services as your representative in the legislature for the past four years." He cited his part in the establishment of a four-year school at Monroe, Northeast Louisiana State College, and promised his constituents to work for an expansion and improvement in the college. During the session of the legislature, Representative Wall handled the bill changing the local school from a two-year junior college to its present status and was given much credit for its acceptance in the house of representatives.

"I consider that the member of the legislature should at all times represent all of the people and not represent just a few politicians that work to put deadheads on the payroll or politicians that want to do business with the state on a non-competitive basis," Representative Wall said, adding: ". . . That is the kind of representative I have been in the last four years."

Wall outlined four other points in his work in Baton Rouge during the past regular and special sessions of the legislature. These were:

1. Civil service. The local representative went on record for wholeheartedly working for and voting to retain civil service for all state employes even though it was repealed by a majority of the legislature. "I shall co-author a bill to reestablish a good civil service for state employes so that the people of this state can be assured of getting able employes in the state government, and at the same time give the employes security in their jobs," he said.

2. The 2-cents additional gasoline tax. Wall voted against the increase in gasoline tax and even co-authored a bill in the special session of 1950 to repel the tax. When reelected, he has promised to sponsor legislation to reduce this "unnecessary tax on gasoline."

3. Old age assistance. "I thoroughly approved of the old age assistance and voted for the bill when it came up for passage," Wall said. "I am in complete agreement with others that aid should and must be given to those elderly persons who otherwise would be a burden, although seldom referred to in this manner, on others."

4. Economy and efficiency in government. "During the entire time in the legislature, I have worked and fought for more economy and efficiency in government and shall continue this fight when reelected.

MISS JUANITA PORTER

MISS PORTER IS S. A. CHAIRMAN

'Woman Of Year' Named To Head Board Of Local Organization

The Salvation Army advisory board met in the Rendezvous for a dinner meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. Curtis J. Nichols, chairman, presided. A fine meal was served and there were short talks made by members. In the election of officers, Miss Juanita Porter was named chairman for the coming year, which was a high honor for this retired local educator and prominent clubwoman, who recently was named "Woman of the Year," a most outstanding honor, last November.

Besides the election of Miss Porter as chairman, S. K. Heninger was elected vice-chairman and Rolleigh Poulos was named secretary.

New members of the board besides Miss Porter are C. K. Crandall, F. N. Steel, Dr. J. W. Cummins, A. J. (Dusty) Rhodes, and John Birdsong (re-elected).

Members whose terms had expired are D. L. Agnew, Sr., A. B. Jackson, John McKee, John Birdsong and Curtis Nichols.

Following her election as chairman, Miss Porter responded in gracious manner but stated that this new work presents a challenge, but that her heart is in this work and that she will give much time and thought to the Salvation Army. She said that it has done a good work here among people unreached by other groups and that in the future she hopes that it will go ahead to still higher usefulness in the community.

In an adjacent tent, Allied and Communist negotiators discussing truce supervision called each other "bandits" and angrily went over a wide field — including the history of American - Chinese relations.

The Reds remained unshaken in their insistence that they be permitted to build and repair airfields in North Korea during an armistice. The Allies dared the Communists to try to build them now, while hostilities are going on.

The arguments on air bases drifted far afield and produced a statement by Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, chief Allied subdelegate, that the Allies "hold great hopes for the resurgence of the freedom - loving, peace-loving China we have known not long ago."

Turner told Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang:

"We Americans think highly of the people of China. We have seen the color of their blood spilled alongside us in battle . . . Many Americans have died in defense of China.

"You cannot be of such short memory. . .as to have forgotten the many ways in which the American people have assisted the people of China in war, in famine, in disaster and in plague."

Hsieh replied that ". . .You know full well you do not represent the American people." Hsieh added that statements made in the tent by the Allies were slandering and insulting the American people." He charged the Allies with aggression.

Turner looked at Hsieh and said coldly:

"Well, I'll tell you something, General Hsieh, the U. N. command did not come to Korea to surrender. The U. N. command came to Korea to frustrate an attempted frocible seizure of the Republic of Korea by your forces.

"The U. N. command has done just that. Having done so, we have no intention of walking away under a threat of your development of air power during an armistice, leaving the Republic of Korea to your tender mercies."

Turner asserted Hsieh had cast himself "in the role of a bandit." The Chinese fumed in reply "You have fully exposed your ugly ferocious features of bandit."

CONGRESS GOING BACK IN SESSION

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

Washington, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Congress reconvenes Tuesday with tough key decisions ahead on defense spending, foreign policy, universal military training, economic controls at home, and how to help rout wrongdoers out of government.

The returning lawmakers also are set to touch off or resume perhaps a record number of congressional investigations. They will deal among other things with charges of Communist infiltration, graft and corruption in and out of Washington, and irregularities in the income tax system.

And running all through this second session of the 82nd congress there will be plenty of political sniping, for it's a presidential and a congressional election year.

President Truman will go before a joint session of congress Wednesday to deliver his state of the union message, outlining his legislative program in general terms. Separate economic and budget messages will go to the capitol later in the month.

The state of the union document can be expected to place major emphasis on continuing to bolster America and friendly nations abroad against the threat of Communist aggression.

The president also undoubtedly will call anew for enactment of his domestic "fair deal" program, including such controversial features as civil rights, compulsory health insurance, and revision or repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law. Congress repeatedly has shelved those programs and isn't likely to have a change of heart at the new session. A year ago Mr. Truman said much desirable domestic legislation would have to be moved aside for a time because of international tensions.

With the presidential nominating conventions of both major parties scheduled in July, Congressional leaders will be striving for adjournment by the end of June. Any unfinished major business might require a session in the fall.

The knotty problem of appropriation will begin to get attention as soon as the lawmakers receive Mr. Truman's budget, which reportedly will call for something in the neighborhood of 83 billion dollars for the fiscal year starting July 1. A year ago the president asked for about 71½ billions and congress at the last sessian actually authorized a total of about 90 billions in spending, some of it during the years ahead.

This year, as in 1951, the biggest part of the budget will be earmarked for defense at home and abroad. There has been talk the new request will be for more than 50 billion dollars.

The military and economic foreign aid program voted last year totaled $7,480,000, most of it military and the bulk of it for building North Atlantic defense forces in Europe under General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The administration reportedly will ask for another big chunk of military aid this year. On the economic side, the Marshall plan has been scheduled for completion in 1952 but there may be a request for continuance of such aid in some form.

The spending program in prospect is regarded as likely to bring an appeal from Mr. Truman for another tax increase, but key congress members are taking a dim view of that. Chairman George (D.-Ga.) of the senate finance committee for example, has said he won't sponsor another tax boost measure except in the event of all-out war or something closer to it than the Korean situation.

Congress approved a $5,700,000,000 tax hike late last year. That was $4,300,000,000 less than the president wanted. This year, with a deficit up to 12 billion dollars forecast in some quarters, he may ask for at least 5 billions more in new taxes.

Besides the issue of aid for nations abroad, foreign policy matters which will occupy the lawmakers include the Japanese peace treaty, which requires senate approval to go into effect, and the stormy question of whether this country should send an ambassador to the Vatican.

Mr. Truman reportedly plans to renew his nomination of General Mark Clark for that assignment. The appointment went to the senate on the last day of the session, too late for consideration, but it touched off a blast of protest from from some non-Catholic religious groups.

Hungary Raps U. S., Claims Violations

Budapest, Hungary, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Hungary accused the United States today of "rude and open violation of their obligations." She called the recent closing of the Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland "an arbitrary act."

The carges were made in a note sent to the Hungarian legation in Washington for delivery to the U. S. state department today. The text was released here by the foreign ministry.

The United States ordered the closing of the two Hungarian consulates in retaliation for the imprisonment of four American airmen, accused of intentionally violating Hungary's borders, were fined a total of $120,000. American diplomats were not permitted to see them. The U. S. government paid the fines to get the men released.

The Hungarian note branded U. S. Secretary of State Acheson's explanation of the retaliatory step as an "entirely unfounded fabrication." It added:

"International agreements guarantee the right of consular officials to make representations in the interests of the citizens of their respective countries. But international law does not know about a regulation which would oblige a sovereign country to permit free intercourse between United States legation officials and American military persons detained by a military court and accused of the forbidden crossing of the border."

Acheson announced Dec. 28 the United States had told Hungary to close her only two consulates in the United States immediately. The consulates, closed previously, had been reopened last summer as a condition for the release of Robert A. Vogeler, American businessman who spent 17 months in a Hungarian prison.

The Hungarian note said the American explanation of the closing was just a "transparent pretext" which enables the U. S. to "break their promise." It called Vogeler a "colonel" and an important spy of the United States."

The note also repeated former Hungarian charges that the United States had failed to comply with the "Vogeler agreement" concerning the return of Hungarian property in West Germany. It reiterated the Hungarian claim that the verdict of the military court which fined the American fliers was both "correct and just." As proof of this, it declared that the fliers had "acquiesced and the Budapest legation of the United States quickly paid the fine."

(One of the American fliers told a news conference in Germany after the release of the fliers that he had tried to persuade the attorney furnished by the Hungarian government to put up some sort of defense against the charges, but said the attorney did not seem to grasp the idea.)

end of the road, and having — through your vast strength — brought peace and hope and salvation on earth to struggling mankind."

Churchill recalled his wartime visits here to confer with the late President Roosevelt and his "many and ancient connections" in the United States. He added:

"I look forward very much indeed to renewing the comradeship and friendship which grew up during the struggles of the war, and I am very glad indeed to see your president again, when I am able once again to pay my respects in an official capacity."

Mr. Truman declared "I can't tell you when I have had more pleasure than I have this morning in welcoming you as a visitor to the United States of America."

He expressed the hope that Churchill would enjoy the visit and that it will be "a satisfactory one," then went on:

"Great Britain and the Commonwealths and the United States are the closest of friends and you and I want to keep it that way, and I am sure that we will succeed in doing that."

When Churchill had responded Mr. Truman added the remark that "Peace on earth is what we are both striving for."

The British prime minister had reached New York only a few hours earlier aboard the liner Queen Mary. There he stopped en route from the ship to the airport to hold a brief news conference in which he made these points:

1. "The prospects for world peace are solid in 1952."

2. Regarding the threat of a Russian war, "I don't think there is any greater danger now than at the time of the Berlin airlift provided we take prudent measures."

3. In response to a question whether he saw any advantage in a meeting between President Truman and Generalissimo Stalin of Russia, he said: "It all depends on the setting and the events leading up to it."

"Of course," he added, "It would be very satisfactory if we could get a settlement of the many common difficulties that confront us."

LONG SPEAKS TO

"Do you want a Sam Jones, Jimmie Davis, Times - Picayune, Shreveport Times, do - nothing government, or do you want a government that helps the people!"

"Spaht's record in this state is a good one," said Long. "He is one of the few men in the state who can satisfy both capital and labor."

From endorsement of Spaht, Long switched the talk abruptly again to pounce on Hale Boggs and Russell Long. "Russell is a sweet little boy who went up too fast," said Long. "He was elected to office through the help of friends of Huey P. Long and his old, sick Uncle Earl, but after he was elected and he showed his true colors these same people wouldn't spit on him."

"During the four years I have been in office," Long continued, "this same sweet Russell, whom I helped to get elected to the office of senator, has gone around the state saying things about his old Uncle Earl. Bill Dodd has had a knife in my back since the day I entered office, and Dudley J. LeBlanc has been pouring Hadacol on my head and trying to pour it down my throat."

"Four months ago," Long said, "Russell and Dodd were going around telling everybody that I was the best thing that ever happened to Louisiana. Dodd poured it on so thick that I had to make him tone it down because everybody was getting sick of me."

"Have you heard what the same people now say about me — just four months later? Well, I'm the same man now as I was four months ago."

Long next outlined his old age pension program in comparison with the pensions in Texas and the national average of payments of old age pensions.

"In Texas," Long said, "which is one of the richest states in the union their old age pensions are only between $17 and $25 but ours —while paying a larger percentage —are $45 to $50."

"The national average of old age pensions is $22," he went on "and ours are double that."

"I don't want to get up here and tell you that you can have these things without taxes," he continued, "because you can't."

"But to raise old age pensions to the amount set by other candidates you would be paying taxes on your house, your goats, your beds and your bedbugs," he concluded.

Other speakers at the meeting included John McKeithen, candidate for lieutenant - governor on the Spaht ticket; Mary Evelyn Dickerson, candidate for Register of the Land Office, and James Weldon.

reflection on the members, since none of them have been asked to increase their support of the Chamber previously. In other instances the committee found gross inequities in the support given the Chamber by businesses of comparable size.

Beginning immediately, nearly every member will be asked to increase his support of the Chamber. Some of the smaller businesses will be asked for a minmum increase, while others will be requested to make sizable increases in their dues. A few of the members, who have been giving proportionately much more than the others, will not be asked for any increase, since their subscription is on a par with what is being asked of others.

"The members of the committee," Pearce added, "in appraising every membership account, from the smallest to the largest, were very fair and impartial. In each instance the committee members rated their own firms for substantial increases. If every Chamber member would agree to the increase requested of him, no one member will be paying proportionatly more than his counterpart in business or professional life. Although we still shall not reach the $1 per capital for the Twin Cities, which many Chambers throughout our area are doing, we shall realize an increase to the Chamber's income sufficient to enable us to expand the size of the staff and to expand substantially the scope of its work."

Pearce stated that the committee and the Chamber directors plan to follow up with personal calls on those members who fail to respond to the letters which will go out during the week. He added that he hopes a large number of the members will respond voluntarily, so that the man-hours otherwise spent on personal calls can be devoted to a constructive program which will benefit the entire community.

Tonight's crash marked the first time two U. S. planes have collided in Britain with serious loss of life in seven years. In August, 1944, two bombers collided in the air near Hitchin. Fourteen American airmen were killed. A bomb from one of the planes crashed through the roof of a nearby bungalow. It did not explode, but killed a woman and an 18 - month - old baby.

The Neptune is the same type of plane which established the U. S. navy's non - stop flying record. In 1946 a current model of this plane flew from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio, a distance of 11,236 miles.

New York

New York, Jan. 5. —(AP)— Cotton futures were firm today, continuing an advance which was started on Friday. Trade buying and replacement of sold out lines encountered limited offerings until late in the session when profit taking caused a partial setback. The demand continued to be stimulated by prospects for a tightening in the statistical supply position as a result of heavy exports. The trade paid considerable attention to reports from the south that many farmers were not expected to put in as large cotton acreage as last year.

Futures closed $2.05 to $2.70 a bale higher than the previous close.

New Orleans

New Orleans, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures advanced here today on trade buying and short covering. Closing prices were firm $2.20 to $2.60 a bale higher.

Trading was active in the short Saturday session. Much of the demand seemed induced by reports that many growers were considering reducing acreage in 1952, and expectations of a better demand for textiles shortly.

Middling 15-16 inch spot cotton advanced $2.50 a bale to 42.55 cents a pound. Local spot sales amounted to 1,865 bales.

MIDDLE-AGED
Businessman or Salesman
For Monroe Area
WANTED: TWO mature businessmen or salesmen. M. F. Hoover, new man, earned $1,668.50 his first month. T. D. Stockwell earned $5,310.53 first 8 months. C. C. Hawkins earned a young fortune of $39,422 in less than 5 years. And all indications are that he'll do even better during the next 5 years. Big earnings right at start. R. F. Heckman, $104.44 first 2 hours. D. A. Crowley, $224.95 first day. J. L. McCullough, $526.00 first week. Over 150 of our men have earned $600 to $3,000 in one month, many being new men. (These are SWORN STATEMENTS.)
THESE GROSS earnings are, of course, exceptional. Many of our top men have been doing this well for years. It's a foregone conclusion that they will do even better now with increased demand. Men who were "bankrupt" when they started now have big new homes, some two cars instead of one, are sending children to college and enjoying security for the future.
MAN IS needed for this area—also several others for nearby territories. Our most successful men are those who are able to be away from home traveling one or two weeks at a time—outdoors in healthful, fascinating occupation.
OUR PRODUCT (U. S. Pat. No. 2,392,813) sold on long trial credit terms, no down payment, to high-grade, dignified trade such as manufacturers, business officials, schools, merchants, large farm and ranch owners. Immediate delivery. Earnings advanced weekly. Big season just ahead. Write a confidential letter to President, Dept. A-2, P. O. Box 711, Ft. Worth 1, Tex.

WOMEN VOTERS OUTLINE PLANS

Members Will Tour Polling places And Give Information

Unit group chairmen of the League of Women Voters met in the home of Mrs. Corbin Turpin Friday evening to outline League plans for January 15. In the absence of Mrs. Daniel Moore, Jr., Voters Service Chairman Mrs. Elmer Slagle presided. Others present were Mrs. Austin Miller, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. J. E. Dozier, Mrs. Sara Kennon, Mrs. Francis Reardon, Mrs. T. Mickel, Mrs. J. N. Riddle, Mrs. Blanche Doughty and Mrs. John Reizell.

League plans will include effort to get out the vote through the press, radio, schools and theatres where managers have agreed to show trailers on the importance of voting.

On election day information on polling rules and procedures will be available to citizens by calling telephones 3-2152, 2-0345 and 3-5681.

Members will tour polling places on election day and will observe at the polls during the count. They will see if the primary election law is being followed. A few of the details they will observe about the polling places are:

1. Are there five commissioners and one deputy?
2. Is there adequate room, good light, especially in the booths, and only one entrance?
3. Is the name and registration number of the voter being called out loud?
4. Are voters taking more than three to five minutes to vote or loitering in the polls?
5. Are blind, disabled or illiterate voters swearing to this fact and are commissioners making a written affadavit to this effect and noting this on the poll list?
6. Is there one booth for approximately 100 voters?
7. Are cards of instruction tacked in and near the voting booth?
8. Is the key to the ballot box sealed in an envelop and signed across by all commissioners and in public sight?
9. Is only one voter in a booth at a time unless 2 commissioners are assisting a disabled voter?
10. Do you see a policeman near by to assist the commissioners with any interference they might have in the conduct of the election?

Copies of a voters guide to the 1952 elections, put out by the Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana, are also available to anyone calling 2-4320 and 3-2152. By describing the state and parish officers to be filled and listing the qualifications needed by each office holder, the guide helps the voter to decide how closely his candidate measures up to the requirements of the office he seeks. It also includes short biographies of candidates for state offices and general information on primary and general elections, answers to commonly asked questions about elections, an election calendar and a sample ballot.

TALLULAH

Christmas guests in the home of Col. and Mrs. B. D. Capshaw and little son, Ben of Fort Sill, Okla., were Mrs. T. Clinton Baird of Natchez and Mr .and Mrs. Edward Williams and children, Susan and Bill of Schlater, Miss.

Members of the Golf Club Auxiliary entertained their husbands at a delightfully informal party at the Community club where a delicious dinner was served in the ball room gay with beautiful Christmas decorations.

Rev. and Mrs. A. A. McKnight and little son, Alton and Mrs. McKnight, Sr., spent Christmas in Leesville where they visiter their daughter, Miss Shirley Jean McKnight and friends there. Mr. McKnight was formerly pastor of the Methodist Church in Leesville.

Among the Christmas parties enjoyed during the yuletide season was at the home of Mrs. Ralph Loe when she and Mrs. Devonne Payne were hostesses to the Town and Country Club. Mrs. H. J. Smith served as program chairman and directed several interesting, appropriate games. Mrs. Russell Sprague told a beautiful Christmas story which was followed by little Lillian Loe singing "Here Comes Santa Claus". The program was concluded with the singing of Christmas carols by the group followed by the exchange of gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served during the social period to Mrs. Don Sevier, Mrs. Dorothy Bray, Mrs. Norman Deckleman, Mrs. Russell Sprague, Mrs. W. W. Pippin, Mrs. W. W. Ziegler, Mrs. C. T. Crow, Mrs. D. D. Wood, Mrs. L. J. Storey, Mrs. R. C. Webb Jr., Mrs. Jim Durham, Mrs. Leander Grace, Mrs. Barton Sevier, Mrs. Ben Capshaw and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Andre of Baton Rouge are guests of Mrs. Andre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Yerger Jr., at Mound.

Mrs. Iris Reynolds had as recent guests, Mrs. W. L. Pugh and Miss Lucy Pugh Nunn of Jones, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Catchings Baird Smith and baby daughter left Wednesday after a Christmas visit with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Sevier are parents of a daughter, Katherine Anne, born Sunday in Vicksburg. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. J. L. Tilly of Shreveport and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sevier of Tallulah.

HELM

WADE

Charles F. Helm and Edwin H. Wade, local branch managers of Orkin Exterminating Company, leave today to attend their company's sixth annual managers' conference to be held in Atlanta, Ga.

Over 200 branch managers and supervisory personnel will meet for three days to learn and discuss Orkin's 1952 plans for sales, service and promotion.

Founded in 1901 by Otto Orkin, its present president, this company grew from a one-man operation in Richmond, Va. to its present size of 186 Orkin-owned and operated offices which serve over 2,000 communities in its vast territory. Today, with home offices in Atlanta, Ga., Orkin is recognized as the world's largest pest control company.

During this three-day conference, discussions will be held on safe use of the newest insecticides and rodenticides now available for professional pest control application. Armed with new knowledge of combatting insect and rodent pests, Orkin Exterminators can better serve this community in protecting health and safeguarding property.

Candidate Makes Reply To Letter

Jack Willis, candidate for state representative from Ouachita parish, in answer to a letter which he received from the Louisiana Legislative council stated that he was in favor of a real state civil service.

"I will vote for and support such a bill," said Willis. Being more specific, Willis said, I wish to state that I will support restoration of state civil service in Louisiana by self-operative constitutional amendment.

Answering a letter from the Times-Picayune Publishing company in New Orleans, concerning the recent action by the United States congress affecting state welfare rolls, Willis stated that he was in favor of letting Louisiana taxpayers, voters and citizens of Louisiana see the rolls for the purpose of determining whether tax money is being expended properly.

"I do not favor the publishing of names of all citizens receiving aid from the welfare board, whether it be old age pension or other types of aid. This could be, and no doubt would be embarrassing to our fine people in this state," he said.

The Louisiana Highway Users Conference brought a letter to Willis' attention in reference to reduction of the gasoline tax. Willis answered declaring "I am in favor of a reduction in the state gasoline tax and I shall work and support a bill to reduce the gasoline 2c per gallon, if it can possibly be done without seriously affecting our state highway program in both maintenance and additional improvements, and I am firmly convinced that it can, and should, be done."

ENTERPRISE

Spending the holidays with the A. E. Chapman family were Mr. and Mrs. Edison Chapman and children of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chapman and children of Pioneer; Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lewis and children of Vidalia; Sgt. Doyle Harris and Mrs. Harris, Alexandria; Sgt. Roger Shaffer and Mrs. Shaffer of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Stafford and children, Natchitoches; Mr and Mrs. Virgil Chapman and children, Bernice, and J. Frantz Sones, Hodges.

The Oma McGuffie family has moved to Monroe and the Ronald McGuffie family now is occupying the house just vacated.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Youngblood and children of Pineville, and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Paul of Deville spent Tuesday with the W. R. Cripps family and other relatives.

Mrs. Foster Worley has returned home after spending a week with her son, Marine Sgt. Allison Worley in Pensacola, Fla.

Pfc. Clayton Poole of Letterman Hospital in San Francisco and Pfc. Orville Poole of Dallas arrived Friday for a 30 day furlough with their parents Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Poole.

Utah was named for the Ute of Indians.

SGT. AT N. L. S. C. GETS PROMOTION

Appointment of Arthur L. Stratton of the Northeast State Military department to the rank of warrant officer, junior grade, of the United States army has been announced by 4th Army headquarters, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The new warrant officer, assigned to the ROTC detachment at Northeast State since 1950, is a veteran with nearly 10 years of military service.

He enlisted in the infantry from his home, Ferrellsburg, W. Va., in 1940. Following 18 months of duty in Iceland and a year in Ireland and England, he landed on Omaha Beach, France in July 1944 with the 5th Infantry division.

After 10 months of intensive action during which time he earned five combat stars, VE day found Stratton with the same division in Czechoslovakia.

In addition to the five combat stars on his AEME ribbon, Stratton also wears the National Defense ribbon, Victory medal, Bronze Star medal and Combat Infantry badge.

Prior to his assignment at Northeast State, Warrant Officer Stratton was a member of the famed 82nd Airborne division.

V. W. CUMMINGS

Candidate For Police Juror Ward 2

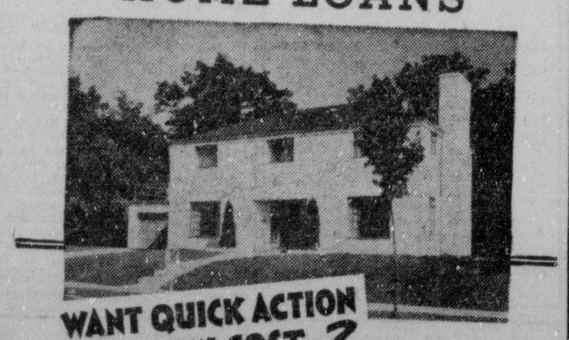

After being urged by my many friends and considering the needs and problems, I announced my candidacy for Police Juror of Ward 3.

If elected I will do everything in my power to help solve these problems and alleviate the needs.

I have twenty-two years experience as a public servant with the Monroe Police Dept., I am a Veteran of World War 1, and a God Fearing man with membership in the First Baptist Church.

A resident of Monroe and Ward 3 for the past 28 years I am married to the former Miss Emma Wink, and have three children Mrs. Opal Beckham, Mrs. Dorothy Durham, and Lt. Ben F. Cummings.

Miss Mary Jo Houston Is Bride Of Lawrence Fragala

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service In Bastrop

The marriage of Miss Mary Jo Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Houston, of Bastrop, to Lawrence Fragala, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Fragala, also of that city, was solemnized at the Louisiana Hotel in Bastrop, Sunday, December 23rd at three - thirty o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Father Thomas Cashman, officiated in the double-ring ceremony.

The impressive vows were heard before an improvised altar of green ivy on a white background with an arch of white mums centered with candelabra which held slender white tapers entwined with white mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her wedding gown of ballerina length in white lace with a short elbow length veil which fell from a small crown cap of matching lace. She wore white satin slippers and the traditional something old, new, borrowed, and blue. She carried a white prayer book topped with a single white orchid tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Maurine Gray, of Bastrop, was maid of honor, and Miss Gloria Fountain, of Camden, Ark., bridesmaid. They wore identical ballerina length gowns of blue tulle and lace. Their headdress was fashioned of blue tulle and tiny blue flowers.

Mr. D. L. Fragala served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Frank Fragala, of Eunice, and Mr. Joe Fragala, of Rayville. Master David Lawrence Fragala was ring bearer.

Mrs. Houston, mother of the bride, was wearing a wine two piece dress with pink accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Fragala, mother of the groom, chose a grey dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

The bride's table was centered with the lovely tiered wedding confection topped with a miniature bride and groom. Placed at vantage points in the reception suite were arrangements of white mums and green fern.

For their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a light green suit with brown accessories and hat of tan color. Her corsage was the white orchid used in the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Bastrop High school and will receive her degree from Northwestern State college in June. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. The bridegroom graduated from Bastrop High school and attended Northwestern State college for three years. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Fountain, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fountain, of Camden, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. John Mendolia, Miss Josephine Mendolia, Mr. and Mrs. John Fragala, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fragala, Mrs. Kilgore, all of Rayville, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Rinaudo, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cotanese, of Shreveport, Mr. Walter Glass, of Albany, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fragala, of Delhi, and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Edwards, of Greenvillle, South Carolina.

LOVELY BASTROP BRIDE

Mrs. Lawrence Fragala, before her marriage Sunday, December 23 in Bastrop, was Miss Mary Jo Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Houston, of Bastrop. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Fragala, also of Bastrop.

Miss Mary Lou Young Is Bride Of George Shepard

A lovely wedding of December was that of Miss Mary Lou Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Young, of West Monroe, and George Lewis Shepard, of Oak Ridge, son of Mrs. C. E. Shepard and the late Mr. Shepard, of Plano, Tex. which was solemnized Saturday, December 22, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe.

The Rev. Jaroy Weber, pastor, officiated in the impressive double-ring ceremony against a background of pine trees and baskets of white mums. Candelabra holding slender white tapers were used on either side of the arrangement.

Mrs. Alma Woodham, at the organ, rendered a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mr. William Ponder who sang "Because", "My Wonderful One", and "The Lord's Prayer". The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of regal satin designed by "Marie". The figure molded bodice featured a nylon heart shaped off-the-shoulder yoke joined to the satin by a folded cuff. The gathered skirt fell in graceful lines to form an impressive train. She wore a single strand of pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of waxed orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums and white azalea centered with a single white orchid.

For something old, she wore a lovely cameo. For something new, the bride wore an opal ring surrounded by diamonds, a gift of the groom. Borrowed were the pearl earrings she was wearing, and blue, a pair of garters. For good luck she wore a sixpence in her shoe.

Miss Pat Young, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jane Ewing, Miss Mary Ann Monroe, Miss Molly Shepard, of Kaufman, Tex., niece of the groom, and Miss Virginia Butler, junior bridesmaids were Miss Sara Shepard, of Kaufman, Tex. and Virginia Sue Shepard, of Oak Ridge, nieces of the bridegroom.

All wore identical gowns of white taffeta and nylon net. The closely fitted strapless bodices were worn with nylon net stoles. The waists were joined to long full skirts, white taffeta mitts and white Juliette caps trimmed with iridescent sequins completed their costumes. Their red satin shoes matched the bouquets which were fashioned of red feathered carnations and oriental holly in cascade effect centered with a lovely red satin Poinsettia.

Mr. C. E. Shepard, brother of the bridegroom, of Oak Ridge, served as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. William Barham, Mr. Arthur Carroll, Mr. Bill Christie, Mr. Robray Young. Junior Groomsmen were Billy Young and Gary Fuson.

Mrs. Young, mother of the bride, was wearing a rose imported Chantilly lace gown with flowing skirt. She wore long white gloves and cocktail veil. Her corsage was an orchid. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Shepard, was wearing a brown imported Chantilly lace ankle-length gown with which she wore long white gloves and malin hat. She was wearing an orchid corsage.

The bride's table, which was overlaid with a white cutwork linen cloth, was centered with the tiered wedding confection flanked by holly and candles. At another table which was also covered with a white linen cloth were the two punch bowls surrounded by holly and red berries. Centering this table was a miniature bride and groom in a sleigh with Santa Claus and eight reindeer. Placed in the background was a Christmas tree covered with snow and all red lights.

For their wedding trip to points of interest in Texas, the bride was wearing a Paul Barnes original suit of aqua with grey accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Upon their return the bridal couple will make their home in West Monroe.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and attended Louisiana Tech in Ruston. She is a member of Lambda Sigma Chi sorority. The bridegroom graduated from Plano High School and attended Texas A. and M.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shepard, Molly and Sara, of Kaufman, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Christie, Plano, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. G. M. Anderson, Shreveport; Mrs. D. R. Rumbelow, Jackie and Billie Rumbelow, Winnsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mackhardt, Dallas, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McPherson, Rayville; Mrs. Horace Downs, Shreveport; and Mr. Bill Ponder, of Ruston.

News From The Public Library

Now that the holiday season has come and gone with all of the delightful things that go with it, people are turning again to the library for material with which to fill their spare time. During the past month while our patrons were busy with their Christmas shopping, the staff of the Ouachita Parish Public Library was busy cataloging and processing new books so that they would be ready when our patrons were ready to read.

There are many people who are avid readers of mystery stories. They will be glad to know that there are several new titles in this field. "Murder Comes Home" by Gilbert Anthony, "Judgment on Deltchev" by Eric Ambler; "Behind the Crimson Blind" by Carter Dickson, "Deadly Beloved" by John Stephen Strange, "Murder Twice Removed" by Muriel Bradley are the titles of the newest thrillers in the library collection.

"Roman Eagle" by Stephani Godwin is a historical novel based on the great days of the Roman Empire. Novels of that period are particularly interesting because the age has so many parallels with ours.

Josephine Pinckney, who will be remembered as the author of "Three O'Clock Dinner," has written a new book which she calls "My Son And Foe". This is a drama of human emotions against a backdrop of the Caribbean. Miss Pinckney has definite writing ability and this novel is well done.

"Jade Star" by Manuel Komroff has for its setting the land of Kublai Khan in ancient China. The period is the second generation after the conquest by Ghenghis Khan. His grandson, Kublai Khan is not satisfied with the broad reaches of empire. He wants to conquer the sea as well and the island empire of Japan. This is the story of Jade Star, one of his wives. It is memorable for the skillful recreation of old Cathay, and its strange mixture of a rich culture and ancient superstitions.

"The Dark Moment" by Ann Bridge has a unique setting, Turkey at the dividing line between the old and the new. Miss Bridge writes with humor and discernment. Reading this book is a most rewarding experience.

In addition to books of fiction, the non-fiction collection of the library continues to grow rapidly. "Incredible New York" by Lloyd Morris is a fascinating story of the city and will make those who have been there want to go back and those who have not been there long to go.

"Steam Plant Operation" by Everett Bowman Woodruff and "Modern Pulp And Paper Making" by George Witham Strong are two most valuable technical books purchased for the library by the Brown Paper Mill as a memorial to the wife of one of their employees. These books will be most valuable and the library is proud to have them in their collection.

Cook books are one of the most popular types of books in the library collection. The newest one owned by the library is "The Southern Cook Book" by Marion Lea Brown. This book was published by the University of North Carolina press and contains the best recipes of all the southern states from Maryland on south.

There are many of us who still like to read stories of pirates and buried treasure. If you are one of those, ask for "The Great Days of Piracy in The West Indies" by George Woodbury. It contains many fascinating and true stories of a colorful and exciting period.

"Circus Doctor" by J. Y. Henderson is a most interesting account of a man who makes his living as an animal doctor, attached to a circus. "Photobiography" by Cecil Walter Beaton is a most interesting autobiography of the outstanding society photographer of the present time.

Are you planning to build a house this year? If you are, you must be sure to see "McCall's book of Modern Homes" edited by Mary Davies Gillies. This is a perfectly beautiful book containing plans for houses of various types.

These are only a few of the new books at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. It is your library, begin the new year right by making use of its resources.

Miss June Oliver Weds Herbert Carroll

Of interest to friends and relatives is the announcement of the marriage of Miss June Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oliver, of Wisner, and Herbert Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Carroll, also of Wisner, which was solemnized on December 26th at six o'clock in the evening.

The wedding, marked by the beauty of its simplicity, was solemnized in the home of the bride's parents, and the impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter Braswell.

The bride was wearing a soft grey wool spring model. The fitted jacket was of grey and pink plaid, and her accessories were pink and black. She wore a corsage of white carnations tied with pink satin ribbons.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the immediate members of both families.

Centering the bride's table was the lovely tiered wedding confection. After the cake had been cut it was served buffet style.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will reside in their new home near Wisner.

Mrs. Carroll is a graduate of Wisner High School, and has a degree in commerce from Northwestern State College. For the past year she has been teaching at Central High School. Mr. Carroll also attended Wisner High School and served four years with the armed forces during World War II.

EXTORTIONERS FOILED

Saigon, Indochina —(AP)— Swift action by police nipped an attempt to extort $5,000 from the manager of the Bank of China in the all-Chinese twin city of Cholon. He received a demand, written in Chinese, to show up at a spot outside Saigon-Cholon with the money or face the consequences. Instead of yielding, the manager informed the police, and failed to keep the rendezvous.

A second note told him that "our representatives" would show up at the bank to get the money. They did, but security police officers, planted in the building, seized one of the would-be extortioners, the other two fled. One of these later was arrested.

Mrs. D. M. Moore, Sr., Honors Book Club Members

Miro Club Entertained At Christmas Party During Holidays

The regular meeting of the Miro Book Club was held during the Christmas holidays in the home of Mrs. D. M. Moore, Sr., Park avenue.

Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn presided at the meeting. The salute to the flag and the collect were given in unison. The routine business was quickly expedited as, at this season, all members were in a holiday mood.

Mrs. Mulhearn graciously welcomed the new members and guests. Everything contributed to a happy spirit. Red gladiolas were placed at vantage points in the living room. The mantel was the central attraction of the Christmas decoration with a large white candle at one end, while at the other end were two ceramic gold vases which held large clusters of red berries and highly glossed green leaves. This decoration extended across the mantel to pick up the light and the gleefulness of the Christmas candle. Santa Claus' long white flannel stocking with sprays of red and green further reminded the guests he would soon be coming down the chimney.

After much friendly chattering, Mrs. Mulhearn presented Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. A. S. Tidwell. The latter delighted her listeners with a beautifully descriptive story of "Traditions peculiar to America." Mrs. Tidwell in a poised and well-planned manner gave the traditions and customs of other lands during the beautiful Christmas season which in all countries (barring Russia) means rejoicing at the birthday of the Christ child. Mrs. Tidwell entered so fully into her subject at one point, she actually brought back childhood memories when Christmas fulfilled all wishes in forms of toys and gifts of all sorts under the Christmas tree.

Members followed her in Christmas festivities of all kinds all over America, festivities that bring each year remembrances of other countries: Swedish Folk dances, British Mummer plays. The Dutch begin the holiday season on December 6 with the feast of Saint Nicholas, a lover of children, thus preparing for the coming of the Christ Child, while others continue the feast until January the 6, day of the Epiphany, adoration of the Three Kings also called magi, wise men. Puritans tried to do away with the festivals making their recognition unlawful.

In the first half of the nineteenth century, in the very city of Boston where about 230 years before the observance of the Christmas holiday was forbidden, started the delightful and colorful custom of candle lighting and carols singing. The Christmas tree has many legends and so has the mistletoe.

Our colored population too have their own customs. Here Mrs. Tidwell gave a very colorful description of Christmas time in Virginia.

No other day of the year can compete with this happy and joyous commemoration of the birth of Christ bringing in the era of Christianity.

Santa Claus as he is known is distinctly an "American personality" and in a celebration as Miro Book Club was having at the home of Mrs. D. M. Moore, Sr., he could not be left out. After the program, the guests were invited into the dining room where, again, the spirit of Christmas prevailed. The antique silver service at one end of the table, the silver bowl filled with red button chrysanthemums and fern, while no either side stood tall red candles in silver candlesticks forming a Christmas setting for a delectable service.

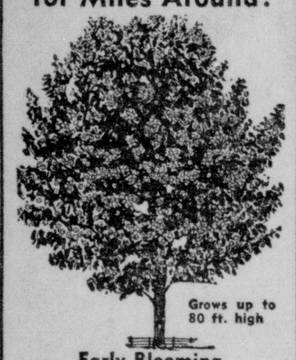

The hostess asked Mrs. Mulhearn to pour. There was much merriment as the guests enjoyed gathering for the last meeting of 1951. wreathes tied with red ribbon bows; the fun of learning the wreathes were edible caused much surprise and pleasure.

The guests present were: Mrs. Boatner Jarrell, Columbia, La., Mrs. C. Jones, Mrs. Robert Hanna, Sr. and Mrs. Paul Keller of Monroe.

The members were: Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn, Mrs. J. W. Murphey, Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. R. L. Wood, Mrs. Irving Wolff, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. F. L. Smith and the hostess, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Sr.

The Reverend Hemphill of a West Monroe church performing the double-ring ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families and a few close friends amid an altar of greenery and baskets of pink gladioli.

The bride wore a soft gray dress. She carried a white Bible topped with a pink gladioli and showered with streamers of stephanotis. Her only ornament was four strands of pearls.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony and the dining table was laid with a lace cloth and held an attractive arrangement of pink gladioli as a center piece. The three tiered decorated wedding cake was placed at one end of the table and presided over by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Guin of Alexandria. Mrs. Olene Whitton served the punch from a crystal bowl on the opposite end of the table. Miss Peggy Alexander presided over the bride's book.

Grey Ladies' Activities

Happy memories of the holiday season remain with every person in the five homes for the aged in Monroe. At a meeting of Red Cross yesterday, the reports of the numerous activities revealed that a very happy holiday season had been provided. The people of the Twin Cities who cooperated with the Gray Ladies are to be congratulated for their wonderful community service.

The Welcome Garden Club, headed by Mrs. J. W. Golson, decorated each home and members of the Garden Club stated they had a wonderful time visiting with the members of these homes. This group of women also helped staff the boxes for securing gifts for the Veterans Hospital, and made a large number of Christmas cookies for the boys.

Breard Home

Pine Street Home

Mrs. Miles' and Mrs. A. W. Lewis' Girl Scout troops provided music and individual Christmas trees. A beautiful lollipop centerpiece delighted the guests in this home. Punch, sandwiches, and cakes, donated by Mrs. Ralph Ludwick during the holidays, made another party for these guests.

Collins Street Home

Special thanks goes to Mrs. Isadore Liebreich for her wonderful donation, to Mrs. John Jackson for the delicious refreshments she prepared. Community singing of Christmas carols by the guests in this home was one of the highlights.

St. Joseph's Home

We are deeply grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goldman for emceeing the St. Joseph party. Mr. Goldman acted as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale and Mr. Leon Hammonds furnished Christmas music. Mr. William Weinberg acted as Santa Claus.

Mrs. J. G. Taliaferro, chairman of Gray Ladies, stated that beautiful cakes were donated by the City Bakery, Bond's Bakery, and McCarthy's Jackson Street Bakery. Mrs. Taliaferro stated that it has been difficult to know the names of all the groups and the people who did assist. She also stated that it would have been impossible to have had the beautiful parties at each home without the wonderful cooperation of the people in the Twin Cities.

Miss Rita Tumaroff Is Bride Of Morris Blumenthal

Bridal Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows In Lovely Home Ceremony

A lovely wedding of the holiday season was that of Miss Rita Tumaroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Tumaroff, of Jamaica, N. Y., when she became the bride of Morris Blumenthal son of Mrs. Bernard I. Marcus and the late Mr. Abraham Blumenthal of this city.

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Marcus was the setting for the lovely home ceremony which was solemnized Sunday, December 30th at three o'clock in the afternoon with Rabbi F. K. Hirsch officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive service before an improvised altar fashioned of chrysanthemums and carnations. The mantel held a mass of white chrysanthemums and carnations interspersed with fern. Ropes of smilax making large loops from this and hanging down the full length from the mantel to the floor at each end. Tall white urns with large bouquets of the same flowers were placed at either end of the mantel. Snow White roses, carnations, large chrysanthemums, gladiolus and lily of the valley were used throughout the house. On the piano a large white memory candle was placed in a bowl with Snow White roses and carnations surrounding it. At other vantage points arrangements of Snow White roses and carnations were used.

Miss Dorothy Ann Bynum, at the piano, rendered several prenuptial selections preceding the ceremony, and accompanied Mr. Walter Mangham, Jr. as he sang "I Love You Truly," and "Because."

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in the traditional white satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a deep set yoke of net and embroidered with seed pearls. The long satin sleeves coming to points over her hands were fastened with covered buttons, which also adorned the back of the tight fitting basque waist. The full skirt with two wide pleats in the front and in the back extended into a cathedral train.

Her cathedral length veil was of beautiful Alencon lace, sent from Europe and worn by her cousin twenty-six years ago, fell from the coronet headdress which was also part of the veil. For luck she wore in her shoe a sixpence sent from London.

Miss Jean Blumenthal, of Prague, Okla. was maid of honor. Her gown of coral color net was fashioned with rows of ruffles on the full skirt and a stole over one shoulder. She carried a bouquet of pink perfection camellias with lily of the valley tied with pink maline and lace edged ribbon.

Junior bridesmaid was Lynn Marx who was wearing a coral and pink satin chintz dress. Her bouquet was identical to the one carried by Miss Blumenthal, except smaller in size.

Ernest Blumenthal, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Tumaroff, mother of the bride, was lovely in a pink shantung taffeta with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was a purple orchid. Mrs. Marcus, mother of the groom, was wearing a turquoise antique taffeta with rhinestone trim complimented by a purple orchid corsage.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the family and close friends who attended the wedding.

The bride's table was covered with a beautiful cut work cloth and centered with the three tiered wedding confection embossed with lily of the valley extending to the miniature bell. Surrounding the base of the cake were gardenias and smilax. Silver candelabras with white candles, tied with net maline and satin bows and lily of the valley were at each end of the table. Small cakes in silver trays and bridal mints in silver compotes were served.

On the buffet was a bowl of Snow White roses and silver candlesticks at either end. Silver trays of sandwiches were placed on the buffet. Champagne punch was served to the guests.

Later the couple left via airlines on their wedding trip to Dallas, Tex. For travel the bride was lovely in a navy blue suit with pink blouse and small pink hat to match. Her accessories were navy and she wore the white orchid which was the center of her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the couple will reside in Baton Rouge where they will complete their year at Louisiana State University.

The bridegroom graduated from Neville High School, Wentworth Military Academy and is now attending the Petroleum Engineering School of L. S. U. He is a member of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity and several engineering fraternities.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al Tumaroff, parents of the bride, Jamaica, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Berman, grandparents of the groom, Los Angeles, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Lew Brock, Dallas, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blumenthal, Prague, Okla., Mrs. Joe Marizon, Wichita, Kan.; Mr. Morris B. Blumenthal, Prague, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorn, Okla. City, Okla., Mrs. and Mrs. Sol Samors, Tuscon, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zevelo, Kansas City, Mo., Mr. Charles Bobinsky, Chicago, Illinois, Mrs. Evelyn Reims, of Vicksburg, Miss Lucy Abramson and Avery Kahn, Jr., of Shreveport.

Selection Of Sheets

"The white sales are on and many housewives take this time to buy needed sheets and pillow cases" is the opinion of Mrs. Mildred G. Swift, associate agent with L. S. U. Extension Department. "Sheets are classified into five groups, light, medium and heavy weight muslins, fine counts and percales. Each serves a definite purpose. A heavy muslin sheet is strong, sturdy and durable and is the best selection when hard wear is expected. The fineness and softness of a percale make it a better choice when appearance counts."

The agent says to read the labels on linens. These labels give thread count, weight, amount of sizing and size. Such descriptions as "extra special" and "the best sheet made" are too general to have real meaning. A good sheet is firm in weave, is practically free from sizing, is torn rather than cut from the bolt; is hemmed with strong thread and short even stitches; has a firm well woven selvage.

Mrs. Swift advises taking note of the thread count, which means the number of each set of yarns in the finished fabric, per inch. The most commonly used types of sheet are muslin with thread count of 112, 128 and 140; carded percale, with thread count of 180; combed percale, with count of 200. Read the label to see what you are getting when buying sheets.

Frances Elizabeth Mitchell Weds Forrest H. Pollard

Double-Ring Ceremony Solemnized At First Methodist Church In West Monroe

The First Methodist Church in West Monroe was the scene Sunday, December 23, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when Miss Frances Elizabeth Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. Eula Brooks Mitchell, of West Monroe, and Forrest H. Pollard, of Fort Sill, Okla., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Pollard, Sr., of Little Rock, Ark., were united in marriage. The Rev. R. H. Staples officiated in the ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double ring service before the altar which was beautifully decorated with standards of white chrysanthemums and smilax.

Mrs. Charles Myers, organist, rendered several selections of nuptial music and accompanied Mr. Kenneth Adams as he sang "Because," "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer." The later being sung during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Robert Mitchell, was lovely in a bown gabardine suit fashioned with buttons to the hem of the skirt. Her shoes and bag were of dark brown suede, and her blouse, gloves and hat, were of light beige. The hat was a bonnet shaped velour model with brown veiling and metalic trim. She carried yellow roses on a white Bible with a shower of streamers in yellow maline and variegated ribbons.

Miss Dorothy Mitchell, maid of honor and only attendant, was wearing a blue and black striped suit, with white blouse, hat and gloves. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Emmett Pollard, Jr., served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jack Walker, of Little Rock, Ark. and Spencer Edmiston.

Mrs. Mitchell, mother of the bride, was wearing a dark brown gabardine suit with accessories of brown and lime green. Her corsage was of yellow roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. Pollard, wore a beige suit with pink accessories. She was wearing a corsage of pink glamelias.

Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Gene Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Jack Bagwell, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Miss Jeannette Pollard, Miss Edwina Albritton, Miss Sue Hunt and Miss Ann Smith.

The bride is at present a member of the faculty at the Calhoun High school and the bridegroom, a private in the U. S. Army, is stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Mrs. Pollard is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and Louisiana Tech in Ruston where she was a member of the Blue Jackets, Wesley Foundation, and Campus Women's Council. The bridegroom graduated from Little Rock High school, Little Rock Junior college, and Louisiana Tech. He is a member of Sigma Iota Epsilon fraternity and Society of Advancement of Management, Wesley Foundation.

Girl Scout Leaders To Have Joint Meeting

Girl Scout leaders of both Brownie and Intermediate troops will have a joint meeting on Tuesday, January 8 at the office, 416 Wood St., Mrs. Leonard Bassett and Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, presidents of the clubs, have annouced.

Looking forward to spring activities, the leaders will share in tentative plans for the annual birthday observance in March, international friendship activities, and the Juliette Low fund.

Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive, will give a demonstration of pottery, and each person will be given an opportunity to try her hand.

Presidents of the clubs urge all leaders to take advantage of the self-directed opportunity for training, the exchange of ideas, and sociability offered by the monthly meetings of leaders.

New Yorkers often have winters more severe than those in Reykjavik, Iceland's capital. The latter is warmed by the Gulf Stream and the average temperature is 32 degrees in January.

Miss Frances Ann Parrish Weds Rodney Eugene Boaz

Trinity Episcopal Church In Pine Bluff, Ark. Is Setting For Impressive Service

Miss Frances Ann Parrish became the bride of Rodney Eugene Boaz at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, December 27 at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Pine Bluff, Ark., with Rev. T. P. Devlin performing the ceremony. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and white candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parrish of Pine Bluff, and the bridegroom is the son of Maj. and Mrs. Ralph A. Boaz of Hot Springs, Ark. and Fort Custer, Mich.

Before the ceremony, a program of organ music was played by Mrs. C. J. Giroir. Accompanied by Mrs. Giroir, Miss Jane Hammond of Stuttgart sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory duchess satin trimmed with seed pearls, with sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves, and a full skirt which draped to a graceful train in the back. Her finger - tip length veil of ivory French illusion fell from a Juliet cap sprinkled with dainty seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was an heirloom lavaliere.

Miss Eve Dilley was maid of honor. Her dress was of gold velvet made with a portable neckline, fitted basque waist, and full skirt. She wore a matching velvet halo with brow veil and carried Talisman roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Ferguson, Miss Sallye Ruth McGregor, Miss Linda Noe of Monroe, La., Miss Ida Mae Ryland of Dyersburg, Tenn., and Miss Carol Bryan of Tulsa, Okla. Their gowns of emerald green velvet were similar to that worn by the maid of honor, and they carried yellow roses.

The flower girls were Miss Carol Parrish, cousin of the bride, and Miss Sandra Hart. Their dresses were of white marquisette with lace trimmed ruffle that fell in a deep point at the front and back. The skirts were full and worn over hoops.

Ralph Scott Boaz served his brother as best man. Ushers were James A. Noe, Jr. of Monroe, La., Dowling Bluford Stough, III of Hot Springs, Ernest Harley Cox of Prescott, Ark., Eugene Stonecipher of Hot Springs, and Noel Parrish of Pine Bluff.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Pine Bluff Country Club which was decorated with white candles and white chrysanthemums. The mantles in the club were decorated with white snapdragons, carnations, chrysanthemums and calla lilies. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth with bride's cake at one end, two silver candles tied with white satin and maline bows which were centered with white chrysanthemums, and between the candles, a white net bride's muff topped with white spray orchids and shower of stock. The punch table was covered with an embroidered linen cloth. The bride's book table holding the bride's book was decorated with candles tied with satin and maline bows centered with spray chrysanthemums.

Upon their return, they will live at Fayetteville, Ark. where they are attending the University of Arkansas.

There were many out - of - town guests for the wedding.

Miss Carol Jean Williamson Weds Ralph Moody Riddle, Jr.

First Christian Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

A lovely wedding of the holiday season was that of Miss Carol Jean Williamson, daughter of Mr. Eugene H. Williamson and the late Clara Mitchell Williamson, of West Monroe, when she became the bride of Ralph Moody Riddle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moody Riddle, Sr., of Cotton Valley, La.

The marriage was solemnized Sunday, December 23 at five o'clock in the afternoon at the First Christian Church with the Rev. R. T. Watson officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive service before an altar of white candelabra and greenery. Baskets of white stock, gladiola were placed on either side.

Miss Carolyn Tait, of Jonesboro, organist, rendered several selections of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Doris Nell Penny, of Alexandria, as she sang "Through the Years" and "Because." "Clair de Lune" was softly played during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her dress, which was a two piece street length dress of aqua faille trimmed in matching lace and rhinestones. The skirt made with unpressed pleats and the jacket short with a high neck and bracelet length sleeves. She wore a white flower hat sprinkled with rhinestones with a short veil. Black opera pumps and short white kid gloves completed the outfit. The bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by pink gladiola and white mums tied with pale pastel satin ribbon.

Miss Betty Bennett, maid of honor, was wearing a dress of deep rose iridescent taffeta trimmed in rhinestones made with a straight skirt flared in the back and short sleeves. Her bouquet was of deep orchid mums tied with a pastel satin ribbon and she wore a tiny eye veil with tiny rhinestone trim. Bridesmaid was Miss Jeri Thompson, of Cotton Valley, who was dressed identically to the maid-of-honor.

Candlelighter was Miss Zibby Norris, of Mansfield who was wearing a dress of orchid iridescent taffeta fashioned similarly to other attendants.

Ralph Moody Riddle, Sr. served his son as best man. Groomsman was Darwin White, of Ruston, and ushers were Robert Coyle, of Cotton Valley, and Harry Chappel, of West Monroe.

Mrs. E. A. Reily, of Shreveport, aunt of the bride, was wearing a brown crepe with touches of pink and a corsage of pink gladiola. The groom's mother, Mrs. Riddle, chose a grey crepe with touches of red, complimented by a corsage of white gladiola.

The bride's table, which was overlaid with a white linen cloth, was centered with the tiered wedding cake surrounded by carnations and fern. At each end of the table were white candles and at each corner sprays of white carnations and green fern. The punch was served from a smaller table with similar decorations. Mrs. M. W. Montgomery and Mrs. H. C. Johnson alternated at the punch service.

For their wedding trip to Magnolia, Ark., the bride was wearing a beige tailleur with brown accessories and the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Riddle is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and will receive her degree in June from Louisiana Tech in Ruston. The bridegroom graduated from Cotton Valley High School and was a student at Louisiana Tech until his enlistment in the Navy in January, 1951. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. At the present time he is stationed at the U. S. Naval Station at Imperial Beach, Calif.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. C. L. Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Riddle, and David Edward, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Riddle, Mr. Summer Riddle, Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Thompson, Miss Jeri Thompson, all of Cotton Valley; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Reily, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Almond and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Riddle, Jr., all of Shreveport; Miss Carolyn Tait, Miss Janet Littlefield, of Jonesboro; Miss Nancy Shebee, of Arcadia; Miss Jackye Fallon, of Ruston; Miss Cecil Anne Oliver, of Bossier City; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, Misses Wanda and Peggy Mitchell, Mr. Clyde Poche, all of New Orleans.

Prenuptial Parties Honor The Former Rita Tumaroff

Bridal Couple Entertained With Two Cocktail Parties Before Recent Marriage

The Louis B. Masur home was the setting for a kitchen shower when Mrs. Louis Masur entertained in honor of Miss Rita Tumaroff, popular bride-elect, whose marriage to Morris Blumenthal was solemnized recently.

The dining room table was a vision of loveliness featuring a large colored paper umbrella in the far corner of the table. Rainbow colored satin streamers tied from the large umbrella ran to smaller umbrellas in the different sections of the table. Fresh corsages of pastel gladioli were placed between the streamers. The table was laden with many delicacies for which the hostess is famous.

The guest list included the following out-of-town guests: Mrs. Al Tumaroff, mother of the bride - elect, of Jamaica, N. Y., Mrs. Dave Berman, grandmother of the groom elect, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Ernest Blumenthal, Prague, Okla., Miss Jean Blumenthal, Prague, Okla., Mrs. Joe Marizon, Wichita, Kan., Mrs. Sol Samors, Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. Sam Zavelo, Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Lew Brock, Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Charles Dorn, Oklahoma City, Okla., Mrs. N. Waldman, Kilgore, Tex.

Other guests included Mrs. B. Marcus, mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. J. B. Pickens, Mrs. Victor Goldberg, Mrs. Louis Marcovitz, Mrs. Joe Marx Jr., Mrs. J. Laudenheimer, Mrs. Allan Sugar, Jr., Mrs. Gerald Sugar, Mrs. Meyer Glazer, Mrs. Phillip Fishman, Mr. Stanley Mintz, Mrs. Irving Leibowitz, Mrs. I. S. Marx, Mrs. Milton Gorn, Mrs. Bert Heinberg, and the Misses Peggy and Jean Strauss, Joan Sugar and Charlene Kaplan.

Cocktail Party

Also included among the many lovely social events honoring Miss Rita Tumaroff and Mr. Blumenthal during the holidays was the lovely cocktail party given by Mr. Gilbert Marx, Mr. Richard Rosenbaum and Mr. David Masur at the home of the latter.

The three young men were assisted by their mothers, Mrs. Edgar Masur, Mrs. Emma Rosenbaum and Mrs. A. M. Marx, and Mrs. Bernard Levi and Miss Jennie Smith.

The table, artistically decorated, was centered with a large red candle placed in a crystal bowl of green water and white balls going up and down in the arrangement. Smaller graduated red candles were used down the center of the table with evergreens covering the base of the candle sticks. On the buffet there were silver candle sticks with large red bows and striped candles hanging from them.

The table was laden with delicacies of cold cuts, shrimp, and small cakes. Drinks were passed throughout the evening to the guests present.

Guests invited to attend this lovely event were Misses Peggy and Jean Strauss, Miss Manette Smith, Miss Ann Merriman, Miss Nell Bridge, Miss Joan Sugar, Miss Jean Blumenthal, Miss Pat Guerriero, Miss Betty Sue Scott, Mr. Brooks Sellers, Mr. Freddie Landry, Mr. Harold Woods, Jr., Mr. Grady Merriman, Mr. Abry Cahn, Jr., Mr. Bert Bodan, Mr. Larry Saltzman, Mr. Joe Badt, Mr. Ernest Blumenthal, Mr. Ansell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marx and the honored guests, Miss Tumaroff and Mr. Blumenthal.

Holiday Event

A Styrofoam sleigh and reindeer with silver ribbons leading from the reindeer to the sleigh and a bride and groom doll standing in sleigh with silvered magnolia leaves surrounding the base, formed the attractive centerpiece used on the lace covered table.

Enjoying this lovely event with Miss Tumaroff and Mr. Blumenthal were Miss Charlene Kaplan, Louis Smith, Miss Joan Sugar, Mr. Gilbert Marx, Miss Joel Sugar, Mr. Ernest Bluementhal, Miss Eve Goldman, of New Orleans, Mr. David Masur, Miss Ann Shafto, Mr. John Noel, Miss Anita O'Kelly, Mr. Charles Martin, Miss Patsy Batten, Mr. J. W. Richards, Miss Ruth Kettenrign, Mr. Wayne Baugh, Miss Mary Gertrude Rodriquez, Mr. Richard Rosenbaum, Miss Louisette Trousdale, Mr. Ed Seymour, Jr., Miss Martha Clayton Sparks, Mr. Dent Tisdale, Miss Clara Munholland, Mr. John Robert Thompson, Miss Carol Emerson, Mr. Edel Blanks, Jr., Miss Celia Danna, Mr. Sonny Buckley, Mr. Jack Ansell, Mr. Charles Dante, of Dumas, Ark., Mr. Larry Saltzman, Mr. Sam Ruben, Mr. Bill Rodriquez, Mr. Alvin Bodan and Mr. Ansel Smith.

Miss Shelby Meek Becomes Bride Of Edward Lee Gladney III

Nuptial Vows Solemnized In Candlelight Ceremony At First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church was the scene on Thursday evening, December 27 at 7:00 o'clock, of one of the most beautiful and outstanding weddings of the holiday season, when Miss Shelby Aileen Meek and Edward Lee Gladney III pledged their nuptial vows. The Rev. James T. Horton performed the impressive double ring ceremony.

The bride is the lovely debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shelby Meek, of this city, and the groom is the son of Judge and Mrs. Edward Lee Gladney, Jr., of Bastrop.

The baptistry and choir loft were artistically decorated in woodwardia fern with long white glowing tapers in branched candelabra, casting a soft glow over the pedestal urns of calla lilies at the altar. The chancel of the church accentuated with white calla lilies, sprengeria fern and slender white tapers made an effective setting for the wedding scene. Clusters of calla lilies tied with white satin bows marked the reserved pews.

Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, organist, rendered many selections of nuptial music as the hundreds of guests were being seated by the ushers who were: Charles Goodwin Gladney, brother of the groom, Lt. Eldred Harp, William F. Douglass, Jack Cole and James Pierce Madison, all of Bastrop, and Lt. Charles Wallace Gladney, of Baton Rouge.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Clyde Sanders sang Charles Wakefield Cadman's "At Dawning" and D'Harlot's "Because." At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mrs. Sanders softly sang, "The Lord's Prayer," as the bride and groom knelt on the white satin priedieu.

The exquisite bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She presented a picture of radiant loveliness in her wedding gown, an "Emily" model, of imported candlelight Duchess satin, elegant in its simplicity. Tiny self covered buttons were used down the front of the bodice which was fashioned in a bud-taut basque with a square neckline accented with soft petal folds. The long sleeves formed calla lily points at the wrists. A pannier pleated skirt terminated in an aisle-wide cathedral train. An antique love knot diamond necklace, gift of the groom, was the bride's only jewelry. Her veil of Brussels' lace Duchess design fell gracefully from a coronet over her satin court train. She carried a bridal bouquet of white bride's roses, and lilies of the valley centered with a specimen white orchid.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by her matron-of-honor, Mrs. John Lane Norsworthy, of Bastrop, and the bridesmaids, Miss Patsy Heard, of Houston, Texas, Miss Carolyn Jo Goodwin and Miss Martha Ann Ludlum, both of Bastrop, and Miss Sara Stone, of Nacogdoches, Tex. They wore identical gowns of Flamingo taffeta with bodices fashioned with capelets and the full skirts were caught at intervals with roses of dress material, showing accordion pleated underskirts at these points. Their capelets were of nylon net and taffeta and they wore matching gloves of taffeta. They carried cascade bouguests of shaded glamellias and varigated English ivy.

Mrs. Meek chose for her daughter's wedding, a mauve crepe floor length gown fashioned with beaded bodice and the groom's mother, Mrs. Gladney, wore a Periblue crepe with beaded neckline; each wearing an orchid corsage. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Sr., of New Orleans, was charming in a pearl grey chiffon gown and corsage of pink roses.

Reception

Greeting the guests in the foyer were: Mrs. James Madison, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher, Jr., Mrs. E. F. Madison and Mrs. Frank Gordon. Assisting in extending courtesies in the reception room were: Mrs. J. B. Thornhill, Mrs. George Beekman, Mrs. Manning McGuire, Mrs. Julian Gladney and Mrs. Clyde Stone. Alternating at the bride's book were Mrs. Blanche Goodwin Williams and Mrs. Celeste Shell, of New Orleans.

White bride's roses and valley lilies in artistic arrangements graced all vantage points in the club. The bride's memory candle in a setting of white foliage burned on the piano.

The round bride's table was overlaid with a floor length white organdie and Irish lace cloth encircled with garlands of Southern Smilax and nosegays of bride's roses and candy tuft. The beautiful round tiered cake was decorated in lilies of the valley, roses, wedding bells and dainty hearts. Its mounted mirrored surface carried embossed calla-lily confections around the base of the cake. Burning cathedral tapers in silver candelabra enhanced the effectiveness of this setting. Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn. and Mrs. Evelyn Witherspoon of new Orleans.

The punch - bowl table, also round, was covered with an imported lace linen cloth. A large bridal fruit float centered the handsome silver punch bowl. Serving here were Mrs. W. V. Garnier and Mrs. George Goodwin, of Bastrop, Mrs. Roland Bouanchaud, of New Roads, and Mrs. William B. Gladney, of Baton Rouge. Embossed mints and miniature bride's cakes were served by Misses Nell Bouanchaud, Sally Garnier, Emrey Liles, Virginia Smith, Mrs. William W. Gladney, Mrs. C. Wallace Gladney, Mrs. Janie Hanks and Mrs. Duke Shackelford.

When Lt. and Mrs. Gladney left for their wedding trip to resort points on the Florida coast, she was wearing a violet wool costume suit with Studio hat by "Casper Davis" of tiny forget - me - nots in shades of lavender, orchid and green. Her accessories were grey and corsage a single specimen white orchid.

Mrs. Gladney is a graduate of Neville High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Her sororities are Delta Beta Sigma and Sigma Kappa.

The groom graduated from Bastrop High School and Louisiana State University where he rereceived his electrical engineering degree. He is a member of Phi Kappa and Kappa Alpha fraternities.

Out-of-Town Guests

Among the out - of - town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Edward Lee Gladney, Sr., Mrs. Celeste Shell, Miss Gladney Shell, Mrs. Evelyn Witherspoon, Mr. Jack Witherspoon, all of New Orleans; Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Jr. of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. John Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Wherritt, Mrs. John Wooten and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sartain, all of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Gladney, Lt. and Mrs. Charles Wallace Gladney, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gladney and Mrs. Mabel Ludlum, all of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Duke Shackelford, of Jones, La.; Mrs. J. G. Heard, Mrs. J. G. Whitehurst, Miss Patsy Heard, Mr. John Heard, all of Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stone, Miss Sara Stone, of Nacogdoches, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bouanchaud, Misses Nell and Jeannette Bouanchaud and James Madison Bouanchaud, of New Roads, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hunt, of Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dumaree, of Panama City, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Colvin Todd, of Tallulah, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Surguine, of Dallas, Tex., and the following relatives from Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. James Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gladney, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Madison, Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Garnier, Mrs. Salmye McCreight, Mrs. J. B. Rawlinson, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwin, Misses Sally and Diane Garnier, Miss Blanche Ogbourne, Mrs. Blanche G. Williams, Miss Carolyn Jo Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. George Beekman, James Pierce Madison, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Madison and many others from Bastrop.

Miss Ann Scott Weds Thomas Lane Everett

Marriage Solemnized At The Home Of Mr. And Mrs. Hugh Barron Of Spearsville

A lovely wedding on Christmas Day was that of Miss Ann Scott, daughter of Mrs. Nannie Scott and the late William James Scott of Huntsville, Alabama, and Thomas Lane Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Everett of Spearsville, which was solemnized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barron, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, on December 25 at 5:30 o'clock.

The impressive double ring ceremony was conducted by the Elder R. W. Rhodes of Spearsville. The vows were taken by candlelight.

Pete Carroll, a friend and former classmate of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" accompanied by Mrs. Joe C. Barron, who also played the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin."

The bride was lovely in her navy suit with white accessories. She carried a corsage of white carnations on a white Bible.

Mrs. Herman Farrar of Baton Rouge, sister of the groom, served the bride as matron of honor. She was attractive in a wine suit with black accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony. The dining room was beautifully decorated in red and white. Mrs. George Cole and Mrs. Robert Mayfield assisted Mrs. Hugh Barron in extending courtesies to the guests who were principally relatives and a few close friends.

The bride trained as a nurse at the Jefferson Hillman Hospital in Birmingham. She received her B. S. degree from the University of Alabama. Until recently she worked at the Veterans Administrative Hospital in Houston, Tex. At present she is employed at the M. D. Anderson Cancer Hospital of this same city.

The groom is a graduate of Spearsville High School and has been connected with the Kilpatrick Funeral Home in Farmerville. At present he is attending Landing College of Mortuary Science in Houston.

The couple will reside in Houston, Tex.

Girl Scout News

The fourth Girl Scout Law, "A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout," is one all of us might do well to live up to in these days of stress. Based on this law the Scouts have International Friendship as one of their important program fields. Juliette Low, the founder of Scouting, was deeply interested in fostering friendships among the youth of the world.

Some months ago one of the activities of our own Scouts in this field was the sending of school supplies and other small gifts to children overseas. The girls don't always hear direct from the recipients, but they get a thrill when they receive a letter with a foreign stamp.

Three letters from Germany have been received by Mary Elizabeth Webster of Troop 28, Maxine Brown, a Brownie of Troop 28, and by the girls of Troop 4, who had Mrs. Louis Turner for a leader at the time the gifts were sent. Miss Claire Freiberg translated the letters, which of course, were written in German, so the Scouts could read for themselves what the gifts had meant.

One girl mentioned especially the nice soap which "smelled wonderful" and said that she had never had such a nice shampoo as with the soap. The remnant of cloth, she said would make a nice Sunday apron.

One of the girls mentioned that her Daddy had died during the war. She was especially grateful for the socks, soap, scissors, and pencil sharpeners and said that her brother enjoyed the harmonica that was in the bag.

The bags referred to by the girls were among a shipment of 85 presented at a city - wide birthday program in 1950 and forwarded to Church World Service for distribution. The German girls mentioned that they had received the supplies from their church schools and it was Church World Service which forwarded their thank - yous.

Previously, local girls had received letters from Pakistan telling of disastrous floods which had made the school bags doubly welcome.

Mr. D. P. McDaniel Celebrates Birthday

Mr. D. P. McDaniel of Downsville, La. celebrated his 88th birthday on December 23rd in the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Johnston, in West Monroe. Mrs. Johnston was also celebrating her birthday. Mr. McDaniel was entertained with a lovely birthday dinner in the presence of some of his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Estep, Jr., Mrs. J. R. Simpson and son Bobby, of Shreveport, La., Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. Layton McDaniel of Ft. Worth, Tex., Mrs. J. W. McDaniel and Joyce of Lake Providence; Mrs. Jack Rey, Joe and Loree of Fairbanks, Miss Joyce Simpson of McGehee, Ark., and Mrs. S. F. Maxey, a niece of Mr. McDaniel's. Mr. McDaniel was showered with many lovely birthday and Christmas gifts from his children.

In some Malay weddings the bridegroom's party must engage the bride's protectors in mimic battle and pay mock ransom.

MRS. H. O. HARTMAN HONORS MAGNOLIA STUDY CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. C. C. Lucky, president, presided during the meeting. Mrs. Ed Hislop, program chairman, introduced Mrs. G. E. Fleming who in charming manner gave a reading "How Come Christmas". Mrs. H. O. Hartman presented each member with a New Year's calendar. A Christmas message from G. F. W. C. President Hougton was read.

Members present for the Christmas program, enjoying lovely music and delicious refreshments, were Mrs. C. C. Lucky, Mrs. Aline Banister, Mrs. A. R. Butler, Mrs. Ed Hislop, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. Milton Ford, Mrs. Tom Leos, Mrs. R. P. McKay, Mrs. C. G. Pearce, Sr., Mrs. Fred Tucker, Mrs. Ed Hochenedel and Mrs. G. E. Fleming, Mrs. Hartman and Mrs. L. N. Dozier.

WANTS TAXES RAISED

Omaha —(AP)— They could hardly believe their eyes in the county attorney's office. The letter received from a woman said her personal property taxes were too low.

She asked an increase, explaining she was ill when assessments were made and her lawyer, who filled out her tax schedule, overlooked some items. Chief Deputy County Attorney Robert C. McGowan, in recommending to the county board that the request for an increase in taxes be granted, said, "Never in our memory has such a request been made".

Miss Mary Lou Young Is Honored At Bridal Parties

Coffee Hour And Rehearsal Supper Given Bride Of Recent Date

Mrs. F. B. Davis, Mrs. Jack Beasley, Mrs. O. B. Moses and Mrs. W. H. Young were hostesses at the coffee hour which was held at "The Barn' in West Monroe.

For this occasion the honoree chose a red knit dress with which she wore a corsage presented to her by the hostesses. Mrs. Young, mother of the honor guest, was also presented a corsage.

Guests invited to enjoy this event with Miss Young were Mrs. Ruth Bennett, Mrs. J. C. Steele, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Field, Mrs. Aubrey McEacharn, Mrs. R. F. Blalock, Mrs. Jack Beasley, Mrs. O. B. Moses, Mrs. W. H. Young, Mrs. F. B. Davis, Mrs. John F. Young, mother of the bride.

Rehearsal Supper

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shepard, of Oak Ridge, were hosts at the rehearsal supper which was held at the LaCasa Tea Room, Friday, December 21.

Carrying out the Christmas motif were the placecards which were fashioned of baubles with names in silver.

Sharing this occasion with the bridal couple were Miss Virginia Butler, Miss Jane Ewing, Miss Mary Ann Monroe, Miss Pat Young, Miss Mollie Shepard, Miss Sara Shepard, Miss Virginia Sue Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Young, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shepard, Mrs. C. E. Shepard, mother of the groom, Mrs. E. A. Barham, Mrs. Alma Woodham, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Christie, Mr. and Mrs. Robray Young, Mr. William Barham, Mr. William Ponder, Gary Fuson, Billy Young, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shepard.

LOUISE L. M'GUIRE CHAPTER NO. 4 HAS PUBLIC INSTALLATION

After the guests were admitted, the 1951 retiring officers entered the room and assumed their stations. Mrs. Monnie J. Collier, retiring matron, welcomed members and visitors and introduced the installing officers as follows: Mrs. Lovie Gregory, past grand matron as installing officer; Mrs. Phyllis Cozine, past matron, as installing marshal; Mrs. Birdie Mae Mulhearn, past grand matron, as installing chaplain; Mrs. Willie Mae Wafer, past matron, as installing organist and Mrs. Helene B. Lewis as soloist.

As the retiring matron presented the gavel to the installing officer and bade farewell from the East, the 1951 officers joined her and the retiring patron, Mr. Henry O. Hartman in front of the East. Mrs. Lewis sang "A Perfect Year." The officers then retired and the following 1952 officers were impressively installed:

When the 1952 worthy matron received the gavel, the lights were lowered with the Star in the East prominently lighted as Mrs. Lewis sang "Star of the East" to Mrs. Morgan. A further tribute to the newly installed worthy matron was the presentation of red roses to her by her lovely little granddaughter, Lynda Marshbanks, as Mrs. Lewis sang "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses."

Mrs. Morgan greeted the members and visitors with an inspiring message on her hopes and ambitions for the chapter in the new year. She graciously thanked her installing officers and all who had taken part in the service.

Mr. Morgan, worthy patron, gave a short timely talk.

After committees were appointed and announcements made, the junior past matron, Mrs. Monnie Collier, and the junior past patron, Mr. Henry Hartman were escorted to the altar where they signed the page of past matrons and past patrons in the Bible. They were then escorted to the East where proper tribute was paid them by the chapter.

In a clever Christmas sock program they were presented with a past matron's pin and a past patron's pin from the chapter by Mrs. Phyllis Cozine and Mr. William Brandt. Mrs. Lewis sang a tribute to them to the tune of "Jingle Bells."

Among out of town guests the worthy matron introduced the following members of her family; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meek from Vicksburg, Miss. and Mrs. John C. Carpenter from Crossett, Ark.

Following the installation of officers, refreshments were served in the banquet hall. The banquet table was overlaid with lace and centered with a unique Christmas arrangement.

At one end of the table Mrs. Margaret Hartman presided over the silver coffee service and at the other end of the table Mrs. Katie Mae Zoll served tea from a handsome silver service. The 1951 officers assisted in serving refreshments.

Beautiful Nuptial Parties Fete Recent Bride and Groom

Rehearsal Party And Wedding Breakfast Climax Activities For Shelby Meek And Edward Lee Gladney III

A holiday motif was the theme used at the Bastrop Country Club on Wednesday evening, December 26, for the rehearsal supper party of Miss Shelby Meek and Edward Lee Gladney, III, whose marriage was an outstanding social event of the holiday season.

Co-host and hostesses on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwin and Mrs. Blanche Goodwin Williams, of Bastrop.

"Happy-time" red roses and white stock were effectively used throughout the club at all vantage points.

The punch and supper tables were overlaid with handsome Italian cut-work cloths and centered with elaborate arrangements of red roses in silver epergnes. Burning long white tapers in silver candelabra cast a warm and festive glow over the entire setting.

On entering the main lounge, the guests were served tempting punch from large bowls at either end of the table, presided over by Mrs. Roland Bounchaud and Miss Carolyn Jo Goodwin. A handsome chafing dish centered the table from which delicious hot clam dip was served.

Later the guests enjoyed a sumptuous turkey and ham dinner with accompanying vegetables, molded salads and relishes served buffet style. Mrs. Mable Ludlum, Mrs. Webb Madison, and Mrs. J. B. Bennett and Mrs. Will Douglass assisted the hostesses.

Friends and members of the bridal party with Miss Meek and Lt. Gladney with the host and hostesses included: Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Meek, Judge and Mrs. Edward Lee Gladney, Jr., Mrs. Edward Lee Gladney, of New Orleans, grandmother of the groom, Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn., aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gladney, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Heard and Miss Patsy Heard, of Houston, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stone and Miss Sara Stone, of Nacogdoches, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bounchaud, Misses Nell and Jeannette Bounchaud and Mr. James M. Bounchaud, of New Roads, La.; Mrs. John Lee Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Naff, of Shreveport, La., Mrs. Mabel Ludlum, Mrs. Wm. B. Gladney, Mr. and Mrs. W. W Gladney and Lt. and Mrs. Wallace Gladney, all of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lee, of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Colvin Todd of Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dumaree, of Panama City, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Surgine, of Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. Frank Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. James Madison, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Madison, Miss Nell Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Duke Shackelford, Mr. and Mrs. George Beekman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bennett, Miss Carolyn Jo Goodwin, Miss Martha Ann Ludlum, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Norsworthy, Miss Emrey Liles, Miss Jo Ann Ransom, Mr. Charles Goodwin Gladney, Mr. James Pierce Madison, Mr. William Douglass, Mr. Jack Cole, Lt. Eldred Harp, Mr. W. L. Mattison and Mr. Johnnie Madison.

Wedding Breakfast

The Bayou DeSiard Country Club was the setting for the lovely wedding breakfast honoring Miss Shelby Meek and Lt. Edward Lee Gladney III given on Thursday, December 27th by Mr. and Mrs. James Madison, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Madison and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bounchaud, cousins of Miss Meek.

The club was elaborately decorated in the Christmas motif. The entire lounge of the club was used for the breakfast, with long tables arranged in U shape. The honorees, seated in the center, were flanked on both sides by their bridal attendants.

In front of the honorees, a beautiful large antique crystal fruit bowl in wedding ring design was filled with orange blossoms and ripe oranges in various sizes. This arrangement was reflected in a large mirror on which the bowl rested, the round mirror carrying out the wedding ring theme, being encircled with orange blossoms and tiny oranges. On either side of this central decor, large china oranges containing orange marmalade and topped with butterflies, added much interest.

Antique crystal bowls filled with orange blossoms and oranges were used at intervals on the tables making the U arrangement. They were connected with trailers of orange blossoms and leaves.

At the conclusion of the breakfast each guests was asked to write advice to the honorees on the place cards. These were tied together with simulated wedding rings and white satin bows, and passed to the honorees who read them aloud amid a great deal of merriment.

At the conclusion of the reading a large box wrapped in gold paper and tied with green and gold ribbon centered with orange blossoms opened by the bride-elect and contained beautiful silver, gifts of the hosts.

Miss Meek was radiant in a smart spring suit of pure silk in grey, violet and yellow combination which formed a lovely complement for the beautiful corsage of bright jonquils presented by the hostesses.

Invited guests were Miss Meek, Lt. Gladney, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Meek, Judge and Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Jr., Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Mrs. Blanche G. Williams, Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Jr., Mr and Mrs. George Goodwin, Miss Carolyn Jo Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gladney, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stone and Miss Sarah Stone, of Nacogdoches, Texas, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Heard and Miss Patsy Heard of Houston, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. John Lane Norsworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gladney, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gladney, Lt. and Mrs. Wallace Gladney, and Mrs. Mabel Ludlum, of Baton Rouge, Mr. James Madison Bounchaud and Misses Nell and Jeanette Bounchaud, of New Roads, Mr. and Mrs. George Beekman, Mrs. Clyde Sanders, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Horton, Mr. and Mrs B. D. Albritton, Miss Martha Ann Ludlum, Miss Jo Ann Ransom, Mr. James Pierce Madison, Mr. Billy Douglass, Mr. Charles Gladney, Mr. Jack Cole and Lt. Elred Harp.

Mrs. George Trousdale To Show Film Today At The Country Club

Mrs. George Trousdale, representative of Camp Nagawicka for girls and Camp St. John for boys, in Delafield, Wis., will show a movie of camp life today at 4 p.m. at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

The two summer camps are sponsored by the St. John's Military Academy with Col. F. W. Mouso, superintendent.

Featured in the film will be several Monroe boys and girls who attend the camp each year and the group, as well as their friends, are invited to see this movie of the camp life. Archery, swimming, sailing, horseback riding, and canoeing are just a few of the many attractions at the two camps located in Delafield, Wis. These and many other activities will be featured in the film shown by Mrs. Trousdale.

Camp Nagawicka and Camp St. John will both open in June for the eight-week camping period. Mrs. Trousdale accompanies the group to Delafield each year.

Boys and girls from eight to eighteen who are interested in the summer camps, and their parents and friends, are invited to attend the showing of this movie to be held this afternoon at four o'clock.

Jennie And Neal Reynolds Entertain At Open House

'Synope' Is Setting For Christmas Event And Party Given By Jorenda Reynolds

Christmas at Synope, the O. N. Reynolds' beautiful plantation home, included a series of entertainments for Jennie, Neal, and Jorenda.

Jennie and Neal held open-house on Thursday, December twenty-seventh. Neal received his guests from five until seven and Jennie from eight until twelve. The tree of life is one of the decorative notes of Synope and was artistically developed in the Christmas theme with glittering plastic trees. Garlands of pastel-tinted pine cones with myriad tapers in silver candelabra were noted in the reception suite. In the country dining room, a great pine tree with ruby plumes accentuated the theme.

Punch was served in the formal and country dining rooms and coffee in the den with a delectable array of sweets and sandwiches. Those extending courtesies with Jennie and Neal were Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, Jorenda Reynolds, Mrs. James L. Martin, Mrs. Drew Hays and Miss Catherine Martin, of Ruston, Miss Joanne McDonald, Miss Terri Tidwell, Mr. Richard Ober, Miss Linda Hair, and Miss Joanne James, Miss Peggy Lytle, and Mr. Charlie Traylor, of Columbia. Guests included the high school and college circles of Monroe, West Monroe, and Columbia. More than two hundred guests called during the receiving hours.

MR. AND MRS. LEON DOLES ENTERTAIN AT BUFFET SUPPER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Doles on Bayou Bartholomew in Jones was the scene of a New Year's buffet supper which is especially in keeping with the gay informality that circulates at this season.

The reception rooms were artistically decorated with pine, holly, magnolia leaves, red berries, and silver bells, suggestive of the holiday season. On the mantel was an arrangement of magnolia leaves and pine cones centering burning green candles in red crystal candlesticks.

During the conversational hour cheese dip, salted nuts, and crab dip were served. Later the guests were invited into the dining room for supper. The centerpiece on the table, which was overlaid with a lace cloth, was an arrangement of magnolia leaves surrounding slender white candles accented with silver bells, ribbon streamers, and New Year's favors. Shrimp cocktail, ham, turkey, potato salad, lima beans, rye bread, pickles, olives, coffee and ambrosia cake were served to: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kunze, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Waldrip, of Bastrop; Mr. and Mrs. Elma Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McKoin, of Bonita; Lt. and Mrs. Tom Doles of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Fort Doles, the host and hostess of Jones.

The Home Shift By Mildred Swift

Now that the holidays are over it's time to settle down and take inventory of house and yard. There's so much to do!

Get Those Stains!

Mrs. Newsome (I forgot to get her initials and address) says white candles dripped on her most priceless linen table cloth, and how must she remove the wax. Rub a piece of ice on the wax. This hardens it and makes scraping with a dull table knife easy. However, if the candle is a colored one, here's the procedure: Place the stain between clean white blotters, cleansing tissue or paper towels. Press with a warm iron, changing the blotters as they become soiled. Next sponge with carbon tetrachloride or other grease solvent. If a color stain remains, sponge with liquid made up of one cup of denatured alcohol and two cups of water. Mary Flournoy says the only objection she has to our stain removal instructions is—she never has all the chemicals we call for. A call to the corner druggist can usually get those in a few minutes though.

Planting Time

The next time you're out riding go by the George Formans, 1102 North McGuire, Monroe. Notice the wild myrtles they have planted in the back yard. They transplanted these from the woods in West Monroe last January. These myrtles are bright and green after going through two winter's freeze and a summer drought. They make an excellent background planting.

Have you been by the Leo Terzia's home on Loop road? It's the pink house that looks like a luscious birthday cake. Totsie has really made a showing with her planting. Now is the time for planting and transplanting, for making new beds to fill in low spots in the lawn, to prune your evergreens and late summer and fall flowering shrubs. Add fertilizer to your beds this month, either well rotted barnyard manure or a complete fertilizer such as 4-12-4.

Bob and Jeanette Bailey believe in putting those plants out right. I gave them some shrubs this week and Bobby showed me how he was planting each one—spreading the roots carefully, working the soil around the roots and settling the plant with plenty of water. And—remember — any tree or shrub should be planted just the same depth it grew before transplanting.

We've had so many requests for bulletins on azaleas -- we have a mimeographed leaflet, now. Just call 3-2251 if you need one.

Tailoring Class

All who are interested in enrolling in a tailoring class, come to the agricultural building, Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. Don't call —just come—we'll work out dates and other details that day. This will be the only class given this year.

OPIUM SEIZED

Singapore—(AP)—Customs officials seized $16,700 worth of first-grade opium from a ship which arrived here from India. The opium was found buried under nearly five feet of coal in three tins. There were 40 packages weighing 83 pounds.

New Doll Hair Net Is Real Aid To Good Small Fry Grooming

By Alicia Hart

NEA Beauty Editor

Good grooming will be a delightful game for your little girl, if you teach her to practice on her favorite dolls. Just give her a small - size comb and brush, mirror and nail-care kit, and you'll be amazed at how quickly and efficiently she puts them to use.

A newly designed accessory for the miniature mother to include in her "children's" beauty ritual are dolly hair nets. Made of long lasting nylon with an elastic edge, these nets are easy to handle and always fit perfectly. They come in red-auburn, brown, blonde and black.

When your youngster uses the nets, she can dress and undress the dolls to her heart's content, without mussing a strand of hair. Then, too, she will have the added pleasure of keeping her dolls' hair set in whatever style she prefers.

Little girls will be especially pleased because the nets are "just like Mommy wears." It might be a good idea to take advantage of this mimicry by allowing the junior miss to sit in on your hair styling sessions. Then she can see first-hand just what's to be done.

It's never too soon to start the little lady in your home thinking about beauty. With careful training it will become a natural and accepted part of her life.

Little girls can really play grown-up with dolly hair nets made "just like the ones Mommy wears." It's a wonderful opportunity, too, for the youngsters to learn good grooming habits.

Missions To Be Theme Of Presbyterian Women Here

During the months of January and February special emphasis is given by women of the Presbyterian Church to the cause of World Missions. Much effort is being put forth this year to increase interest in missions and arrangements have been made to secure speakers that will bring first hand information of this work being done in other countries by the Presbyterian Church.

On Wednesday evening, January 9th at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. A. C. McKennon of Greenwood, Miss. will be the guest speaker. Mrs. McKinnon and her husband, Rev. McKinnon have recently retired after twenty-nine years of active service in the Belgium Congo.

Women of the church feel most fortunate in securing Mrs. McKinnon to tell of her work in Africa.

Mrs. Clay Albright Is Hostess To Reader's Clique

Miss Frances Flanders, Guest Speaker, Talks On 'Our Colonial Heritage'

Mrs. Clay Albright extended the hospitality of h home to members and guests of the Reader's Clique at their meeting on Thursday afternoon.

A short business was held with the president, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, presiding. Mrs. Sidney Gill gave a report on the plans for the annual Easter egg project. This activity gives members the opportunity to display their creative ability by taking egg shells and making unusual and clever characters.

Mrs. James Harbuck, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Frances Flanders. Miss Flanders gave a most informative talk on "Our Colonial Heritage." She said in part: "Through the long centuries, the movements have generally been slow, for the people have had to walk, often with heavy burdens, and there have been old people among them and children that grew tired and walked with stumbling steps. The movements of the people have generally been slow but persistent.

More than thirty - eight million people crossed the oceans to America in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. There were many more before that; no one knows exactly how many, for accurate records were not kept before 1820. That movement of people to America was the greatest migration of all times.

The nation that was to give its language and civilization to most of North America planted its first permanent settlement in Jamestown, Virginia in 1607 under a company of gentlemen and merchants, the Virginia Company. Under influence of the English Puritans a law was passed requiring that every township in Massachusetts of a certain size must set up a school for the people. From this source spread the great idea of American education for all.

The French and Spanish settled along the Eastern seaboard in the colonial period and although small, had an important effect upon our national life. The most important of the other national groups were: the Dutch who settled in the Hudson river valley; the Swedes who settled along the Delaware river, the French Hugenots who settled in New England and South Carolina and the Germans who settled in Pennsylvania, New York, and Georgia.

From all these people of many lands and many groups, we inherited certain basic beliefs that form the cornerstone of our government. They are: a belief in the dignity or the individual participation of the people in government or democracy; religious, liberty; importance of education; the dignity and value of hard work, and the right for free enterprise."

The following guests and members enjoyed a social hour and refreshments: Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. F. T. Wilson, Mrs. Clay Wilson, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Harrell Webster, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. J. James Harbuck, Mrs. Evans Ethridge, Mrs. Carroll Summers, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. James Schonlau, Mrs. Pete Coats, Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. Edwin Crowley and Mrs. Raymond John.

New Sunsuits Are Amphibious

By Gaile Dugas

NEA Woman's Editor

New York —(NEA)— The new sunsuits, developed in stark white or clear, fresh colors, can take to water, too. The reason that they're equally at home in sun or water is that they're developed in fabrics that take readily to a dip. Further these suits have complete linings.

The tailored sunsuit, with trimmer lines and less fuss, is cut in one piece for 1952. This gives a sleek look to the figure, is good for many types.

White gets the emphasis because, obviously, clear white provides a sparkling contrast for a deep tan. But the new colors are rich and bright, meant to be at home with the blue of sky and water. Shocking pink, mauve, maize, emerald and Cotillion blue all favor a tan, too.

Beach roaming suit (left) by Brilliant is emerald - and - white patterned pique with wing-cuffed bra. Pockets and little boy shorts are cuffed. Because of a built-in bra, this lined suit may be worn strapped or strapless.

Clear white waffle pique (right) makes sun-and-water suit with calla lily neckline tapered into straps that tie halter-style. Little boy shorts are cuffed, cut with deep pockets. This suit, too, has complete lining.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

How Cagey Declarer Fixed His Foes

By Oswald Jacoby

Today's hand, one of the neatest I have seen for some time, was played by Eddie Goldblum of New Orleans. He succeeded in making a difficult contract by forcing the opponents to take two winning cards on the same trick.

There was nothing timid about anybody's bidding, but the contract was reasonable enough. If the spades break normally, South loses one spade, one diamond, and one heart (if he guesses correctly).

	NORTH 5 ♠ 4 ♥ K J 8 5 ♦ A 10 9 7 4 2 ♣ 5 3
WEST (D) ♠ A 9 6 5 2 ♥ Q 7 6 2 ♦ 5 ♣ K 6 4		EAST ♠ None ♥ A 10 9 ♦ Q J 6 ♣ Q J 10 9 8 7 2
	SOUTH ♠ K Q J 10 8 7 3 ♥ 4 3 ♦ K 8 3 ♣ A

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	3 ♣	4 ♠
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♣ 4

the ace of clubs and returned the king of spades. East's discard of a club made it clear that West had two natural trump tricks. Now it looked as though South would lose two spades, a heart, and a diamond.

There was, of course, the chance that the diamonds would break 2-2, but there was no need to rely on this. Goldblum, whose king of spades had been allowed to hold, continued with the queen of spades, and West won with the ace.

West continued the clubs, and South ruffed with the three. Declarer had already seen the ace of spades and the king of clubs appear from the West hand, and he decided that West was unlikely to have the ace of hearts in view of his original pass. He therefore led a heart and finessed dummy's jack.

East won with the ace of hearts and led a third round of clubs, South ruffing with the seven of spades. Declarer next took the jack and ten of spades followed by the king of diamonds. When he then led a low diamond toward dummy, West was "fixed."

If West ruffed, dummy would play a low diamond — and West would get only South's losing diamond for his high trump. West actually discarded a heart. Thereupon declarer took the ace of diamonds and the king of hearts, followed by a heart ruff with his last trump. This was his tenth trick, and the opponents won the last trick doubly with a high trump and a high diamond!

Q—The bidding has been: West, North, East, South, 1 Heart, Double, Pass, ?.

You, South, hold: Spades 9-7-6-3, Hearts 8-4, Diamonds Q-3, Clubs K-Q-6-3-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. The clubs are stronger as well as longer than the spades, so you respond in your best suit. If your partner can bid spades, you will raise. Conceivably, you may even bid the spades yourself if your partner makes an encouraging rebid.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 7-6-3, Hearts K-J-5, Diamonds Q-8-3, Clubs Q-J-6-2. What do you do?

COCONUT TREE TOPPLERS

Penang, Malaya —(AP)— A Malay woman and her four children narrowly escaped death in a village near here recently when a coconut tree, its roots undermined by heavy rains, toppled over and crashed into their kitchen. They were sleeping but a few feet away.

The Indian tepee was covered with buffalo hides, sewn together and stretched over a framework of poles angling in from the circumference and tied together near the top to form a cone.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Mystery writer Brett Halliday believes American women lead the world in crime because of modern weapons and means of transportation. Their crime rate is appalling—76,583 women criminals in 1950, against 717,088 men. More alarming is the wide range of crimes. The FBI reports one out of 85 Americans has a criminal record! Better look over yours!

Answer To Question No. 2

2. If you did, you'd soon be a social outcast. Follow the plan of the four - year - old girl who, when kissed by an auntie whom she disliked, vigorously rubbed her cheek. Auntie said, "Why Mary, you don't seem to like me to kiss you; you're trying to rub it off." The tot, although trembling with rage, said sweetly: "I was trying to rub it in so the wind wouldn't blow it away." Our booklet, "How To Be Popular," sent at cost 15 cents (coin only), plus self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes, it's the best kind, because it is a living example. Joe's clean life and sportsmanship are good examples for boys, girls and adults, too. My college president said, "Every one can have a great heart." Incidentally, Joe's teacher advised him "to do something with his hands." He did — as many a fighter can testify.

LA. BAR ASSNS. PLAN SESSION

All Day Conference In Alexandria Set For January 11

The first Louisiana Conference of Local Bar Associations, sponsored by the Louisiana State Bar Association, will be held in Alexandria, on Friday, January 11, and Saturday January 12, 1952, in the Bentley Hotel, under the auspices of the public relations committee and the section of local bar organizations; Richard C. Cadwallader, chairman, Baton Rouge, and Bascom D. Talley, Jr., chairman, Bogalusa, respectively.

There will be an all-day session on the 11th; a luncheon session that day; and an evening session. The conference will conclude with a forenoon session on the 12th.

Glenn R. Winters, of Ann Arbor, Mich., secretary, American Judicature Society, will speak during the afternoon of January 11, on "Local Bar Association Activities".

Richard P. Tinkham, Hammond, Ind., member of the public relations committee; member of the house of delegates; and president of the conference of bar association president of the American Bar Association, will speak during the forenoon of January 12, on "Public Relations".

There will be addresses by prominent and well versed members of the Louisiana Bar on fees, minimum and otherwise; lawyer reference plan; legal aid; ethics and grievances; and unauthorized practice of the law. Discussion will be invited.

The Alexandria Bar Association, Lamar Polk, president, and John L. Pitts, Jr., local chairman, and the other members of his committee in charge of the arrangements, are cooperating in the holding of this conference, and are very much interested in making this, the first conference of its kind sponsored by the Louisiana State Bar Association, a very marked success.

The present officers of the various local bar associations in the state and their predecessors, as well as the other members of the bench and bar who have no opportunity to attend, are most cordially invited.

Walter J. Suthon, Jr., president of the Louisiana State Bar Association; the committee on public relations, headed by Mr. Cadwallader, its chairman; and Mr. Talley, chairman of the section of local bar organizations, all of whom are taking a very active part in the preparations of the program, expect the conference to be a success. They know, of course, that this can only be made possible by the attendance of those interested.

CARE URGED IN RABBIT HANDLING

Fever May Be Given To Persons Who Are Lacking In Caution

Hunters, trappers and housewives should remember that wild rabbits must be handled with the greatest of care, says Dr. S. J. Phillips, state health officer for Louisiana.

The state health officer points out that this is highly important because rabbits may be infected with tularemia, or rabbit fever, a disease which can be transmitted easily to human beings.

"Of course all rabbits running wild in Louisiana are not infected with tularemia," says Dr. Phillips. "But still, all rabbits should be handled with due caution at every stage between the woods and the dining table."

He adds that "It is wise to assume that any rabbit caught is capable of transmitting the disease and therefore every precaution should be taken to avoid possible illness. The cases of tularemia reported to the state health department each year indicate that a considerable number of rabbits may be diseased."

Among the precautions which should be taken in handling wild rabbits, Dr. Phillips emphasizes, first, that the hunter should take only frisky rabbits that dash away when he approaches. A rabbit without energy to run for his life is probably sick.

Gloves — preferably rubber ones —should be worn whenever the animal is being touched, especially if there is a small cut or scratch on the hands. After handling the fur or raw meat, the hunter or housewife should avoid touching the face, mouth or eyes.

"These safeguards will enable those who like to hunt and those who like wild rabbit dinners to enjoy the season's pleasures safe from the threat of tularemia," concludes the state health officer. "Although these precautions may seem troublesome they are actually a small price to pay for freedom from a potentially dangerous disease."

SHREVEPORT TO SEE 'OKLAHOMA'

Sensational Theater Guild Musical Play Will Be Presented

"Oklahoma", the sensationally successful Theatre Guild musical play will be presented for two performances on the stage of the Municipal Auditorium in Shreveport Wednesday and Thursday, January 9th and 10th at 8:15.

Now in its ninth consecutive season of touring, the Theatre Guild' national company has broken every possible mark for a stage play in every city it has visited. The company that will appear in Shreveport is the same company that performed at the request of the State Department at the Berlin Arts festival. They returned to the United States in September of this year and then embarked on another cross country tour covering the major cities and appearing before sellout audiences.

The cast includes Ridge Bond as "Curley," Patricia Johnson as "Laurey", Jacqueline Sundt as Ado Annie," Walter Donahue as "Will Parker", Jerry Mann as "Ali Hakim", Henry Clarke as "Jud", Mary Marlo as "Aunt Eller", Dave Mallen as the Sheriff and Owen Martin as the Federal Marshall.

Four of these stars have taken part in over 300 performances of this musical masterpiece. Martin is the super-veteran of the quartet, having been in the first performance of "Oklahoma" when it opened at New Haven on March 14, 1943, and has been at it ever since. His total to date is 3,434 performances which includes 2,246 performances when the production set the world's record for a consecutive run of a musical in New York, at the St. James Theatre.

The other three, Mary Marlo, Dave Mallon and Robert Early have to their credit just short of 3,200 shows. They were "originals" in the National Company of "Oklahoma" which opened seven months after the Broadway premiere and has gone on steadily ever since to smash all existing records.

There is always a delightful surprise for those who see and hear a performance of "Oklahoma" for the first time, no matter how well they think they know the music. Of course, no melodies have been played more frequently during the last nine years over the air or by night club orchestras. But the joyous beauty and sparkling gaiety of the score can come only when it is revealed with the benefit of full orchestral accompaniment, the colorful costumes and appropriate action by the company.

The fact that there will be two performances, one on January 9th and the other on January 10th at the Municipal Auditorium in Shreveport is an assurance that good seats will be available for both performances. Mail orders may be mailed to Abie C. Goldberg, Municipal Auditorium, Shreveport. Tickets are on sale at the Auditorium and at Selber Bros. in Shreveport.

Negro Masons Call District Meeting

Negro Masons of the fifteenth district will meet Monday at St. Joseph Baptist Church in West Monroe, according to Reuben Myles, special district deputy. The meeting will convene at 9 a.m.

Myles called on "all Masons of the district to be present when the problems of the various lodges will be discussed and ways and means of supporting the Bayou Boys State movement will be studied."

Myles listed the following lodges that comprise the fifteenth district: Alpha, No. 9; Composite No. 126; Trinity No. 175; Common Level No. 163; Caldonia No. 58; Pride of Ouachita No. 91; Trenton No. 195; Clay No. 186; P. M. Davis No. 207; Ruston Star No. 73; Columbia No. 213; Star of Benjamin No. 110; Perfect Ashler No. 112; Farmerville No. 203; Pride of Lillie No. 208, and Center Line No. 205.

The northern part of Mexico's lower California has enjoyed a decade of such phenomenal population growth that it is now seeking promotion to Mexican statehood.

DOROTHY DIX

Privileged Boy Wants A More Normal Life

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a high-school boy of 14, and all I want is to be a normal teen-ager. My parents, who married late in life, do not understand this. They insist on driving me to school in a car, supervise every phase of my schoolwork, even complaining loudly if they feel I am not treated fairly by my teachers. They are interested in my activities, but I can't confide in them. Mother, on several occasions, has repeated to her friends things I have told her in confidence. They want to travel around on week ends, when I'd like nothing better than to stay home. It isn't that I don't appreciate the advantages of having a nice home and good background, but all I want is to lead the same kind of life my schoolmates do without starting a family quarrel. JERRY S.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: You are not alone in your plight, Jerry; it's shared by many other boys also the sole sons of parents who married later in life. Older parents, it is true, can usually give their offspring more financial benefits than can the struggling young couple, but the advantage is frequently offset by their total lack of understanding of the problems of youth.

THEY LACK PERSPECTIVE

Naturally, the further away we get from our own youth, the more difficult it is to get a perspective on the problems of the new generation. If a couple reaches the age where they would normally be grandparents before they became parents, obviously they are in for a difficult adjustment. Their child becomes a treasured toy upon whom every luxury must be lavished. Paradoxically, this pampering is often accompanied by an exercise of discipline designed to push the youngster more quickly into an acceptance of adult standards. Naturally the result is utter confusion on the part of the child, who only wants, as does Jerry, a normal existence.

Changing your parents' attitude towards you is not a fight to be waged single-handed. Can you enlist the aid of a teacher, or adult friend who could exert a little influence with your family? A straightforward talk on the desirability of less supervision might help. It will not effect a great change, however; your parents are too set in their own habits by now. Just realize that you have many advantages, and let these benefits offset in great measure the liabilities of your position.

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think it's wrong for my boy friend to come over when I have a job baby-sitting? He is very nice and the people for whom I work don't object. However, my grandmother does not approve. C. F.

ANSWER: When you have a job, you also have responsibility, and you will not adequately fulfill your obligations if you turn the evening into a social affair. Your employers are very kind to permit your boy friend to spend the evening with you, but it is not the proper or right thing to do. Heed your grandmother's advice; have your social occasions on evenings not taken up with baby-sitting.

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you tell me if a real father can be kept from taking a child if it hasn't been adopted? Do I have any legal rights to keep a child who has lived with me quite some time? R. L.

ANSWER: Many, many court battles have been fought over cases like this, and the outcome can only be determined after legal consideration of both sides. Better see a lawyer as to just what your rights are, and how they can be protected.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Play Safe With 'Headache Hand'

"What is my correct plan of discarding with a real headache hand?" asks a Montreal reader. "Both sides needed 120 points, and I was dealt the following choice assortment:

K-J-9-8-7-6 5-5-5 4-2.

"The up-card was a jack and it was my first play. I drew a black three from the stock. What should I do besides swallow an aspirin?"

The hand is pretty hopeless, and all you can do is trust that your partner holds something better. Your object is to discard safely in the hope that your partner can win the pile: you also aim to keep some cards that may match your partner's hand in case he decides to meld quickly and play for a fast out.

To be specific, your first discard should be the jack. This gives very little information to the player at your right and it is the safest possible high discard. At your next turn, you might try out a five. If this gets by, you will probably be able to throw all of the fives quite safely.

While all of this is going on, pay careful attention to the discards of your left - hand opponent with a view to choosing safe discards later on. Watch your partner's discards also, because you may have to match his discards in the hope of keeping some cards in your hand that will help him when he finally melds.

The black three should be saved for a rainy day. You may very well run out of obviously safe discards, and the black three will be a life saver at that time.

Q—We were playing a five-hand game, and I was on the sidelines watching my two partners play against their two opponents. One of the opponents made an insufficient meld. My partners didn't notice it, and they played right along. The other opponent did notice the error but failed to call attention to it. Should she have spoken up? Did I have the right to speak up in this situation?

A—It isn't necessary to call attention to your own or to your partner's insufficient meld. Mind you, it would be terribly unethical to make an insufficient meld deliberately. But if you accidentally make the mistake, there's no need to wake the opponents up about it. It's up to them to keep their eyes open for mistakes. The inactive player has no right to say a word in this situation. He is just a spectator for that hand.

Clever play wins more Canasta points. Get your copy of Jacoby's helpful rules booklet by sending 15 cents with your name and address to Oswald Jacoby, Box 438, Times Sq. Sta., New York 18, N. Y.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Gordon MacRae and Doris Day are teamed in "Starlift," Warner Bros.' new all-star musical, due Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre. Virginia Mayo, Gene Nelson and Ruth Roman also star.

Doris Day, Gordon MacRae Top Star Cast In 'Starlift,' New Musical

Big-time entertainment at bargain prices comes to the screen with Warner Bros.' all-star extravaganza, "Starlift," which begins its local engagement at the Paramount on Wednesday. For, in addition to its own cast, the film boasts the appearance of ten other top Hollywood celebrities.

Doris, Day, Gordon MacRae, Virginia Mayo, Gene Nelson and Ruth Roman play the film's lead roles, while the guests include James Cagney, Gary Cooper, Virginia Gibson, Phil Harris, Frank Lovejoy, Lucille Norman, Louella Parsons, Randolph Scott, Jane Wyman and Patrice Wymore.

One of the most important star-filled presentations since "Hollywood Canteen" and "Thank Your Lucky Stars," "Starlift" is packed with singing and dancing numbers and is the story of the part played by show business personalities in the entertainment of our troops at Travis Air Force Base in California. The plot concerns a young air force corporal who falls in love with a movie star, and the host of her thespian friends who join in to play Cupid.

STRAW BALLOTS FAVOR KENNON

Supporters Here Optimistic Of Gubernatorial Victory

Three straw votes, conducted by the Tangi Talk of Amite, La., spurred the optimism of supporters of Judge Robert F. Kennon, one of nine candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination January 15.

The straw vote, conducted in three Tangipahoa parish towns, including Amite, the parish seat, gave Kennon an overwhelming majority. Kennon supporters here said the Tangi Talk had not announced an endorsement for any candidate.

"Straw votes conducted by the newspaper were strictly of a non-partisan nature and a true indication of Judge Kennon's popularity in that section of the state," according to Lorenzo Smith, manager of Kennon's Ouachita parish headquarters.

Smith said reports indicated that Kennon's stand "is just as strong in most sections of the state."

The results of the straw vote polls was listed as follows in the three Tangipahoa parish towns:

In Independence: Two to one over Dodd, three to one over Spaht and Boggs and nine to one over Lucille May Grace. LeBlanc and McLemore didn't poll a single vote," Smith said. "Judge Kennon actually received 47 ½ per cent of all votes cast in the straw count," Smith said.

In Amite: Dodd received 39 votes, Kennon 94, Spaht 29, LeBlanc 3, Boggs 9 and McLemore 3. According to those figures. Kennon polled a majority of all votes cast by one.

Natalbany: Kennon led Lucille May Grace by three to one, Boggs 16 to one and no votes were cast for Dodd, LeBlanc, Spaht nor McLemore.

"If these results are any indication, and I believe they are, Judge Kennon will come out far ahead in the first primary," Smith said. "However, we are going to continue a vigorous campaign to make sure," the parish campaign manager said.

Smith said Kennon forces were consolidated in New Orleans and "a heavy vote from other city areas" is expected. He pointed out that New Orleans Safety Commissioner Bernard J. McClosky issued his endorsement for Kennon last week.

In his endorsement, McClosky said "I am remaining steadfast in my support of the cause of good government and of candidates for public office who consistantly champion this cause." He said supporters of good government are "rallying around Kennon because they know he is a candidate who has never wavered in his fight for home rule. Civil service and a constructive program dedicated to public welfare."

McClosky also credited Kennon with "leading the fight to defeat the powergrab." He said Kennon also helped make it possible for New Orleans To obtain a home-rule charter.

DIFFERENT PANKEY

In the city court record published recently in the Monroe News-Star J. W. Pankey, 68, Winnsboro, was sentenced for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The Pankey sentenced was not J. W. Pankey, 37, Box 646, Winnsboro. There is no relation between the two men.

Bob Thomas IN MOVIELAND

Hollywood, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Academy Awards are still two months off, but already people are complaining.

A chronic complainer is Ronald Reagan, who this week offered an other method of voting on the Oscars for actors. Since he is prexy of the Screen Actors Guild, his comments might carry some weight. Here are his views:

"I think it is a mistake to let all the Academy members vote on the acting awards. I believe that only the actors should be allowed to vote, as in the other crafts. My reason is that non-actors, even those who are associated with the picture business, are easily taken in by flashy performances.

"I feel that was evidenced by last year's selections. Jose Ferrer got the Oscar for 'Cyrano De Bergerac.' I'm not saying this because Bill Holden is a friend of mine, but I feel his role in 'Sunset Boulevard' was a far more difficult job.

"Any actor knows that it is easy to do a flamboyant acting job when you have such props as a long nose, a cape, a plumed hat and a sword. But Bill Holden did a fine job with only a crew haircut and an ordinary suit. That takes real craftsmanship.

"If only the actors voted for Oscars, they could determine just which are the best acting jobs, and such inequties would be eliminated." . . .

The pressure of theater owners is being felt by some movie stars who have ventured into television. The theater men are particularly irked by the strong programming on TV on Sunday afternoons and nights, which have traditionally been good business hours for movie houses.

Theater protests are part of the reason Bob Hope gave up his Sunday TV show. When he resumed in the medium, it will probably be on another night of the week. . . .

Jerry Lewis was elated when informed that he and Dean Martin place No. 2 on the list of moneymakers. When I told him the news on the "Jumping Jacks" set, he kissed the bald head of Director Norman Taurog.

It was bad enough directing you guys when you were No. 10," sighed Taurog. "Now that you're No. 2, you'll be impossible." . . .

Hollywood provided steller audiences for the Sadler's Wells Theater ballet during the engagement here. In one audience I spotted such diverse personalities as Charlie Chaplin and James Cagney. The English troupe was roundly acclaimed. . . .

Walt Disney offered a stellar attraction for the offspring of the Hollywood correspondents over the holidays. He showed "Snow White," which will be brought back for national release this spring, the first time it had been shown since 1944. The Disney classic is as delightful as ever and may well be the rest of his feature films.

His new releases are a nature study of the elk on the Olympic peninsula in Washington and a cartoon called "Lambert the Lion." Both are sheer delights.

Negro Voters' League Schedules Two Meetings

Two meetings of the Negro Citizens' Voters' League are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday nights, respectively, it was announced Saturday by chairman S. L. Pierce.

The Ouachita Parish Citizens' Voters' League will hold their parish-wide meeting Tuesday night, at 7:P.M., in the Labor Union Hall located at Pierce's Pharmacy.

This meeting was said to be of great importance, and all parish voters, including all ward leaders, precint officers, captains, and other workers have been urged to attend.

The second meeting, which is being held for voters of ward 10 and Booker T. Washington addition, will convene Monday night at 7:30 p.m., in the Zion Spring Baptist church on Powell St.

All voting residents of Booker T. Washington addition and vicinity are requested to attend.

Charge Of Driving While Drunk Filed

Monroe police officers arrested Charles Kavanaugh, 33, 203 Renwick street, early Saturday for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was placed under $300 bond.

Mrs. Virginia Reading 903 North Third, reported to officers that a diamond ring and fraternity pen, valued at $250, had been stolen from her home during the holidays.

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road

F. L. Hearne, pastor.

J. O. Fleming, church school supt.

Roman soldiers were required as far as possible to return to Rome once a year and there renew their pledge of allegiance to their emperor and supreme commander. So Christians come very often to the table of their Lord renewing their vows of loyalty and obedience to him. To what do we pledge ourselves? In the familiar words of the invitation to the communion, "to lead a new life, following the commandments of God and walking from henceforth in his holy ways."

Why not start the new year by attending your church at each and all services?

Services at our church are:

Sunday: Church school, 9:45 a.m.

Morning worship, 10:50 a.m.

Youth fellowship, 5:30 p.m.

Children's Hour, 6:15 p.m.

Evening worship, 7:00 p.m.

Monday: Woman's Society of Christian Service, 2:00 p.m.

Tuesday: Wesleyan Service Guild 7:00 p.m.

Wednesday: Mid-week service at 7:00 p.m.

"You are always welcome at Claiborne."

The Feast of the Epiphany

The importance of Christmas frequently overshadows the Feast of the Epiphany to such an extent that many people fail to realize that the Epiphany is of equal importance. If you will look in your Prayer Books you will note that the title of this day is actually "The Manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles", which is the meaning of "Epiphany"—"to show forth". Considered thusly, it is easy for us to realize its importance, for after all we are Gentiles, and it is this feast that proves our Lord's salvation is for all mankind — not for a chosen race exclusively. All church people should receive Holy Communion on this feast, or at least some time during the Octave.

COLLEGE PLACE IN ANNIVERSARY

Sunday Marks Seven Years Of Ministry By Pastor; Growth Rapid

Sunday, January 6, marks the seventh anniversary of Rev. C. S. Cadwallader's ministry with the College Place Baptist Church.

Rev. Cadwallader, came from the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Forth Worth, Tex., as a young graduate minister to serve as pastor of the College Place Baptist Church. During this period of service with the church there has been a remarkable growth in the spiritual, moral and financial phases of the church. The church was newly organized with one-hundred-twenty-five adult charter members. The church now have an enrollment of approximately nine hundred in membership. Under the leadership of Rev. Cadwallader a building program was undertaken for which is hoped to be completed in the near future. The church property and buildings are estimated at $179,493.49. The budget of this church has grown in the seven years from 6,000 to $39,000, which was over-subscribed to $43,-318.

In addition to the duties of pastor to his church he serves as general chairman of the Ouachita Parish Unit of the Louisiana Moral and Civic Foundation, Inc. as pastor-advisor of the Baptist Student Union Northeast State College in Monroe, also as chairman of the steering committee for the building of a student center on the lot recently purchased. He is the Sunday school superintendent of the Ouachita Parish Baptist Association.

Rev. Cadwallader, received his A. B. degree from Baylor University at Waco, Tex., his Th. M. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Forth Worth, Tex., and his Graduate Masters from the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary at New Orleans, La. He was married to Dorothy Bell, a missionary's daughter, in 1943 and has four children, three boys and one daughter.

He is an outstanding preacher, fully dedicated to God's service. He is affectionately called by those who know him "Brother Cad." The prayer of his many friends is that God will continue to use him for many, many years to come for preaching of the gospel to all mankind.

Our Children

POWER OF THOUGHT

A thought has power to energize and direct a human body so that it can do what looks impossible at the moment. A little three-year-old boy was in the room alone with his baby sister, who was asleep in her crib, when the stove burst into flame. He managed to get the baby out of her crib, out into the hall and shut the door behind him. Then he called for help. How the little chap managed to get his charge out of that crib and across the room into the hall can only be explained by the power of his thought. "I can. I must. I will" — and he did.

We do not stress this power sufficiently in our teaching of children. Few of them ever hear that they have within them, in their minds, sufficient power to meet every need if they will but call on it. The child who, faced with a difficulty draws back and says, "Oh, I can't," is ignorant of the fact that he can. That he has all the power he requires waiting at his call.

I am talking now about the influence a thought has on the action of a human being. When a child aims for a mark as when he plays tennis, thinking "it'll go wild," wild it will go. His muscles and nerves obeyed his thought. When he looks to where he is going to place the ball, thinking, "Right over there," and whams it with assurance, "I can and I will," the ball strikes the spot on the nose. Try it and see.

We do not teach children about the quality of their thoughts, how necessary it is for their health and their happiness to think strong, clean thought, to keep free of harsh judgements of others, of envy, covetousness, jealousy, strong dislikes of people. Such thoughts act like poison on the body, slowing down its action, dulling the mind, taking the light out of the eyes and the smile off the face and the personality. A dark thought is the shadow of evil and works more damage to its creator than to anybody else. Children should be taught that bit of truth.

I would teach children to shun any thought that reflects evil, ugliness of any kind because it will injure them. That is a selfish reason? Of course it is, but is not caring for oneself a duty? First remove the mote from thine own eye, then you can see clearly to help your neighbor.

Good, clean, healthy kindly thoughts are the essential forces in the building of a sound, successful personality. Teach that to children and put it into practice faithfully, remembering that every act is fathered by a thought.

Often the kind of food children eat causes them to be ill-tempered. Dr. Patri's booklet No. 303, "Eating," tells how eating habits affect a child's health and also tells him to guide him to the proper foods. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

LEGION POST TO MEET MONDAY

First Session Of New Year Planned; All Members Urged To Attend

The first regular meeting of the New Year for L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion, will be held Monday, January 7, at 8:00 p.m. at the post home on Forsythe avenue.

Members of the post are reminded that the 1952 department convention will be held in Monroe in July with L. B. Faulk Post as host. A portion of Monday's meeting will be devoted to discussion of preliminary plans for the convention with members being requested to indicate their preference of committees with which they would like to work.

A membership report will be rendered at Monday's meeting, and the names of deliquent members will be announced. Plans will be made for winding up the membership drive.

All members, particularly those who have not been initiated, are urged to attend this important meeting.

AXIS SHIPS SALVAGED

Goa, Portuguese India—(AP)—Two sunken merchant vessels of the wartime Axis powers have been salvaged by a Goa firm.

The German S. S. Drachenfels and Italian Anfora have been brought to the surface recently. Both ships were scuttled by their crews in a spectacular episode at the time of Goa's carnival clebrations in February, 1946.

The ships took refuge in the neutral waters of Marmagoa harbor early in World War II. Crews of the vessels set off noisy explosions in the 1946 scuttling. Police captured the crews and Portugal ultimately repatriated the men.

New York, —(AP)— It is a thing of terror and strange beauty to see a great city abandoned in wartime.

It was that way a year ago this week in Seoul, when the Allies yielded the Korean capital to padded Chinese soldiers who came across the hills like waves of walking quilts.

The fear of their coming spread invisibly before them. Hundreds of thousands of Seoul civilians had been leaving for days, marching south in straggling columns of death and hunger.

But the military decision to evacuate came suddenly. One morning the correspondents watched a British battalion make a calm and studied counterattack against the enemy 18 miles north of the city. But when we returned late that afternoon the press camp was breaking up and the order went out:

It gave us an eerie feeling as we stood at the entrance of the empty hotel Chosun, one of the largest hostelries in Korea, and watched flames licking at the newspaper plant across the street.

Fires began to break out all over the city and a smoke pall quickened the twilight. Night fell. The pavements echoed with the roar of tanks and guns being wheeled out of the city. It seemed impossible that mere masses of enemy riflemen on foot could force all that vast weight of metal armor backward—but they were.

The fires mushroomed into acres of singing flame. Outlined against them were the pitiful lines of refugees. Many too weak to continue collapsed and lay unheeded.

We bucked the endless traffic back up to front. It wasn't so far now. A colonel said:

"We're pulling out ourselves in half an hour. You'd better leave."

The hills and paddies held a dark menace. Everything was lonely and unreal, and the unfought fires threw frightening shadows. An orphan boy wailed, all alone and forgotten, on the city hall steps. We picked him up and drove back to the hotel and rifled some blankets to keep him warm.

At the last command post in the city some soldiers were eating a Christmas fruitcake that had just arrived. They shared it with us.

"It's a funny thing," said a young captain, "but I courted my wife in this very room. I was stationed here before the war, and my wife worked for an American civilian agency that quartered its women employes in this building.

"I used to meet her here to go out on dates. It seems odd to be back here. I wonder what she's thinking right now."

And ever since then I've wondered whether the captain ever got to tell her about his last night in Seoul.

We bedded down until morning. We toured Seoul for the last time. The rattle of small arms could be heard on the outskirts.

By noon the last Allied unit had trundled out of the smoking city and across the two bridges spanning the Han river. About 2 p.m. U. S. army engineers blew the final bridge, and one said:

"Well, that's the last we'll ever see of Seoul."

That was the general feeling among the Allied army then. Many officers and men then thought we would have to give up Korea entirely and withdraw to Japan. And there was bitterness in their going, for while they had known little joy in that weary peninsula they had no wish to be pushed from it.

But they formed a new line and held it. Today we hold Seoul again, too. And if a real peace there still seems far away, well—the situation is much better than it was on that night of loneliness and defeat a year ago.

The glass-blowing industry has been in existence for about 6,000 years.

THE FEAST OF THE EPIPHANY

The importance of Christmas frequently overshadows the Feast of the Epiphany to such an extent that many people fail to realize that the Epiphany is of equal importance. If you will look in your Prayer Books you will note that the title of this day is actually "The Manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles", which is the meaning of "Epiphany"—"to show forth". Considered thusly, it is easy for us to realize its importance, for after all we are Gentiles, and it is this Feast that proves our Lord's salvation is for all mankind—not for a chosen race exclusively. All Church people should receive Holy Communion on this Feast, or at least some time during the Octave.

Have Faith In God

Finding What We Look For

We can always find in life what we look for. And what we find is often a reflection of what we are.

A person who looks for trouble is always able to find it in abundance. Those who look for truth and beauty somehow seem always to come upon it.

One of the remarkable qualities of Jesus was that insight which enabled Him to see men not only as they were, but also as they might become. He saw Matthew, the loyal disciple, writer of a Gospel story that would never die. And, He said, "Matthew, follow me". And Matthew left all and followed him.

The world about us is filled with evil and wrong. Much that is discouraging. Much that is cruel. Much that is unkind. God needs men and women through whom He may work to help make right the wrong things of earth. He has given us His Church through which we may work effectively.

Go to Church Sunday and enlist your services in this greatest cause on earth. The Church needs you even as you need the Church.

PUBLIC FORUM

Jan. 4, 1952.

To the Editor:

A few days ago I dropped into the Ouachita Parish Public Library on Jackson street and inquired of the lady at the librarians desk if she had any books on sex-education.

The effect was about the same as if I had asked if she had any books on leprosy and had had the appearance of having leprosy myself. The manner of the librarian underwent a change that was painful. Instead of being friendly, as she had been at first, she was suddenly shocked and suspicious.

When she pointed out the books, it was seen that there were quite a number of them—all concealed at the librarian's feet. Before the prospective patron could get a peek at any of the titles, the librarian had to move out of the way and the patron had to get down on the floor, as the books were on the floor shelf.

These books ranged all the way from those on sex-education for the small child to those on marriage relations and Dr. Kinsey's "Sex Habits of the Human Male."

When asked why the books were kept in a concealed and difficult-to-reach place, the librarian replied, "To keep the children from reading them. Sometimes grown people come in and ask for them and we let them have them."

Asked if anything relating to sex enlightenment was considered harmful to children, she replied, "I don't know; I just follow the library rules." She also replied, "I don't know," when asked if it was customary for libraries to hide sex-education books.

Anyone, unless possibly it might be a housewifely matron, would have to be driven by more than ordinary curiosity before he would have the courage to run this gauntlet of secrecy and if he did run it he probably would feel like using an assumed name.

Is sex - education still such a taboo subject that anything in any way referring to sex is kept under personal guard in public libraries?

A Reader.

PROGRESSIVE RETIREMENT

New York —(AP)— Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith proposed at an old-age conference here that a retirement plan be worked out so that a man would work four days a week at 55, three days at 60, two at 65, and one after 70.

Weight is a measure of the attraction which the earth's gravitation exerts on an object.

Three Wells Brought In; List Three New Locations

Three oil wells were brought in this past week, with two of these being in the Fairview field of Concordia parish, while one other well was plugged and abandoned and three new locations listed in a weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe district. The list is compiled by Duncan S. Cook, head of the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

The two wells completed in Concordia parish were: The Carter Oil Co. - Darter State No. 1, completed on Dec. 28 at 7,235 feet and gauged at 203 bbls. daily, with a gravity of 44.3 and the Sinclair Oil & Gas Co.-R. B. Sharp No. 5, completed Dec. 23 at 6,999 feet with a gauge of 193 bbls. daily and a gravity of 44.9. Its location was in Section 10, Township 4, Range 9E of Concordia parish.

A single other producer was the H. A. Danner Co.-J. H. Whatley Heirs No. 1, brought in Dec. 15 at 3,519 feet. It was gauged at 50 bbls. daily. Location given was Section 36, Township 8, Range 2E.

Only one well which was plugged and abandoned was the Vernon-Whitley Drlg. Co.-W. A. Ober No. 1 located in Sec. 16, Township 23, Range 8E. It was abandoned on January 2.

New locations listed were:

HIGHER PEPPER SALES

Bombay, India—(AP)—Indian black pepper exporters hope for increasing sales to Soviet Russia, once an insignificant buyer of the spice.

Russia bought 1,000 tons of Indian output in th 11 months ending October 1951, Bombay exporters declared. The United States bought 9,000 tons, followed closely by the United Kingdom with 2,000 tons.

Russia is buying the pepper with rupees gained in the sale of 100,000 tons of food-grains to India during the spring food crisis. Soviet purchases have eased a recent crisis in the Indian pepper industry, which has felt the pinch of competition from Indonesia and other countries.

COMMERCIAL SOLVENTS

Review of 1951

The following are highlights of CSC's activities in the year just ended. 1951 was a year of continuing growth and diversification. New products were introduced and new markets were developed. Production facilities were enlarged and sales forces were expanded. Sales of Commercial Solvents' six product divisions reached an all-time high.

Plant Expansions

The new nitrogen solutions plant at Sterlington, La., started in 1950, was completed and placed in operation.

Antibiotic production was increased 3 to 4 times and unit production costs were sharply reduced with the completion of another antibiotic plant in Terre Haute, Ind.

A $20 million expansion program at Sterlington was begun to double ammonia and methanol production facilities and provide a unit to make ammonium nitrate. Engineering and construction are already under way.

New Products

Compenamine, an entirely new type of penicillin, was introduced. The importance of this product lies in its virtual elimination of allergic reactions.

Expandex, CSC's trade name for its dextran product, was manufactured in pilot-plant quantities and supplied for Government stockpile.

Baciferm, a bacitracin antibiotic feed supplement which is effective in stimulating growth, reducing mortality, and improving the market quality of poultry and swine, was supplied to the feed trade.

Dilan, a new synthetic insecticide, was placed on the market. Of particular value in controlling the Mexican bean beetle, it has a wide range of usefulness.

Organization Changes

In line with the broadening scope of the company's activities, the research, production, and sales organizations were enlarged and streamlined.

New groups established include Veterinary Medical Services, Nutritional Research, Chemical Market Development, Production Development and Quality Control, and three new geographical production divisions.

Financing

In September, arrangements were completed to borrow privately $25,000,000 on 3¾% notes maturing September 1, 1972. These funds are being obtained to finance the expansion program of Commercial Solvents.
